Nicaragua Canal.—Maritime Canal Co.—Abstract of Commission's Report.—The State Department last week made public an official abstract of the report of the Nicaraguan Canal Commission. The synopsis says in substance:

The Commission understood that it was required to examine the entire region of canal possibilities with sufficient thoroughness to enable a just and comprehensive comparison of the various routes to be made, and the most desirable one selected.

After mature deliberation the Commission has adopted and estimated for the route from Brito to Lake Nicaragua, called the Childs route, and from the Lake to Greytown, called the Lull route. This line, leaving Brito, follows the left bank of the Rio Grande to near Buena Retiro, crosses the western divide to the valley of the Lajas, which it follows to Lake Nicaragua. Crossing the Lake to the head of the San Juan River, it follows the upper river to near Boca, San Carlos, thence, in excavation, by the left bank of the river to San Juanillo and across the low country to Greytown, passing to the northward of Lake Gilico. It requires but a single dam, with regulating works at both ends of the summit level. The surveys have in general revealed better physical conditions than were hitherto supposed to exist, especially as to the amount of rock in the upper river, whereby it is possible to greatly reduce the estimated cost of construction. To determine the proper unit prices for excavation, the average of prices actually paid to contractors in the Chicago drainage canal, which represent cost of plant, prices paid for work done, and contractors' profits, were taken. To these prices certain percentages were added for the difference in location, climate, etc. In obtaining the estimates for the cost of locks, the prices actually paid for building the Government locks at Sanit Ste. Marie were taken and 33 per cent was added for the difference of location.

The Commission believes that a canal can be built across the Isthmus on this route for not exceeding $118,113,790. Col. Haines concurs generally with the views of the other members of the Commission but his estimate of the cost is $134,818,309.—V. 68, p. 474; V. 67, p. 1357.

Accrued interest on the general first mortgage bonds from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1899, will be paid in cash on July 1. Bonds must be deposited with J. P. Morgan & Co.—V. 68, p. 1026.

Indo-Egyptian Compress Company Rights.—Each record holder at the close of business on June 15, 1899, of new trust shares has the right to take one share of Indo Egyptian Compress Company stock, at $20 per share, for each five of SIDE TRACKS.—New Side Tracks aggregating 13 52-100 miles have been constructed on the various Divisions of the road.

REDUCING GRADES AND CHANGE OF LINE.—On the South-western Division, near Altamont, Mo., the main track for a distance of about six miles has been reconstructed, reducing curves and grades.

EQUIPMENT.—Seven (7) composite and Two (2) Postal Cars have been added to the equipment during the year, cost charged to Construction.

Sixteen (16) large Locomotives, Four (4) Passenger Cars and Seven Hundred and Sixty-nine (769) Box, Freight and Coal Cars (capacity 20 to 30 tons) have been purchased or built during the year to take the place of old and worn out equipment, and in addition the equipment has been increased by the purchase of Five Hundred and Twelve (512) (30-ton capacity) Box Freight Cars, the entire cost charged to Operating Expenses.

TRACK ELEVATION IN CHICAGO.—Track elevation was extended during the year from 59th Street to 71st Street, and from 16th Street north over crossings of various roads at that point, in all a distance of 1 50-100 miles, at a cost to this Company of $367,490 12. The cost of that portion of the work north of 63rd Street was borne jointly by this Company and the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway, and that portion south of 63rd Street was at the entire expense of this Company.

CHICKASHA BRANCH.—A branch line has been constructed from Chickasha, Ind. Ter., in a westerly direction to Mountain View, Okla. Ter., a distance of 5 22-100 miles, opening up a country heretofore not supplied with railroad facilities. At present most of the land along the line is used for grazing, but as the soil is well adapted for agricultural purposes it will make a good feeder in the near future.

ADDITION AND IMPROVEMENT ACCOUNT.—From 1880 to 1895 there was spent for construction out of the Net Earnings of the Company $8,213,000 00, which amount was credited to Addition and Improvement Account, and bonds issued and deposited with the Treasurer amounting to $7,750,000 00, by which the Company pledged itself to pay this sum to the Stockholders, either in Stock of the Company or in cash, at its election.

At the Annual Meeting held in Chicago, June 1st, 1898, resolutions were adopted providing for the issuance of the remaining authorized shares of the Capital Stock of the Company, to-wit: 38,440 shares; and for the payment of $7,000,000 00 of said bonds by the distribution to Stockholders of record July 1st, 1898, of ten (10) per cent of their holdings in shares of the Capital Stock of the Company, and by the payment to the Trustee of the Addition and Improvement Bonds, on the 1st day of July, 1898, and on the first days of October, January, April and July thereafter, up to and including January 1st, 1903, of $125,000 00, to be distributed to Stockholders of record as a special dividend on the regular dividend day next following such payment.

As the Additional Stock issued, 38,440 shares, was not sufficient to make the distribution of 10 per cent to Stockholders, it was necessary to purchase in the market 7,716 shares.

There have been distributed during the year in accordance with these resolutions the following amounts, which have been charged to Addition and Improvement Account:

By order of the Board of Directors.

President.

—Messrs Pfaelzer, Walker & Co. have just issued their new quotation sheet for inactive and uncurrent steam railroad bonds. They announce that this is the most complete list they have ever issued. Having offices in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, they are especially fitted to handle bonds peculiar to the various markets.

—M. A. Cornell, formerly with C. I. Hudson & Co. and lately with Price, McCormick & Co., has opened an office at 40 Exchange Place and solicits orders for the purchase and sale of "curb" securities.

—Messrs. F. J. Lisman & Co. offer in another column several blocks of bonds paying from 4½ to 5½ per cent. Their list, as usual, is well worthy of attention.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, June 9, 1899.

The unusually hot weather experienced the past week has had a tendency to interfere with business to some extent in many lines of merchandise. A general feeling of confidence, however, has continued to dominate the commercial markets, and with few exceptions values have been well maintained; in fact, in the hardware trade the tendency of prices has continued steadily upward. Crop accounts from the West have been of a more favorable character and a reaction in values for wheat has resulted. The export movement of gold has received some attention but has caused no apprehension. The English press are taking a serious view of the outcome of the present Transvaal difficulties. Washington advices report that the French Government has renewed active negotiations for a reciprocity treaty with the United States. It is reported that a temporary settlement of the Alaska boundary dispute has been reached.

Lard on the spot has been quiet, as both exporters and the home trade have been slow buyers, but as there has been no pressure to sell values have held to a steady basis, closing at 5-27 1/2c. for prime Western and 4-95c. for prime City. Refined lard has had only a small sale, but prices have been unchanged and steady at 5-45c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in the market for contracts has been dull and no important changes have occurred in values, closing steady.

Brazil grades of coffee have been in light demand, and under free offerings, prompted by an early movement of the new crop, prices have declined, closing at 6 1/2 c. for Rio No. 7. The distributing business has been dull. West India growths have been quiet but fairly steady at 8c. for good Cuxuta. Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been on a very narrow scale. Early in the week the tone of the market was firmer and prices advanced slightly. The improvement was in response to stronger advices from Liverpool, where there has been a slight hardening of values based on an active spot market. Manchester spinners have been free buyers, reflecting the healthy condition of the cotton-goods trade. Locally dealers also have reported a fairly good demand from both home spinners and exporters for the better grades of cotton, and prices have advanced slightly. Early in the week some complaint was heard of lack of moisture, particularly in the Gulf States. Subsequently, however, this was alleviated to some extent by heavy showers. The CHRONICLE's statement showing a decrease of 3-20 per cent in the acreage planted was received with much interest and had a steadying influence upon values. To-day there was a decidedly weaker tone to the market, prices at one time showing a decline of 7 to 8 points, the result of increased pressure to sell, principally by longs to liquidate their accounts. Improved weather conditions at the South also had a weakening influence. The close was steady at a slight recovery from bottom prices, they showing a net loss for the day of 5@6 points. Cotton on the spot has been steady, and prices advanced 1-16c, on Wednesday. To-day the market was unchanged at 6 5-16c, for middling uplands.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 16, 1893, by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Our telegraphic reports from the South this evening indicate that beneficial rains have fallen in many sections where needed, and that the temperature has been high, favoring the rapid development of the plant. In some districts along the Gulf, however, as well as at points along the Atlantic, moisture is claimed to be needed.

Galveston, Texas.—There has been a trace of rain on three days of the past week. The thermometer has ranged from 79 to 86, averaging 83.

Palestine, Texas.—We have had rain on one day during the week, to the extent of fifty-six hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 81, highest 92, lowest 70.

Huntsville, Texas.—The week's rainfall has been one inch and six hundredths, on one day. The thermometer has averaged 79, the highest being 93 and the lowest 64.

Dallas, Texas.—Rain has fallen on one day of the week, the precipitation reaching ninety-three hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 70 to 95.

Greenwood, South Carolina.—Cotton on sandy land is doing well, but on clay lands very poor. Fields are well worked, but moisture is badly needed. There has been no rain during the week. The thermometer has averaged 84, the highest being 99 and the lowest 69.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climate and Crop Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crops in the Southern States for the week ending June 5:

VIRGINIA.—Droughty conditions broken by abundant rainfall; days warm and sunny; crops have made rapid progress.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Week warm and favorable, with beneficial showers, but rainfall poorly distributed; more rain needed along northern tier of counties and in west; crops growing nicely, clean and well cultivated; present condition of cotton quite satisfactory.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Scattered showers partially relieved drought, but more rain needed; cotton doing well, fields clean, growth slow, stands normal.

GEORGIA.—Dry weather continues except where temporarily broken by local showers; cotton looking well, but would be benefited by soaking rains; cotton taking on forms in a few localities.

FLORIDA.—Excessive temperatures, with rainfall heaviest over northern and southern districts; while distribution was unsatisfactory in all sections; heavy local showers indicated the severity of drought; cotton blossoms in north-central portions.

ALABAMA.—Hot and dry, except scattered and insufficient showers; cotton small but promising; cotton forming squares generally, some blossoms reported, but late-planted ungerminated; damage by grasshoppers continues.

MISSISSIPPI.—Conditions generally improved by rains first of week; precipitation insufficient to bring up late cotton; cotton improved and has been worked extensively, less grass reported than last week, late-planted inferior.

LOUISIANA.—Drought continues, with high day temperatures; cotton looks well, but making slow growth.

TEXAS.—Dry, hot week; cotton doing nicely, but would be improved by rain in central and south portions; some complaints of damage from caterpillars, weevil and other insects; crop in excellent state of cultivation, except some low lands in north portion, where it is still foul.

ARKANSAS.—Rain early in week retarded work; all crops grassy and need cultivation; cotton generally poor stand but plant looks healthy some plowed up and planted in corn.

TENNESSEE.—Over greater portion of State many good local rains fell, which, with high temperature, caused good growth of crops, but in southern counties, mostly in middle division, damaging drought prevails; cotton making only fair growth, bad stands in many places.

OKLAHOMA.—Warm, cloudy, unsettled weather; heavy rains Sunday; all crops have done well; early cotton fruiting in south.

MISSOURI.—Cotton growing nicely.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

"In the Carolinas and Georgia the condition of cotton is very favorable, the crop being well cultivated and its growth satisfactory, but in the last-named State it would be improved by general rains. In the central portion of the cotton belt the early planted is making fair growth, but rain is greatly needed, especially for germination of the late-planted. In Texas cotton is generally doing well, but would be improved by rains in the central and southern portions.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, June 9, 1899.

There has been a weaker market for wheat flour, prices showing a decline of about 10c. per barrel, in sympathy with a reaction in the values for the grain. Business has been quiet, as both the home trade and exporters have been indifferent buyers, and their ideas of value have been, as a rule, lower than sellers have cared to concede. City mills have been quiet and easier. Rye flour has been in only limited demand, but offerings have been light, owing to small stocks, and prices have been advanced. Corn meal has had only a jobbing sale, but prices have been unchanged and steady.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has continued fairly active, but the tendency of values has been downward. There has been fairly free selling by longs to realize profits, and developments generally have been of a character to weaken values. Improved crop accounts have been received from the winter-wheat belt and prospects for the spring crop have been more favorable. The supply of wheat in sight showed a material increase, reflecting the free movement of the crop in the Northwest. Foreign markets turned easier under the improved crop accounts from this side and more favorable crop prospects in Russia, it being reported that needed rains had fallen. The movement of the crop in the Northwest continued large, heavy receipts being reported daily at Duluth and Minneapolis, and there has been considerable selling for Northwestern account. The spot market has been easier, following the decline in futures, and at the lower prices business has been more active, as exporters have been fairly free buyers. To-day there was an easier market, under continued liquidation by longs and in response to weaker foreign advices. The spot market was moderately active, sales for exports here and at outports amounting to 240,000 bushels.

Indian corn futures have been moderately active and values have held to a fairly steady basis. Crop account have been conflicting, complaints of too much rain being received, while other advices have reported improved conditions. There has been fairly free buying by shorts to cover contracts, and this demand, together with steady foreign advices and a fairly brisk export demand, have held values to a steady basis. Business in the spot market has been fairly active, as exporters have continued buyers, but at slightly lower prices. To-day the market was quiet and somewhat easier. The spot market was fairly active and steady. The sales for export here and at outports were 510,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery at the Western market have been quiet. Early in the week there was a slight decline in prices under favorable crop prospects. Subsequently, however, on a limited demand, largely from shorts to cover contracts, the loss was recovered. Locally the spot market has been moderately active at lower prices. Exporters have been buyers, and there has been some demand from the home trade. To-day there was a steady market. The spot market was moderately active and firmer. The sales for export were 30,000 bushels.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climate and Crop Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the grain crops in the various States for the week ending June 5 as follows:

WEATHER.—In New England, New Jersey, Colorado, New Mexico, and over the greater part of the Southwestern States drought generally prevails, while the States of the Missouri, Upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys have suffered from excessive rains and local storms in some sections. On the Pacific Coast beneficial rains fell over the greater part of California, the rain area also covering Oregon and Washington. The week in the Rocky Mountain and North Pacific coast regions has been unseasonably cool, but eastward of the Rocky Mountains it has been much warmer than the average; the temperature conditions being generally very favorable, especially over the central and northern portions of the country. The season throughout the Northern Rocky Mountain and North Pacific Coast regions is decidedly backward, the deficiency in the temperature since March 1 from the Upper Missouri Valley westward to Oregon and Washington being exceptionally marked.

CORN.—In the principal corn States the conditions have been more favorable for this staple than in the preceding week, although cultivation has been extensively retarded as the result of excessive rains in the Missouri, Central Mississippi and Ohio valleys, and planting delayed in portions of Illinois, Iowa and North Dakota. In Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Tennessee and over the greater part of the Middle Atlantic States corn is generally in a promising condition and is well cultivated, but over the greater part of the Southern States it is suffering for rain.

WINTER WHEAT.—The harvesting of winter wheat is quite generally in progress in the Southern States, some having been cut as far north as Tennessee and Arkansas, the yields being generally light; harvesting will begin in the Central Mississippi and Lower Ohio valleys during the coming week. The reports show no improvement of the crop in Missouri, but the effects of the weather of the past week have been as a rule favorable in the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic States. In California early wheat has suffered slight injury, but the recent rains have greatly benefited the late-sown. In Washington and Oregon the crop has made satisfactory progress.

SPRING WHEAT.—In the Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa spring wheat has made rapid growth and is in a promising condition. Too rank growth, however, is reported from portions of Iowa; in Montana, owing to unseasonably cool weather, the growth of the crop has been slow. In Washington and Oregon spring wheat is in a healthy condition; in the last-named State some seedling remains to be done.

OATS.—Oat harvesting continues in the Southern States and light yields are generally indicated. In Illinois and Iowa the crop is making too rank growth. Some seedling remains to be done in the Red River of the North Valley.

The movement of breadstuffs to market as indicated in the statements below is prepared by us from the figures collected by the New York Produce Exchange. The receipts at Western lake and river ports for the week ending June 3, and since Aug. 1, for each of the last three years, have been:

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., June 9, 1899.

The market has continued quiet throughout the week in most departments. There has been only a limited number of buyers present, the extreme heat telling upon their attendance and affecting the volume of store trade. Conditions otherwise have not shown any material change. Salesmen on the road have sent in a fair supply of orders, particularly for new lines of dark fancy prints, upon which agents have finally made their opening prices. In staple cotton goods the market is still in good shape. Current sales are sufficient to prevent accumulations of stocks and there has daily been business turned down on both home and export account through sellers' inability to give required deliveries. Purchases are made without demur on the part of buyers at previous prices. In the woolen goods division the tone is more satisfactory in both men's-wear fabrics and dress goods, with occasional advances in the latter. Reports from local and out-of-town retailers show a liberal distribution in progress in seasonable merchandise. Collections are regular, few complaints being heard of slow payments.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The supplementary demand for heavy-weight woollens and worsteds for men's wear has maintained the improvement recently shown, and a comparatively good business has been done for this stage of the season. As before, plain and fancy worsteds have had the best call, and the market is firm for both, with an upward tendency. Medium and low grade woollens are steady. In overcoatings the demand is confined mainly to kerseys, which are firm. Cloakings quiet and unaltered. Dress goods are in steady demand and advances of 2½c. to 5c. per yard reported in Atlantic cashmeres and serges. Flannels and blankets quiet and featureless.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 5 were 3,968 packages, valued at $156,422, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $6,591,381 in 1899, against $4,919,518 in 1898.

There has not been any change in the price of heavy brown sheetings and drills; the week's business has been on a moderate scale, but in the present sold-ahead condition of most lines there is no difficulty in maintaining quotations. Light brown and fine grey goods are also firm with a moderate demand. Duck is quiet and osenaburgs in limited request without change in prices. Buyers are not operating freely in any grade of bleached cottons, but recent advances are readily upheld. Wide sheetings are firm and cotton flannels and blankets quiet at previous prices. Denims in slightly improved request at full prices. Ticks, checks and stripes, plaids and chevrons, are without change. Kid-finished cambrics quietly steady. The new prices on dark fancy calicoes for fall show advances of ½c. to 1c. per yard over the opening prices of last season, and at these a good business has been done. Other prints are firm with average sales. Staple ginghams very firm. Lancasters advanced ¼c. Dress ginghams firm. Print cloths inactive at 2¾c. for regulars.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Quiet market has ruled in all departments. Dress goods are firm, with Mohair and other bright fabrics tending against buyers. Silks show irregularity in fancies. Ribbons also irregular. Linens quiet and unchanged. Burlaps dull and 1-16c. lower for Dundee goods.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The market has continued this week irregular. In the early days there were advances; Wednesday and Thursday there were declines. Friday the opening was better, but the market fell off again later in the day. Altogether the changes have not been material except in a few special cases. The industrial and railroad outlook remains favorable. Reports with reference to the crops are in the main construed according to the object and inclination of the interpreter. Of course the yield of winter wheat will turn out materially short; but other than that no real detriment to the condition of any crop has yet been established so far as we can observe. Earnings still show gains. Aside from these matters the gold export movement and the conditions as to the trade balances, etc., which the movement seems to establish, have been the chief influences.

Mr. Austin, of the Bureau of Statistics, issued the May trade figures this week and they show results which certainly put gold exports now in progress almost beyond comprehension. The imports of merchandise in May were valued at $70,131,628, which is $4,924,000 larger than the previous month of April and $16,546,977 larger than in May, 1898; but the exports of merchandise were $93,836,489, which is $5,029,000 larger than in the previous month of April, and shows, consequently, a net favorable merchandise balance of $23,704,000 in May, which is very large, almost beyond precedent for that month. Indeed, no May, except in 1898, ever showed such a large net of exports, while, as a rule, the balance in May has been adverse, that is a net balance of imports. These facts are certainly remarkable in view of the shipments of gold still in progress. Even this week the gold shipments have reached $3,250,000 to Europe and $1,000,000 French coin to Cuba. A less favorable feature in the merchandise exports, one which has for some months been anticipated, is the decline that has occurred in May in the proportion of manufactures included in that total. Heretofore the amount has been running larger than a year ago; this month it seems to be just about the same expressed in values as it was in May 1898. Of course with the rise in prices of commodities the falling off in exports of manufactures could not fail to become manifest soon.

A good deal of stress is being laid at the moment on the prospective investment demand likely to be engendered by the coming July interest and dividend disbursements, which are certain to be heavy. It seems important to note therefore that an especially large supply of new municipal bonds is coming on the market the latter half of the present month and the beginning of the next month. On Thursday of this week the State of Massachusetts received proposals for $6,385,000 of 3 per cent bonds. All but $100,000 of the bonds were awarded to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. at 100.64, a price which nets 2.972 per cent to maturity. Full particulars are given in our State and City Department, page 1195. On Monday June 26, as also appears by our State and City Department, the city of Philadelphia will open bids for $5,600,000 of its $11,200,000 3½ per cent serial loans to be issued for various improvements. This loan has been long delayed by litigation, but all obstacles having been finally overcome, half the total issue is now to be placed. The present week also we have had the official announcement from Comptroller Bird S. Coler that the city of New York will, on July 5, dispose of $10,025,000 of its 3½ per cent corporate stock. Later on there will, of course, be still other issues by the city when the municipal legislature can be induced to take action sanctioning the same. But disregarding further additions either by New York or Philadelphia, the three offerings we have enumerated furnish an aggregate of over twenty-two millions of new bonds—in exact figures $22,010,000.

The report of the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, issued last Saturday, on the condition of the country's growing grain crops, fully bears out the expectations of a decided shortage in the yield of winter wheat the present year. The average of condition for the whole United States is given as only 67.3, which compares with 90.8 at the corresponding date last year, 78.5 on June 1 1897 and 83.4 the mean of the June averages for the last thirteen years. With the exception of Oklahoma the report states there is not a State or territory where the condition is not below the fifteen-year average, or the average for such shorter term as may be available for comparisons. The shrinkage is chiefly in the great wheat producing belt of the Central West, and particularly in Illinois and Kansas. For Illinois the condition is given only 38 against 94 a year ago, and for Kansas the average is 53 against 104. But the other States in the same belt have suffered only less in degree. In Indiana the condition is 53 against 95, in Ohio 73 against 87, in Missouri 60 against 96, and in Michigan 45 against 97. On the Pacific Coast, California, where the crop a year ago was almost a total failure, has a different story to tell this year, its condition being reported 81 against 33. In Oregon, however, the average is only 87 against 101, and in Washington 76 against 103.

It is obvious in view of the decided shortage here foreshadowed in the yield of the fall sown wheat that much more importance than usual attaches to the probable outcome of the spring wheat crop. On this point it is too early yet to venture any predictions. The Bureau makes the average of condition for that crop 91.4 June 1, 1899, against 100.9 June 1, 1898, but this somewhat less favorable start signifies nothing, as the outcome will be controlled by the weather conditions of the next two months. The area seeded to spring wheat is a little smaller than that for 1898, the figures being 17,845,000 acres, against 18,315,000 acres. It is evident that in the winter wheat belt the results as to the other agricultural products, and particularly corn, will be of great moment this season. In such States as Kansas and Illinois, a deficiency in corn added to the deficiency in wheat might mean not only a decided contraction in the grain tonnage of the railroads, but also cause somewhat of a setback in general trade. On the other hand, it is possible to conceive of a corn harvest so abundant as to count as a full offset to the loss in wheat. For oats the average for the country at large is reported 88.7 against 98.0 last year. As to the probabilities regarding corn, it is not possible to say anything definite. A favorable fact is that thus far there has been an abundance of moisture.

In the iron and steel trades a remarkable condition of things has developed. Prices are still rising in every direction, and consumers seem to be in a state of panic. Within a very short time the price of steel billets has gone up four to five dollars a ton and the price of iron one to two dollars. Steel billets at Pittsburgh are now quoted at $31.50 a ton against $27.00 a month ago, and but $14.75 at this date in 1898. Here then there has been an advance in twelve months of over one hundred per cent. The comparison as to iron is the same. Southern foundry pig No. 2 rules at Cincinnati now at $16 a ton; a month ago the price was $14.50, a year ago but $8.75. The "Iron Age" says that while it is true that the bulk of current business in many lines is merely the covering of urgent needs, it is equally true that a disposition to take hold for next year's delivery at or near present values is developing. Consumption, it says, does not seem to be checked in any direction; on the contrary, it is a question more of delivery than of price. In the meantime iron production keeps steadily increasing. The "Age's" monthly statement shows a further net addition of three to the number of furnaces in blast and an increase in the weekly product since May 1 of nearly six thousand tons, the capacity of the active furnaces being now 256,062 tons per week against 250,095 tons a month ago. On March 1 the product was only 228,195 tons per week. Stocks are growing smaller and smaller: June 1 the amount was 233,235 tons against 284,127 tons May 1 and 506,575 tons January 1, while the holdings of the American Pig Iron Storage Warrant Company were only 67,300 tons June 1 against 86,500 May 1 and 150,800 January 1.

Last week's bank return showed a well-distributed increase in loans of $10,805,400 while the specie was reduced only $1,531,500. It is a noticeable fact, however, that the loss of specie reported by the National City bank was $8,656,900. This institution also showed a loss of $6,766,100 in deposits while the deposits of all the banks gained $7,770,000. The statement only partially reflected the withdrawals of gold for shipment to Europe during the week, but this week's return should show the full effect upon the banks of this export movement and also in part the effect of the shipment of $2,000,000 on Tuesday of this week and $1,250,000 to-day besides $1,000,000 to Cuba. The market for money has not been in the least influenced, even sentimentally, by the gold exports to Europe and there appears to be an abundance of money not only at this centre but at the principal cities in the interior and also among the larger country banks outside the reserve centres.

Money on call, representing banker's balances, has loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 2 per cent and at 3 per cent, averaging about 2½ per cent. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the range was from 2 per cent to 3 per cent, with the bulk of the business at 2½ per cent. On Thursday loans were made at 2½ per cent and at 3 per cent, with the majority of the transactions at 2½ per cent, and on Friday the range was again 2@3, and the bulk of the business was at 2½ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 2 per cent as the minimum, though the majority obtain 2½ per cent. Time loans are chiefly in demand for renewals, and the supply of money for this purpose and also for new contracts is abundant, but there is little inquiry for money for short periods. Rates are 3 per cent for sixty days to four months, and 3@3½ per cent for five to seven months on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral; while with a liberal admixture of good industrial stocks 4 per cent would be demanded for the last named period. The inquiry for commercial paper continues urgent from all sections of the country, and while the business is good it would be larger were the offerings to increase. Rates are 3@2½ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable; 3½@3¾ per cent for prime and 4@5 per cent for good four to six month's single names. Banks having large correspondence note a very light inquiry for money from the interior and the majority of the country banks not only seem well supplied with funds, but their chief anxiety is how to profitably employ their money. At some of the Eastern centres the banks have large accumulations which they find it almost impossible to invest, and they are constantly in the New York market, through their correspondents, for paper.

The political situation in Europe has been slightly strained during the week over the change in the French ministry. The friction between the Transvaal and the British Governments had very little influence upon the London markets. Subscriptions were closed in London for the Russian loan during the week and final arrangements are reported to have been completed for the conversion of the Mexican loan. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 2 per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 2½ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfurt it is 4 per cent. This high rate is reported to be due to the half yearly settlements. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £667,549 bullion during the week and held £31,027,391 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to imports of £328,000 (of which £251,000 were from the United States, £71,000 from Australia and £6,000 from Egypt), to receipts of £374,000 net from the interior of Great Britain, and to exports of £34,000, of which £10,000 were to Peru and £24,000 were to other countries.

The foreign exchange market has been exceedingly dull, generally steady and almost featureless during the week. The demand for remittance seems to have been small and the supply of bankers' bills, outside those offered in connection with gold exports, has been limited. The offerings of commercial bills has likewise been small and though 60-day sterling has commanded good figures the drawing of these bills in expectation of covering later in the season with cotton drafts has not been greatly noticeable this week. There was an export of $2,000,000 gold to Europe by the National City Bank on Tuesday. Yesterday Goldman, Sachs & Co. withdrew $1,250,000 for shipment on the steamer sailing to-day. Gold received at the Custom House during the week, $398,869. Lawrence Turnure & Co. sent $1,000,000 in French coin to Cuba.

Nominal rates for exchange have ranged from 4 86½ to 4 87 for sixty-day and from 4 88½ to 4 89 for sight, with the majority of the drawers quoting the lower figures. Rates for actual business have been practically unchanged during the week, and, as noted above, the business has been very dull. The market opened on Monday unaltered, compared with the close of Friday of last week, at 4 85½@4 85½ for long; 4 87½@4 88 for short, and 4 88½@4 88½ for cables. There was an advance on Tuesday in rates for actual business of one quarter of a cent in long sterling to 4 85½@4 86, while no change was made in short or cables, and the tone was steady, so continuing thereafter. The market was steady on Friday. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

ENGLAND AND THE TRANSVAAL.

The failure of last week's conference between the English and Dutch authorities at Bloemfontein, the apparent rejection by President Kruger of the demand for full suffrage rights to naturalized citizens, and the present talk of an ultimatum by the British ministry, are interesting and in their way typical signs of the times. They are so, however, not in our judgment because they foreshadow war, but because the Transvaal incident fairly sums up the characteristics of a movement very generally in progress between the older and newer civilizations.

Unless this view of the South African dispute be recognized, the merits of the controversy would be in considerable doubt, even to observers in sympathy with the general movement of Anglo-Saxon progress. The bald fact of the situation is, that the South African Republic enjoys, through its treaty with Great Britain in 1881, full power over the administration of its internal affairs. It has used this power, undoubtedly, to reserve the effective right of suffrage to the Dutch inhabitants, the newcomers or "Uitlanders" being restricted to a few formal and empty privileges, none of their elected representatives having a final voice in legislation; this at a time when the neighboring Boer republic, known as the Orange Free State, grants the suffrage to all adult white citizens, subject only to equal property qualification. Nor is it open to question that the Boer administration has employed its exclusive political powers in such manner as to annoy and hamper the naturalized citizens, notably the English at Johannesburg. All this was made familiar to the European and American public at the time of Dr. Jameson's raid in 1896. Yet the fact remained that self-government as to internal affairs had been guaranteed to the Transvaal Boers by England fifteen years ago, the suzerainty of Great Britain being recognized, but expressly restricted, so far as concerned active control or intervention, to the foreign relations of the Republic. When, therefore, urgent request is made by a British high commissioner for a radical change in the Republic's method of internal government, and when diplomatic rumor intimates that the request, denied, may be followed up by a demand—it is evident that something apart from and beyond the strict construction of treaties and constitutions is involved.

As is often true on such occasions, the real facts at issue may better be judged by the frank discussions in unofficial quarters than by the guarded and formal language of the Colonial office. The position of the Boers we have shown already, and it is not perhaps difficult to understand their stubborn insistence on privileges which they have won, in point of fact, on the open field of military contest, and have won, moreover, from the very nation now pressing for modifications in the terms.

But outside students of the situation cannot ignore the fact that conditions in the Transvaal are so completely different from what they were at the time of the Boer war of 1881, or even of the London treaty in 1884, that the whole basis of argument is altered. At both those periods, the Transvaal consisted either of pastoral or of wholly uncivilized regions. Where the land had been won for white labor by the sturdy Dutch emigrants of 1856 from Natal, it was used entirely for farms and pasturage. The presence of gold in quantity beneath the soil was hardly more than suspected; it was not in fact until 1885 that the Transvaal began to be looked upon as a possible source of great wealth in the precious metal. The Witwatersrandt discoveries, and their natural consequences in trade and industry, completely reversed the position of matters in the South African Republic, and at once confronted the Boer government with new conditions whose demand for recognition has been steadily increasing since that day.

We do not think it unjust, after making all possible allowances, to say that the Boers have shown themselves wholly incapable of meeting and properly dealing with these new conditions. When this happens in the case of an unprogressive popular minority, with an alert and vigorous majority knocking at the doors of government, the event cannot long remain uncertain. If it be alleged that the Dutch settlers left Natal to escape English rule, took up arms successfully to shake off such control in 1881, and now see no alternative between return of such outside domination and refusal of the suffrage to the Outlanders, it must be answered on the other side that these disfranchised citizens and their belongings comprise two-thirds of the population and nine-tenths of the property of the South African Republic, and that the suffrage right is certainly not denied them on the ground of their unfitness to participate in self government. Here, then, is not a republic at all, but a government which can hardly be described except as an agricultural aristocracy. Even this anomaly for an industrial community in the nineteenth century might have been patiently tolerated, if the Council and the restricted Volksraad had given enlightened government to the new comers. But as all the world has by this time learned, legislation has become narrower, more restrictive, more monopolistic, and more intensely provincial, almost in proportion as the mining industry and the cities of the Rand have grown in magnitude. To such a situation some change must have come, unless modern civilization is assumed not to hold sway in South Africa. We believe that the change would have come peacefully long before this, but for the reckless and inexcusable act of bad faith known as the Jameson Raid.

It is our opinion that even now, the controversy will end in the virtual surrender of President Krüger. The British government, having publicly taken an attitude which has the moral if not the technical right on its side, can hardly recede without a further word of protest. Sir Alfred Milner, indeed, an experienced diplomatist, plainly intimated in advance that if such a policy were to be adopted, he would at once resign his own post of British high commissioner. But if Krüger were to refuse to yield to a peremptory demand, there would be created a diplomatic impasse which nothing but force could break.

President Krüger is, however, too sagacious a statesman not to know that if England were once driven to threaten and use force in the Transvaal, the end even of nominal Boer dominion would be in sight. It is quite true that in 1881 the Boers defeated the British troops in a contest over this very question, and crowned their victory with the existing treaty. It is true, also, that the average Boer citizen may have some excuse, in recalling the incidents of 1896, for indulging in hopes of intervention favorable to the Dutch by other European powers with South African interests. But the veteran "Oom Paul" must certainly be aware that conditions differ radically to day from 1881. The surrender of the British garrisons and the crushing defeat of General Colley at Majuba Hill were made possible by the gross carelessness of commanders operating in a completely unfriendly country. To-day it is probable that a majority of the inhabitants would favor the British side. Furthermore, the struggle of 1880 and 1881 was a half-hearted contest on the English side, the Gladstone ministry believing that continuance of the war, in a remote agricultural community, would be needless and wrong — a belief which led to inadequate provision for war and to instant suit for peace. To-day not only would the prize of victory be one of the richest attainable, but the general sense of progressive nations would justify England's attitude. As for Germany, it is hardly necessary to say that conditions differ radically from those in existence when the Emperor dashed off his famous telegram to Krüger in February 1896. From a general diplomatic understanding between Germany and England, affairs have advanced so far as to admit of a cordial personal interview between Emperor William and Krüger's most active adversary, Cecil Rhodes, and Germany's intervention is now one of the most remote of possibilities.

All this is perfectly well known to the astute old politician at Pretoria, whom Bismarck described as one of the two or three ablest diplomatists of his day. It is quite improbable that so expert a student of affairs would rely even on the shadowy Afrikaner-Bund between the Dutch communities of the South African Republic, the Orange Free State, and the Cape. Just now it is reasonable to suppose that Krüger is utilizing, for his own purposes, Lord Salisbury's known aversion even to the threat of war; and he may succeed by obstinate maintenance of his ground up to the very last moment in reserving more of the Boer's exclusive power than has lately seemed possible. It will be observed that at the very moment when the despatches pronounce the outlook for compromise to be hopeless, come intimations of the possible basis on which the President would be personally willing to extend the voting right to the new citizens.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY AND THE STATE OF EMPLOYMENT.

A law passed at this year's session of our State Legislature, at the suggestion of Governor Roosevelt, has provided the means for the "compiling and publishing of quarterly bulletins" by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of New York. The bureau has just issued the first of these bulletins, covering the quarter ending March 31, 1899, and it contains some useful statistical matter. Among other things tables are presented showing the membership of the trades unions in the different trades, with the number and proportions of those at work and those idle; their relative and absolute earnings, &c., &c. Some very brief comparisons are also made in the case of the grand aggregates with the corresponding aggregates for 1898 and 1897, so that it is possible to see the changes that have occurred contrasted with these earlier years.

Reports of this kind, if intelligently and rationally compiled, possess elements of considerable usefulness. It is hardly possible to exaggerate the value of a really accurate record of that sort after it has been kept up a number of years, showing the percentages and numbers of those unemployed at stated periods. It would furnish one more barometer of the state of our industries, and afford an indication of the way industrial conditions are affecting the classes most dependent upon them. New York is the largest State in the Union, making the facts as to its labor situation peculiarly interesting and instructive. Of course the statistics relate only to the members of trades unions. There is no way of obtaining similar information with regard to the non-union class of workers. But the trades union men undoubtedly constitute a very large part of the whole, and moreover in the case of these unions the means exist for a perfect determination of earnings and employment, etc., since the members of the same are generally obliged to pay weekly or monthly assessments varying directly according to their wages.

There are two essentials to the full usefulness of such periodic statistical returns. They should be issued with reasonable promptness and none but clearly desirable and strictly necessary facts should be treated on. Many States have created Statistical and Labor Bureaus, whose duty it is to collect information regarding labor and the state of our industries, but these Bureaus have all made the mistake of attempting too much—of seeking too great detail, of including too many items, and of extending too far the scope of their inquiries. This has proved unfortunate in more ways than one. In the first place it has delayed the publication of the returns so long that by the time the information appeared it had largely lost its value, because the period to which it related was such a remote one. In the second place the compilers with so much work before them have found it impossible properly to arrange, group and classify their facts. The result in most cases has been the publication of a great mass of statistics of no service to any one, since no one could pick out from them the data on which conclusions and deductions must be based.

The present quarterly bulletin of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of this State it appears to us proceeds on correct lines. As it is for the first quarter of the current calendar year, and the information in it therefore comes down to the 1st of April, it must be regarded as issued with considerable promptitude, bearing in mind the time required to tabulate and compile the figures, returns being furnished by 1,156 unions. Again, the statistical tables with reference to employment, in which the returns of these unions are incorporated, seem to embrace just the facts needed, and no more. If Commissioner M'Mackin will in subsequent bulletins continue these same forms of tables, and by rigid scrutiny of the returns of the unions guard against errors creeping into the results, he will receive credit for having adopted a model system, and which in the course of time will yield a body of information that cannot fail to be of great service in many ways. One other error Commissioner M'Mackin should carefully avoid. He should avoid being lured into making "special investigations" which may take his time and attention off this specific piece of work. We have seen many promising beginnings in the line of furnishing periodic returns spoiled in precisely that way. Having devised some really creditable form and furnished assurance of prompt publication, instead of being contented with that, the compiler would, to add to his reputation as he thought, start on some elaborate special undertaking, requiring two or three years for completion, in the meantime giving but scant attention to his first scheme and by issuing the returns later and later with each succeeding number, divest them of their chief merit.

We have stated that the Bureau had returns from 1,156 separate unions. The corresponding figures for the first quarter of 1898 are 1,048 and for 1897, 927. Analysis of these returns shows in a noteworthy way the great improvement that has occurred in the employment situation of the wage classes as a result of the activity and revival of trade. In 1897 out of a total membership of 142,570 no less than 43,654 were reported out of employment on March 31, being 30.06 per cent of the whole; in 1898 out of a membership of 179,955 only 38,857 were on March 31 out of employment, the ratio being 21.0 per cent; in 1899 the number unemployed was 31,613 out of 173,516, or but 18.2 per cent. The Bureau, in commenting on these results, says the striking facts are the large numbers of the unemployed in each of the three periods covered. The economic situation of trade unionists, it says, is popularly supposed to be more secure than that of the average workingman, and yet 44,000 out of 143,000 trade unionists were reported in idleness on March 31, 1897, &c., &c. These large percentages of idleness, it adds, pertain to the winter season and do not hold good for the whole year.

The latter is really the gist of the whole matter. We observe that some usually very careful critics, in commenting upon and interpreting the figures, overlook this very important fact. In winter time it is impossible to prosecute out-door operations in certain lines of work, and the employes in the trades affected naturally suffer from that cause—they cannot find occupation at their calling, and this solely because of the season of the year and entirely irrespective of the general condition of the country's industries. When this fact is taken into consideration, the situation in 1899 is seen to have been an exceptionally favorable one. The trades mainly affected by the weather conditions are those grouped under the general designation of the building trades. It appears that these building trades were in a less satisfactory condition in 1899 than in the preceding year, probably because of the increased severity of the weather. We have seen that altogether 31,613 trades unionists were unemployed in March 31, 1899, against 38,857 on March 31, 1898. But 17,497 of these were in the building trades in 1899, against 15,523 in 1898, the total membership in these trades having been 52,665 against 50,607, so that 33.2 per cent of the whole were without work on March 31, 1899, against 31.5 per cent on March 31, 1898. Eliminating the building trades, we find that only 13,552 or 11.9 per cent were unemployed in the other trades, against 21,354 or 17.4 per cent in 1898. Moreover, but 8,500 (or 7.5 per cent) were unemployed during the entire quarter, against 10,182 (or 8.3 per cent) in 1898.

Carrying the analysis a step further, we find some other special circumstances reducing still further the number unemployed as the result of the state of trade. Thus at stone working, paving, etc. 2,896 members were unemployed on March 31, 1899, and 2,600 had no work for the whole quarter, the percentages to the whole number enrolled in these unions being 53.1 per cent in the one case and 47.6 per cent in the other. But the effect on stone working of the winter season is obviously the same as that on the building trades; the cold weather prevents the carrying on of much of the work. Again, owing to the strike of the freight handlers, 1,652 out of 2,579 were inactive in that class, an entire union in Buffalo having reported its members out of work. When these facts are borne in mind and when it is furthermore remembered that to say that the employes in any given trade are out of employment in that trade, does not necessarily imply that these persons were reduced to absolute idleness, but probably for the time being turned their hand to something else, it becomes apparent that the situation in 1899 as to the extent of work furnished the wage classes was a more than ordinarily encouraging one, just as would be expected.

In certain industries the demand was such that nearly the entire membership found occupation. This is particularly true of the transportation branch. For instance, out of 10,699 employes of steam roads only 197 were idle March 31, being less than 2 per cent. Among the street railway men only 9 out of a total membership of 3,450 were so unfortunate as not to find situations—in brief, the percentage of idleness here was almost nil. In two or three departments of what are called the "Clothing and Textile Trades" absolutely every member had employment. This statement applies especially to "Hats, Caps and Furs" and to "Boots, Shoes, Gloves, etc." In the Clothing and Textile Trades, as a whole, 8.8 per cent of the men were without something to do, but only 2.4 per cent of the women. The proportions idle the whole quarter were but 3.7 and 1.4 per cent respectively. In the "Printing and Allied Trades" only 5.6 per cent of the men and 5.3 per cent of the women were idle for the whole quarter. In "Metals, Machinery and Shipbuilding" 3.3 per cent of the men had been able to find no work for the quarter. Comparison with the results in the corresponding quarter of last year shows that the condition of employment improved in all the leading trades represented in organized labor, with the exception of the building trades, already referred to, and the tobacco trades, in the latter of which some changes are going on that are affecting the women workers with especial severity.

The pamphlet also gives detailed returns, in the same form, for the December quarter of 1898, and these are particularly useful in showing the fluctuations of employment in certain trades, and also the part played by the season in affecting the extent of employment. We have referred above to the winter weather as accounting for the large percentage of unemployed in the building trades. That this is the true explanation is evident when we look at the figures for the December quarter and see that the number of union members without any work in that quarter was only 6.3 per cent of the whole, as against 26.1 per cent for the March, 1899, quarter. The longshoremen similarly had work in the autumn and very little in the winter. On the other hand the tailoring trade was very dull during the autumn, while it gave very good employment during the winter. The report notes an unusually large percentage of idleness on the last day of December in the Clothing and Textile trades (it amounting to over 60 per cent), and points out that this is largely accidental, being a consequence of inventory taking on the last day of the year. The holiday season, too, it says, must inevitably affect figures of employment on December 31. This is a defect that should be overcome in subsequent returns. In some way it should be found possible to avoid results which must inevitably mislead a great many people. It would be well, too, to guard more carefully against clerical and typographical errors, of which we find a number in the pamphlet.

WHAT TO DO TO PREVENT RAILROAD RATE WARS.

In the "Forum" for June, under the title of "A New Departure in Railroad Management," Mr. J. W. Midgley, formerly Chairman of the Southwestern Railway Association, has an article in which he discusses the question as to what expedients are available to the railroads for the prevention of rate wars in the struggle for competitive traffic. The discussion has reference, of course, to the peculiar situation which has arisen in the railroad world since the decisions of the United States Supreme Court adverse to the legality of the Trans Missouri and Joint Traffic Associations. The principles there laid down make it impossible for the carriers to combine for the purpose of fixing or maintaining rates, and yet unity of action among them is necessary to prevent ruinous strife and reckless competition.

Mr. Midgley dwells upon the urgency of the need, both from the standpoint of the railroad investor and from that of the wage-earning classes employed in the service of the roads. He shows that according to the last complete report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission the railroads of the United States, aggregating 184,428 miles, were capitalized stock and bonds for $10,635,008,074; of this amount $5,270,365,819 was funded debt. Parenthetically we may say that Mr. Midgley gives this latter amount $5,364,642,255, but he has made a mistake in drawing off the figures. Of the outstanding stock 70.10 per cent did not, in 1897, pay any dividend; while 16.59 per cent of the funded debt, exclusive of equipment trust obligations, was in the same unprofitable category. Alongside of these facts, he places the suggestive one that 41.41 per cent of the 67.06 per cent which it cost to operate the railroads consisted of wages and salaries paid to employes—a total, for 1897, of $465,601,581. In other words the companies disbursed $752,524,764 in the operation of their lines of road, which was 67.06 per cent of their gross earnings from all sources for the same period.

Mr. Midgley employs words we have often used ourselves when he says there can be no lasting or complete return to national prosperity while the largest single interest in the country is practically disabled. Under normal conditions, when the railroads are permitted to operate profitably, they are the chief employers of labor, the principal purchasers of iron and wood, and the best customers for numerous other products. If, however, they are forced to economize, the stress upon them is reflected in a reduction of the running-time of mills, manufactories and kindred industries: and until those works are revived by a multiplicity of orders, trade in general will languish, capital in vast sums will continue to lie idle, real estate will be a burden, and armies of unemployed men will roam over the land or loiter in the cities.

The picture is not overdrawn. What then is the remedy. How are the railroads to secure just compensation for their services, now that recourse cannot be had to pools, nor to compacts to maintain agreed rates. Mr. Midgley passes in review the various plans to this end which have been suggested in the past. He refers to the proposal of the late Jay Gould, who suggested the formation of a company which should lease the traffic, passenger or freight, of a number of railroads in a given territory—just as the express and sleeping car business is conducted by separate corporations. If it is competent, says Mr. Midgley, to lease the carriage of passengers in chair and sleeping cars or the transportation of high class or perishable goods by express, it must be equally so to lease the carriage of passengers in ordinary coaches, and the transportation of freight of all descriptions, to corporations that will undertake to perform the services satisfactorily to the public on terms acceptable to the lessors. But Mr. Midgley simply presents this plan for consideration without recommending it. Another plan is that with which Mr. Huntington's name has been identified. It was brought forward about the same time as the scheme of Mr. Gould. It provides for the formation of a central company, the shares of which shall be allotted in equitable proportions to the subsidiary corporations that would be merged therein. It would be practicable to start with any number of railroads operating in a given section; and if a majority should deem it to their interest to unite, the economies that would be introduced, and the results likely to be achieved, would be such as to render it expedient for all others traversing the same territory to seek admission. Mr. Midgley says undoubtedly greater obstacles would attend the inception of this plan, because of the difficulty of satisfying each company to be merged that it would be considerably treated in the allotments in the central company. Moreover, it would represent an aggregation of capital the colossal magnitude of which might provoke hostility at the outset. "Yet it is here presented as a practicable plan for the conservative operation of properties whose traffic affairs are now like a majestic ship afloat on a tempestuous sea, without rudder or compass, and with the sky overcast by day and by night."

Mr. Midgley's preference is for a wholly different plan. He points out that while the decision in the Joint Traffic case prohibits railroads from agreeing to maintain established rates of fare and freight, it does not estop any of them from adopting the same tariff that a competitor may announce. A railroad is at liberty, under its charter, to publish such tolls as it may elect, and can enforce the same, subject only to the proviso that they shall be reasonable and not excessive or unduly preferential; hence it would not contravene the Joint Traffic decision were the charges thus stated to be identical with those promulgated by a rival company. The inhibition lies against associations of common carriers agreeing to maintain certain fixed rates, because such procedure would tend to stifle competition. Allusion is made to Justice Peckham's statement that the good sense of the managers must be relied on to avert unseemly strife, a statement which Mr. Midgley thinks anticipates the point that the chartered right to prescribe reasonable rates, determined in the manner here indicated, necessarily involves the authority to require their strict observance. Consequently he argues it would be entirely competent for the highest traffic officer of a given road to insist upon strict conformity by his subordinates, with the company's published charges; and the fact that, in so doing, he had duplicated the prices of a competitor or of a number of rivals that were in positions to share the traffic, would not in the slightest degree invalidate the act.

In effect this is the plan the carriers have adopted the present year, and great success has attended the effort, for not in years have rates been so closely adhered to as they have since the 1st of January. But it will be admitted that the scheme has been tried under very favorable conditions. Business has been active, the crop movement large and general traffic heavy, thus providing exceptional employment for the facilities of the roads. Suppose now the conditions reversed—suppose the crop movement contracting and general business shrinking, with not enough traffic to go around; resulting in a general scramble among the roads for what little there may be. That is the time when the true test will come. How would Mr. Midgley provide for this contingency? He evidently foresees such a time, for he makes the observation that the railroads are largely to blame for the hapless condition in which the law has left them. If the outcome should be, he remarks, the advent of an order of men who mean precisely what they say, who will intelligently instruct and who will insure that they are literally obeyed, then what has been viewed as a disaster may not prove altogether so.

He would have the owners of the properties realize their predicament and the urgent necessity for reform. He urges the election of directors who will co-operate with leading bankers of acknowledged reputation and courage. "A few such firms would be sufficient to control wisely the operations of all companies comprised in Trunk Line and Central Traffic territory, with similar machinery for the direction of affairs west of Chicago and St. Louis." "The method would be for the bankers in question to acquire, by purchase, deposit, or acting as trustees, sufficient securities of the companies described, to give them a controlling voice in their management. Each firm could delegate one of its members to devote the time necessary to discharge properly the duties confided to the board; and the latter could employ, as secretaries or agents, traffic experts who could intelligently and promptly report on all questions as they arose. Through those officers' advices could be communicated to the executives of each road, conformity with which would avert demoralization, insure economy in operations, confer benefits upon the community, accord fair compensation to employes, and assurance to thousands of patient and dependent ones, whose savings would thereby be protected. Under the circumstances mentioned, the wishes of the board referred to would have the force of law; and no railroad officer would be disposed to disregard them."

This is a plausible scheme, in line with somewhat analogous suggestions that have at various times been made by others in the past, and unless Congress provides proper remedial legislation, it or some other similar plan will eventually have to be resorted to. If those who believe in seeing competition stimulated to the point of destruction should urge that such an arrangement would provide a rigid and inflexible system of rates, then the reply is that no other result could follow even in the case of government ownership. Mr. Midgley's remarks on this aspect of the case are pertinent and to the point. In the event that the Government had complete control of the properties by purchase, is it to be presumed, he asks, that the Federal authorities would permit parallel lines to compete with each other regardless of cost or reason, or would those intrusted with their management be required to maintain strictly the tariffs which the Government would prescribe? Obviously, there would be no variation from the published schedules, under penalty of removal or worse punishment. "Does it then comport with the dignity of a great and conquering nation," he asks, "to do what no other country does, whether republic, limited monarchy, or despotism; namely, hamper and fetter the railroad corporations with unjust restrictions, withhold from them liberty of co-operation, deny them the right to agree and maintain rates which shall be reasonable, and at the same time decline to assume the responsibilities that must necessarily attach to ownership?"

RAILROAD GROSS AND NET EARNINGS.

Our compilation of the gross and net earnings of United States railroads for the month of April reveals no new feature. It shows continued favorable results. In brief, the statement records $3,771,673 increase (5.46 per cent) in the gross receipts, and $1,521,613 increase, or 7.73 per cent, in the net earnings. There were in April the present year quite a number of adverse influences and conditions. There had been in March some contraction in the grain movement; in April, however, this shrinkage reached large proportions. In addition the month had one less business day than the same month last year, April 1899 having contained five Sundays against only four in April, 1898. Furthermore, navigation on the Great Lakes opened last year in April, whereas the present year it was delayed until the 1st of May. Had navigation been open, the trunk lines running from Lake Erie and Lake Ontario to tidewater would undoubtedly have received a considerable tonnage in grain from the lakes for transportation to the seaboard. This they missed. In the case of roads like the Northern Pacific and Oregon Navigation, there was a loss on the Alaskan business which last year was so heavy by reason of the Klondike gold excitement; these roads, too, had a diminished grain tonnage on their lines to the Pacific Northwest. In Colorado the snow blockade on the Colorado Midland was not raised until April 14.

As in previous months we are comparing with very heavy earnings a year ago. This is a feature which adds additional significance to the gains now reported. In that month of last year the gain reached roughly 8½ million dollars or 14.36 per cent in the gross, and three million dollars or 18.68 per cent in the net. The improvement the present year follows this very noteworthy improvement in 1898. In fact the April results were fairly satisfactory in the years immediately preceding too. Here is the record.

In April of last year there were few decreases of any kind among the separate roads, and not any, either in gross or net, for as much as $30,000. This year we have six decreases for over $30,000 in the gross and ten in the net, nearly all of which are explained by what has been said above. Against this limited number of decreases the increases are as heretofore very numerous. A full list of them in our usual form is annexed.

The generally favorable character of the results is perhaps best indicated when the roads are arranged in groups. Last year every group outside the Mexican had recorded an increase in the gross, and all but the Anthracite group an increase in the net. In the same way this year every group shows an increase in gross, and barring only the Northwestern group every group also has an increase in the net. The ratios in the latter case are in some instances very heavy.

* Sales at N. Y. Stock Exchange.

—The stockholders of the National Bank of North America almost unanimously voted on Wednesday in favor of the proposition of the directors to increase the par of the stock from $70 to $100. This will be done by the declaration of a cash dividend, as we stated two weeks ago, of $30 per share out of the undivided profits, thereby increasing the capital from $700,000 to $1,000,000. After this dividend has been made the surplus of the bank will be $500,000.

—The Union Trust Company of Newark, N. J., was incorporated on Wednesday in that city with a capital of $1,000,000. Among the incorporators are well-known bankers and men of prominence in this city, including August Belmont, John L. Waterbury, George W. Young, Ernest B. Schley, William N. Coier, Joseph C. Hendrix and George F. Baker. It is also reported that William C. Whitney, A. J. Cassatt, Clement A. Griscom, Henry W. Cannon and other gentlemen connected with important life insurance, street railroad and manufacturing interests in this city are to be identified with the company. The announcement of the incorporation attracted attention because of the fact that it was incorporated under New Jersey laws and also because so many New York capitalists were among the projectors of the scheme.

—A meeting of Connecticut bankers was held at Hartford June 14 for the purpose of effecting a permanent State organization. Mr. Charles H. Trowbridge, of New Haven, presided, and a constitution and by-laws were adopted. It is provided therein that the association shall be known as the Connecticut Bankers' Association. The annual membership fee is to be $10. All banks organized under the national law or under the State laws are eligible to membership. The officers elected were Charles H. Trowbridge of New Haven, president; W. E. Seeley of Bridgeport, vice-president; Robert E. Foote of New Haven, Secretary, and George H. Burt of Hartford, Treasurer. Resolutions were adopted recommending the continuance of the present method of collecting checks, with some modifications chiefly providing for more frequent remittances. It was resolved as the sense of the Association that no money charge shall be made to the regular customers of any Connecticut bank for the collection of checks drawn upon such bank. A committee was appointed to confer with the committee of the New York Clearing House to see what was needed to be done to make Connecticut a par point.

—The eighth annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' Association was held at Warm Springs, Ga., June 9. There were over three hundred delegates present and nearly every bank in the State was represented. Reports were read showing that the banking interests of the State are in an excellent condition and that the financial situation is full of promise. Mr. W. G. Cann, the President, in his opening address, remarked that the recent action of the New York Clearing House imposing a charge of  $\frac{1}{4}$  of 1 per cent on all items deposited with the New York banks for collection in the State of Georgia was entirely too severe as to the rate, and he recommended a protest from the association. He severely criticized the efforts of the Georgia Legislature to impose double taxes on the banks, and deplored the fact that the Federal Government had aided, in its war-tax levy, in "piling burdens on the bankers." Among the interesting papers read was one by B. S. Walker of Monroe on "A cotton mill as an adjunct to a country bank;" a paper by William B. Slade of Columbus on "The Bankruptcy Law; its bearing on banks." The officers elected were: J. G. Rhea, President; P. E. May, First Vice-President; E. H. Thornton, Second Vice-President; B. W. Hunt, Third Vice-President; S. W. Peek, Fourth Vice-President; S. O. Brown, Fifth Vice-President; L. P. Hillyer, Secretary, and G. H. Plant, Treasurer. A vote of thanks was unanimously given to W. G. Cann of Savannah, the retiring President.

—The liquidating committee of the Tradesmen's National Bank, in voluntary liquidation, announces a dividend to stockholders of 10 per cent, or $75,000, payable June 19. This is the first dividend to stockholders. The claims of the depositors were paid in full within fifty-eight days after the suspension of the bank, on October 3.

—The directors of the Globe National bank of Providence, R. I., capital $300,000, surplus and undivided profits $112,964, have recommended to the stockholders the voluntary liquidation of the bank and the division of the assets. The reason assigned by the directors is the "unprofitable condition attendant upon national banking in the community." Marsden J. Perry, President of the bank, says that owners of more than three-fourths of the stock approve the plan. Therefore it will probably be carried into execution. To this condition of the banking business in Providence is also doubtless due the unanimous decision last week of the stockholders of the American National Bank of that city to reduce its capital from $1,487,650 to $1,000,000, leaving the surplus and undivided profits at $60,000 and paying stockholders 30 per cent of the par value of the stock reduced. There are twenty-six banks in Providence, all except one being national, and the aggregate capital is $14,932,800, while the deposits are but little more than $20,000,000. There are also four trust companies in Providence, having an aggregate capital of $2,381,500 and deposits of about $27,000,000. There would seem, therefore, to be an over-supply of banking facilities in that city.

—Mr. A. B. Hepburn, Vice-President of the Chase National Bank, last Saturday returned from a visit of nearly three months to Europe, much improved in health. Mr. Hepburn spent some time on the Continent, met and conferred with prominent capitalists and with financial writers and others whom he found in close touch with the situation. He also had excellent opportunities for personal observation and investigation. He says that the unfriendly feeling displayed by Germany and the Germans during the Hispano-American War, especially in the Philippines, is explained by the statement that the Germans feared that our acquisition of Cuba and of the Philippines would result in the development of the cane sugar industry to such an extent as to be extremely prejudicial to the beet sugar industry of Germany.

—It is announced that Mr. James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad Company, and Mr. F. Weyerhaeuser, the lumber king of the Northwest and president of the Mississippi Logging Co., have acquired an interest in the First National Bank of Duluth, Minn., of which Mr. A. L. Ordean is President. The institution has a capital of $500,000, surplus and undivided profits of $283,674, and deposits of $2,347,270, and it is a conservatively managed and exceptionally strong bank. Among the directors of the institution are Mr. Ammi W. Wright, who is rated at about $7,000,000, and Mr. John H. Barker, President of the Haskell-Barker Car Co. of Michigan City, also a multi-millionaire. Mr. James H. Hill, son of President James J. Hill, and Vice-President of the Eastern Minnesota Railroad Co., will represent his father on the board of directors of the bank. The prosperity and the high standing of the institution are largely due to the efforts of the President, Mr. Ordean, aided by men of enormous wealth and large business interests, who have identified themselves with the bank, and the recent accessions, above noted, cannot fail greatly to increase the importance of the institution.

—The National Bank of Commerce of Philadelphia, capital $350,000, and surplus $91,239, has passed under control of the Merchants' National Bank of that city, capital $600,000 and surplus $323,764, through purchase of stock by the President and others interested in the last-named institution. The Commerce is an old bank, having been originally organized in 1844, and it has been conservatively managed, but, as indicated by the moderate line of deposits, $576,000, the business has become quite small, and practical merger with a larger bank seemed advisable. The deposits of the Merchants are about $10,375,000, and the president is F. W. Ayer. The elder Mr. Brown, of Brown Bros. & Co., of this city, was one of the largest stockholders of the Commerce, and this stock was recently sold to the president of the Merchants. Though in some measure instrumental in negotiating the sale of the controlling interest in the stock of the Commerce to the Merchants, Messrs. Brown Bros. & Co. disclaim acting as a syndicate in the matter. The price paid for the stock of the Commerce was about $55 per share; the par value is $50.

—Mr. Richard Delafield, Vice-President of the National Park Bank, has been elected Vice-President of the Colonial Trust Company, in place of the late Ex-Gov. Roswell P. Flower, and Mr. Cord Meyer has been elected an additional Vice-President of the Company. Both Messrs. Delafield and Meyer were previously on the Board of Directors. The Colonial Trust Company is located in the St. Paul building, Broadway corner of Ann street. It has a capital and surplus of $1,500,000, and among its directors are H. O. Havemeyer, President American Sugar Refining Co.; Wm. T. Wardwell, Treasurer Standard Oil Co.; Percival Kuhne, of Knauth, Nachod & Kuhne; Frank Curtiss, President Sixth Avenue Railroad Co.; Henry N. Whitney, of Kisaam, Whitney & Co., and W. Seward Webb, President Wagner Palace Car Co.

—The eighth convention of Group Five of the New York State Bankers' Association was held in Schenectady last week. The business session was brief and the discussion was chiefly on the action of the New York City banks in the matter of the collection of checks. Mr. Henry W. Darling, Treasurer of the General Electric Co., and formerly a bank President, spoke upon the relations of the manufacturers to the banks. President Raymond, of Union College, referred in his remarks to the relation of the college to industry and manufacture. The Chairman of the Group is Mr. W. G. Schermerhorn and the Secretary is Mr. George R. Willson.

—The third annual convention of the North Carolina Bankers' Association was held in Raleigh, N. C., last week. It was well attended, over thirty members of the association, representing nearly as many banks, being present. The membership is annually increasing, and it now embraces 37 of the 49 State banks, 23 of the 29 National banks and 11 of the 23 private banks and collection agencies in the State. The association succeeded during the year in procuring the passage by the State Legislature of the important measure known as the "Uniform Negotiable Instrument Law," which was circulated throughout the State. During the sessions the principal addresses were made by Col. J. S. Carr, president of the First National Bank of Durham; W. A. Blair, president of the People's National Bank of Winston, and the president of the association, and Col. W. H. S. Burgwyn, National Bank Examiner. The latter said that in his territory, which extends from Raleigh to New Orleans, he found no banks that kept their books in a more systematic and correct manner than do those of North Carolina. Among the papers read before the convention was one by Col. J. W. Hinsdale, of Raleigh, on the Bankruptcy Act, suggesting important amendments. A barbacue was given to the members of the convention by Mr. Charles H. Beliro, President of the National Bank of Raleigh. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: Joseph G. Brown, President of the Citizens' National Bank, Raleigh, President; J. P. Sawyer, President Battery Park Bank, Raleigh, First Vice-President; G. W. Montessile, President Bank of Lexington, Second Vice-President; W. T. Old, Cashier Bank of Elizabeth City; Third Vice-President, and John M. Miller, Jr., Cashier Merchants' and Farmers' Bank, Charlotte, Secretary and Treasurer.

Monetary Commercial English News

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, June 3, 1899.

Business has been very restricted upon the Stock Exchange this week, partly because the last settlement of the month began on Saturday last, and ended only on Wednesday evening, and partly because the account was found to be much larger than had been anticipated. There was no difficulty in arranging it. But the amount of money that had to be borrowed was considerable. And as pay-day fell on the last day of the month, a day when the joint-stock banks make up their monthly balance sheets, and when large payments always fall due, money was found to be scarce and dear. Extensive amounts had to be borrowed from the Bank of England. The closing of the New York Stock Exchange for two days, likewise had its effect. For, although the public is keeping aloof from the American market, and even professional operators are not doing as much as a little while ago, yet the total closure of the New York Stock Exchange abridged business here. Furthermore, the most popular of English races—the summer Epsom Races—began on Tuesday morning, and only ended last evening. The weather has been most beautiful, and the number of persons who have taken the holiday has been very large.

Over and above all this, there has been a renewal of the uneasy feeling respecting Russian intentions in China. When Lord Salisbury, the other day, entered into the agreement with Russia, it was hoped that for a while, at all events, that country would adopt a peaceful attitude, and that all anxieties respecting China would be set aside. And the hope was entertained all the more strongly because it was notorious that Russia is in want of money, and that she is unable to borrow either in Paris or Berlin, and is desirous of placing a loan here in London. But the Russian Government seems to be pursuing a course in China which is not quite consistent with the late agreement. At all events, her policy is stirring up a good deal of bitter feeling amongst the other nationalities in China, and is keeping alive the uncertainty respecting peace that has existed so long.

Lastly, business has been held in check by the negotiations that were opened on Wednesday between Sir Alfred Milner, the High Commissioner for South Africa, and President Kruger, of the Transvaal. Sir Alfred Milner is a man of very great ability, judgment and tact. He would, of course, miss no opportunity to meet President Kruger and to place before him courteously but firmly the views of the British Government. But it is thought that President Kruger himself would not have gone to Bloemfontein unless he was prepared to make very considerable concessions. In the hope that all this will turn out true markets are steady with a hopeful tone. But there is very little business doing. In the American department there has been a good deal of selling from New York, but principally of copper shares, especially Anacondas. In other departments there has been very little doing.

The attention of the city has been taken up very largely with the negotiations for the Russian and the Japanese loans. It has been known for a considerable time that M. Witte, the Russian Finance Minister, desires to come to a thoroughly friendly understanding with this country in order to attract British capital on a large scale into Russia. He has not, however, been able to influence the foreign policy of the Russian Government sufficiently to do that; and he found some time ago that it was impossible to borrow here a large amount. It is said that he has since tried both in Paris and Berlin, but without effect. About a fortnight or three weeks ago negotiations were begun here and in Holland for a small railway loan of a little under three millions sterling. The great financial houses refused to entertain the proposals. But ultimately the negotiations have been successful. Messrs. Schröder here and Messrs. Lippmann, Rosenthal & Co., of Amsterdam, bring it out some time next week. It is to bear 4% interest; and there is to be a sinking fund of 1/4%. The interest and sinking fund are guaranteed by the Russian Government. The general impression is that the British subscriptions will be small. But nobody doubts that the Dutch subscription will be large enough here and in Amsterdam to cover the loan.

Still more interest has been excited by the Japanese loan for ten millions sterling, bearing 4% interest and brought out at the issue price of 90. The loan is to be introduced early next week by the Yokohama Specie Bank, Paris Bank, Ltd., the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank, and the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China. The money is required for public works and the founding of steel works. The four banks named form a powerful combination, and they have succeeded in getting the whole amount underwritten—indeed two millions sterling out of the ten have been taken outright—so that the public is asked to subscribe only for eight millions sterling. The general impression in the city is that the Japanese Government has made a great mistake in asking for so large a sum as ten millions sterling at one time. It is thought that it would have done much more wisely if it had contented itself with three or four millions sterling. Furthermore, the impression is that the rate of interest is hardly high enough, and that Japan ought to have been satisfied if it could have placed the loan at 5%. As a matter of fact the public debt of Japan is small, under forty-two millions sterling, and the assets of the Japanese Government are large. According to the Japanese Legation here there are public works of various kinds of the estimated value of thirty millions sterling, and there are lands belonging to the State of the estimated value of eighty-two millions sterling. If therefore Japan keeps out of war there is little reasonable doubt that she will be able to fulfil all her engagements. The only thing that would really endanger the loan is if she were to involve herself in a great war. Money, as already said, has been in very strong demand this week. But many people think that rates will ease off now. It is to be borne in mind, however, that the Japanese and Russian loans together amount to thirteen millions sterling, and will give the two governments that have negotiated them considerable command over the London market. Mexico, moreover, is negotiating a conversion loan. Argentina is very anxious to borrow six millions sterling. The Colonies will borrow,

India will borrow, and Russia will borrow again if she has a chance. Before very long, therefore, other States will have a very considerable influence over this market. According to all appearances at present there will be as great a stringency in Germany in the autumn as there was last year. And it is reasonable to suppose that with the wonderful activity in trade throughout the United States when the crops are being moved money will be in very strong demand. Therefore the more careful thinkers are of opinion that in the autumn we shall see high rates in London. But it is quite probable that in the meantime rates here may fall away. Neither the Russian nor the Japanese Government is likely to do anything that would disturb our money market. They have always been careful in that respect, and we are entering now upon the holiday season of the year.

Meantime the Indian money market continues fairly steady; and the Indian Council has sold its drafts somewhat better than last week. Therefore it has again increased the amount it will offer for tender next Wednesday from thirty to forty lacs. On Wednesday last it offered for tender only thirty lacs, and the applications were almost 452 lacs. The whole amount offered was disposed of at prices ranging from 1s. 3 1/2-16d per rupee for telegraphic transfers to 1s. 3 3/4-32d. per rupee for bills.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of June 1:

Gold.—In spite of large arrivals from South Africa, the Bank of England has received no bar gold this week, the Continental demand just being sufficient to absorb it all. On balance the Bank has lost £7,000 in sovereigns. Arrivals: South Africa, £267,000. Shipments: India, £225,000.

Silver.—There has been a very steady market in silver, the price remaining at 28 1/2d. until to-day, when the market closes with a weak tone at 28d. India has been the only buyer of importance, and with America selling sparingly there have been no fluctuations. Arrivals: New York, £201,000; Chili, £17,000. Total, £218,000. Shipments: Bombay, £100,000.

Mexican Dollars.—There is still no business to report in dollars and the market remains absolutely nominal at 27 1/2d. nearest.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1899.—3 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—It is not easy to find a definite cause for the wide fluctuations noted in the stock market this week. There have been no new developments of importance and therefore the general situation remains practically unchanged. Reports of crop prospects are regarded with increasing interest and are freely quoted as a basis for higher or lower prices at the Stock Exchange, but these are of about the same tenor as those of last week.

The character of the bond market seems to be quite separate and distinct from the market for stocks, and while the latter was erratic, bonds were generally firm, and the demand fairly good. The aggregate amount of bonds of various kinds which has been absorbed by investors in this market during recent months is enormous, and still prices are tending upwards, several issues having this week reached the highest quotation yet recorded for them.

Gold exports have continued this week. The shipments to Europe, including $1,350,000 engaged for to-morrow, amount to $3,250,000, and $1,000,000 French coin has been sent to Cuba. This makes a total of $3,750,000 within two weeks notwithstanding the fact that the Government trade statement for May shows large exports of general merchandise.

Moreover, the dissatisfaction which exists among the employees in some mining districts and street railway centres, and the progress of affairs in the Philippines, is not altogether encouraging.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 2 to 3 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 2 to 3 per cent. Prime commercial paper quoted 3 to 3½ per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £637,549, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 41.44, against 40.35 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 6,875,000 francs in gold and a decrease of 1,125,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of June 10 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $1,415,000, and a surplus over the required reserve of $39,323,100, against $42,710,600 the previous week.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $6,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 98.

The market for railway bonds has been steady to firm on a daily average volume of business somewhat above $2,500,000 par value. The paucity of high-grade offerings continues to be noticeable and a large proportion of the business was in issues which are regarded as likely to be benefited by reorganization developments and by increased earnings, some of which show new high quotations. Prominent among the latter are Wabash 2d 5s, Wisconsin Central trust receipts and new 4s, when issued, Illinois Central, Louisville division 3½s, Reading, Western New York & Penn. gen. 3-4s and New York Susquehanna & Western general mortgage 5s. Special activity is noted in Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Colorado & Southern, Norfolk & Western, Northern Pacific, Reading, St. Louis Southwestern, Wabash and Wisconsin Central bonds.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—On a volume of business which steadily diminished day by day from over 600,000 shares on Monday to 316,000 shares to-day, the stock market has been irregular and unsteady, as is often the case when professional operators are chiefly responsible for its course. Monday's market was broad and strong as well as active on commission house buying. The advance in prices caused free sales to realize profits, which in turn checked the upward movement. Since Monday the market has been for the most part subject to the varying results of speculative manipulation in which American Sugar Refining was the leading feature. Pittsburg Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis advanced 6½ points and held a large part of the gain. Wisconsin Central was also a strong feature, the new securities "when issued" being in demand.

The anthracite coal stocks showed less inclination to react than the general list, and were exceptionally strong to-day. Metropolitan Street Railway covered a range of 10 points, closing with a net gain of 2½ points.

The miscellaneous list has been erratic with widely different results, for the details of which our readers are referred to the subjoined table of daily highest and lowest quotations.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every IRAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The following shows the gross and net earnings to latest dates of all STEAM railroads furnishing monthly statements. The compilation includes every road from which we can get returns of this character and in that form is given once a month. Early returns are published from week to week, as soon as issued, but for the convenience of our readers all the roads making returns are brought together here in the week in which we publish our monthly article on net earnings—say on or about the 20th of the month.

The returns of the street railways we give by themselves under a separate head at the extreme end of these tabulations—see page 1177.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

3 Strike in May, 1899, only 10 cars operated from May 26 to the end of the month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—In the following we show both the gross and the net earnings to latest dates of all STREET railways from which we have been able to procure monthly returns. As in the case of the steam roads, the returns of the different roads are published by us each week as soon as received, and once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday of the month) we bring all the roads reporting together, as is done to-day.

a Net earnings here given are after deducting taxes.
b Net earnings here given are before deducting taxes.

Interest Charges and Surplus.—The following STREET railways, in addition to their gross and net earnings given in the foregoing, also report charges for interest, &c., with the surplus or deficit above or below those charges.

Southern Cotton Oil Company.

(Report for the year ending April 30, 1899.)

President Henry C. Butcher says in substance:

The annual report shows gratifying results for the year's work. The character of the raw material has been of the worst in many seasons, and but for the excellent facilities afforded by the plant it would have been impossible to handle this seed so as to make a satisfactory marketable product. As it is, the highest market prices have been obtained for your goods. The company has built a new mill at Newport, Ark., and has bought seventy tank cars. Both of these items have been charged to permanent investment. There has also been a large amount of new property acquired in the extension and improvement of the plant, which has been charged to expense account, amounting to $49,392.

The net profits for the year have been arrived at after deducting the above amount, $49,392, as well as $27,213 for depreciation. The cost of all the repairs and replacements, and, of course, all fixed charges and the current expenses of your business have been charged to profit and loss. The financial condition of the company speaks for itself. Its credit could not be higher; its earning capacity is of the best, and, as usual, the sole ownership vests in the stock.

The net profits, dividends and balance sheet have been:

Alton (Ill.) Gas & Electric Light Co.—Foreclosure.—On June 5, the Alton City Court, in the consolidated case of the three sets of bonds, ordered this property to be sold under foreclosure on July 1. There is a judgment in favor of the American Loan & Trust Co. for $69,000.

Alton (Ill.), Railway, Gas & Electric Co.—Incorporated.—This company has been organized with authorized capital, $250,000, to operate street railways in Madison and St. Clair Counties, Ill., and to furnish gas and electricity for heat, light and power. Incorporators, Oliver S. Stowell, Henry S. Baker, George M. Ryrie. The company is presumably successor of the Alton Railway & Illuminating Co., etc.—V. 68, p. 615.

American Bell Telephone Co.—American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Pending Transfer.—The American Bell Telephone Co., it is reported, is transferring its holdings in the subsidiary companies to the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the "long distance company" organized under the law of New York State. The latter company, controlled by the American Bell Telephone Co., recently increased its authorized capital stock from $25,000,000 to $75,000,000 to prepare for the transfer. The American Bell Telephone Co. has outstanding $25,886,300 of capital stock.—V. 68, p. 616, 128.

American Malting Co.—Company's Status.—The New York "Sun" of the 13th inst. quotes "An unofficial yet approximately correct statement", as reporting that the company has no mortgage indebtedness except about $80,000 which cannot be discharged until it matures. The floating debt, it is stated, consists entirely of obligations for raw material, and is steadily being reduced as the manufactured product is delivered and paid for by consumers. Since Jan. 1, 1899, the company has acquired about $3,000,000 worth of property, including the large Neidlinger plant in this city and a number of smaller plants throughout this State, and the thirty-four elevators owned and a number of others operated under contract by the O'Neill Grain Co. of Chicago. The company has thereby materially reduced competition in this State and in New England, and materially lessened the cost of buying and storing barley. To effect these purchases and for betterments there have been used several hundred thousand dollars of net earnings, and there has been issued $750,000 common stock and $1,940,000 preferred stock. Within a few months economies have been effected to the extent of $100,000. Orders and deliveries are constantly running ahead of those of a year ago, and May sales were more than twice as large as last year. The amount of common stock now outstanding is $14,500,000 and preferred $14,440,000. The company has just declared the seventh quarterly dividend at the rate of 7 per cent per annum upon its preferred stock, and, it is understood, earned the entire dividend upon that stock for the current year during the first five months.—V. 68, p. 1130.

American Market Co.—Bonds Offered.—This company, whose capital stock is $600,000, proposes to establish on Eight Avenue, between Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Streets, New York City, a market containing 340 stalls for the sale of meat, fish, produce, groceries, flowers, etc. The company's $150,000 of 80-year 6 per cent first mortgage gold bonds of $500 each, United States Mortgage & Trust Co., New York, Trustee, sinking fund $5,000 yearly, are offered at par and accrued interest by Haight & Freese.

American Pneumatic Service Co.—Lamson Consolidated Store Service Co.—Plans.—The statements in last week's item are officially confirmed. A circular adds:

The use of the pneumatic tube has rapidly increased during the last few years, and now it is a recognized necessity in all large stores and buildings. Up to the present time the pneumatic service of the company has been confined to small tubes. The use of the tube in streets for the carrying of mail, messages and parcels has not been included in our business, and this latter use presents an opportunity for the making of large profits. Such use is common in all the large cities of Europe. In London there are about thirty miles of tubes in which thirty-five million messages are carried annually. We find also a wide field for pneumatic service in factories throughout the country. Under the patents which will be owned and controlled by the American Pneumatic Service Co. there is a large field for a profitable enterprise, and it seems desirable that the Lamson Consolidated Store Service Co. should obtain the benefit of this business; therefore your directors have made arrangements to that end.

Treasurer Temple, of the Lamson Consolidated Store Service Co., says:

Lamson stockholders are responding very rapidly to the plan, and are subscribing liberally to the new stock. The Pneumatic Company is authorized to issue $5,000,000 preferred stock, par $50, or 100,000 shares. Of this number Lamson stockholders will receive over 65,600 shares, and of the balance about 20,000 shares are to be sold for cash, yielding about $1,000,000. Of the $10,000,000 common stock (200,000 shares) only one-half is to be issued, the rest remaining in the treasury for use as needed. There is no question, therefore, of the actual control by the Lamson stockholders of the new company. While the preferred stock is not cumulative as to dividends, it will have preference as to assets and a first lien upon them in case of liquidation.

The plan places us in possession of companies which might become threatening to our inside tube business, and at the same time puts us in a position to obtain the business of construction of the tube in streets and elsewhere, without any limit as to the size of the tube. The proposed combination will obtain a virtual monopoly of the tube service business of the country. There will also be acquired by this plan patents covering these pneumatic systems for England, France and Germany. In the large cities of Europe there is not at present any tube of large size in use, that is, not exceeding a diameter of 2½ inches.

The original plan was to begin the payment of dividends by the new company in July, but as more time has been taken in arranging details than was anticipated, the quarterly dividends on preferred stock of the new company will be begun in October at the annual rate of $3 per share.

The directors of the Lamson Consolidated Store Service Co., on Saturday last, declared the usual semi-annual dividend of $1 per share, payable July 1, to stockholders of record June 20, including depositing stockholders.—V. 68, p. 1180.

American Tobacco Co.—Control Acquired.—The Gradle & Stotz Tobacco Co., of Chicago, one of the oldest tobacco concerns in the city, has been acquired by, or in the interest of, the American Tobacco Co. The firm was organized in 1868 and incorporated in 1898 with a capital stock paid up of $150,000.—V. 68, p. 925.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Bonds of Large Denominations.—The company now issues registered bonds, both general mortgage and adjustment, in $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 pieces.—V. 68, p. 1181.

Atlanta Railway & Power Co.—Name of Consolidated Company.—The Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Co. has applied to the Superior Court of Georgia to have its name changed to the Atlanta Railway & Power Co. preparatory to merging the Atlanta Ry. The financial management of the two properties has been under one control for several weeks.—V. 68, p. 774.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—New Preferred Stock Ready.—Holders of interim certificates, dated Dec. 1, 1898, for Baltimore & Ohio preferred stock, are notified that they can change the same for Baltimore & Ohio preferred stock (voting trust certificates) on and after Monday, June 19, 1899, at office of Speyer & Co., No. 30 Broad street.

Application to List.—Application has been made to the New York Stock Exchange to list $60,799,000 prior lien 3½ per cent bonds, $49,975,000 first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, $35,000,000 preferred stock, and $35,000,000 common stock voting certificates.—V. 68, p. 1074.

Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern RR.—Sale July 10.—The foreclosure sale is advertised for July 10 at Cincinnati.—V. 68, p. 1074.

Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware.—New England Gas & Coke Co.—Official Statement.—President J. Edward Addicks of the Bay State Gas Co. has made the following statement as to the present state of affairs:

The Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware owns the entire capital stock of the Boston, Roxbury, South Boston & Bay State of Massachusetts gas companies, with the exception of a few shares owned by J. Edward Addicks and other friendly interests. These stocks have been deposited to secure $9,000,000 first series and $3,000,000 second series Boston United Gas bonds. Up to recently, when the control of these companies was forcibly taken possession of by persons who had no rights in them, they were free from debt with assets worth $25,000,000, and were earning more than all charges. It is the opinion of competent experts that the equity in the above named companies owned by this company are worth from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. During the past year the assets of said companies have been jeopardized and their earnings have been diverted until there is a large deficit, and the interest due July 1 on the first and second series United Gas bonds is to be defaulted. Your directors, fearing the result of the illegal efforts that were being made by those who have taken forcible possession of said companies, have been endeavoring by the sale of additional stock and assets to place your company in a position to secure its property and rights to the end that it, the Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware, is now free from debt and has on hand a large amount of cash and other quick assets and will be prepared to pay off the $12,000,000 first and second series Boston United Gas bonds and thereby obtain absolute and complete possession of all property and assets and the control and management of the four old Boston Gas companies, and to prosecute to a successful termination suits for large damages against the Dominion Coal Co., the New England Gas & Coke Co., and others. Your directors are of the opinion that the result of these suits will be the payment in full of the Boston United Gas bonds, first and second series, the acquisition of the sole ownership with perfect title to the companies which can secure and hold more than three-fourths of the entire gas lighting business of Boston, and that after these results have been secured your company will be in receipt of annual revenue largely in excess of all fixed charges.

President H. M. Whitney says: "The Dominion Coal Co. has never had a transaction of any kind with any of the companies in the Bay State outfit, and has never had any of its cash or other assets; neither has the New England Gas & Coke Co." Thomas W. Lawson is quoted as saying that he does not see how the holders of first and second gas bonds can suffer, whatever the outcome of the dispute between the opposing interests.—V. 68, p. 1133, 523.

Boston Breweries Co.—Consolidation Plan Fails.—Col. Harrison W. Hugguley, who was to have become President of the company admits the failure of the proposed consolidation, and says: "The promoters have not lived up to their agreements, and the Boston men say that they must have something more substantial than in the past to make them again enter the contemplated combination."—V. 68, p. 1074.

Boston Woven Hose & Rubber Co.—Reorganized.—The company, whose plant is at Cambridgeport, Mass., has been reorganized with a capital of $1,200,000, of which $750,000 is 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock. The directors are:

W. A. Bullard, President First National Bank, Cambridge, Mass.; J. Q. Bennett, President Mercantile Trust Co., Boston, Mass.; J. N. Smith, director Security Safe Deposit & Trust Co., Lynn; B. F. Spinnney, President National Security Bank, Lynn; and H. B. Sprague, President Central National Bank, Lynn.

The property as appraised on May 17, 1899 showed a total value of $1,803,200, exclusive of trade marks, patents, etc., but including:

Real estate and buildings, $260,000; machinery and tools, $300,000; patents, trade marks and processes, $100,000; salable merchandise on hand at factory, cost, $370,000; cash accounts and notes receivable, cash value, $273,200.

The product consists mainly of rubber, cotton and linen hose for various purposes, and also of rubber belting and packing, which have always had a high reputation. On the basis of present sales, it is estimated that the business for the full year ending Dec. 31, 1899, will be about $900,000 and net earnings approximately $112,000.—"Boston Financial News."

Bridgeton (N. J.) & Millville Traction Co.—Sold.—The company's entire capital stock, it is stated, has been purchased by a Philadelphia syndicate, which also purchased the Bridgeton electric light plant. It is reported that the American Railways Co. is behind the purchase.—V. 64, p. 837.

Brooklyn & Brighton Beach RR.—Foreclosure of Consolidated Mortgage.—The Brooklyn Trust Co., as trustee, under the consolidated mortgage of 1898, this week filed a bill of foreclosure. The property covered by the $500,000 first mortgage, Central Trust Co., as trustee, was sold under foreclosure of that mortgage for $711,000 on March 21, 1899, to Anson R. Flower and others representing the Flower syndicate in the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. Mr. Flower and the American Exchange National Bank are made parties to the present action, and Mr. Flower is temporarily enjoined from transferring his right purchased at the foreclosure sale. It is claimed that the consolidated mortgage is a first lien on the portion of the road built in 1896 to connect the surface line with the Kings County Elevated Ry.—V. 68, p. 669.

Brooklyn Heights RR.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the quarter and the nine months ending March 31, compare with those of the Brooklyn Heights and Brooklyn Queens Co. and Suburban for the corresponding periods in 1897 8 as follows:

3 months end- ing Mar. 31.	Gross earnings.	Net earnings.	Other income.	Interest, taxes, &c.	Balance sur. or def.
1899.....	1,292,801	403,502	25,863	536,893	def. 47,528
1898.....	1,220,833	414,534	71,640	570,743	def. 80,569
9 months—
1898-9.....	4,397,579	1,722,655	68,393	1,602,751	sur. 188,297
1897-8.....	3,943,365	1,545,758	199,443	1,706,309	sur. 38,892

Loans and bills payable, $175,000, against $100,000 on June 30.—V. 68, p. 523, 1131.

Canadian Pacific Ry.—New President.—The board of directors on Monday accepted the resignation of Sir William C. Van Horne as President, and re-elected him as Chairman of the board of directors. They also elected Vice President T. G. Shaughnessy to be President of the company.—V. 68, p. 1131.

Centralia & Chester RR. Foreclosure.—A decree of sale of this road was filed in the United States Circuit Court at Springfield, Ill., on June 2, the property to be sold by the master in chancery, Stewart Brown, after forty days' advertising, and the proceeds applied as follows:

(1) To the payment of the costs in the case, amounting to about $20,000; (2) to the payment of the floating indebtedness of the receiver, amounting to about $30,000, which amount includes about $14,000 of taxes, and a similar amount of receiver's certificates issued for labor and materials furnished during the past year; (3) to the payment of the four issues of receiver's certificates held by the Equitable Trust Co., of Chicago, the St. Charles Car Co., of St. Charles, Mo., and the Pittsburg Locomotive Co., aggregating about $495,000.

This will make the "net" price of the road about $550,000, or $5,500 per mile. The case has been appealed by the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.—V. 68, p. 771.

Chicago Edison Co.—Increase of Stock.—At the annual meeting on June 12, an increase of not exceeding $1,000,000 in the capital stock was authorized.—V. 68, p. 973.

Chicago Laundry Co.—Consolidation Fails.—The Chicago papers report that the proposed consolidation of seventy-five Chicago laundries under this title, with $7,000,000 capital stock, has failed owing to the inability of the promoters to place the stock offered to the public.—V. 68, p. 1075.

Chicago Packing & Provision.—Plan.—The plan of reorganization provides that each £10 ($48 70) share in the existing English company, common and preferred, shall pay $2 50 assessment, receiving therefor 5 per cent debentures, and shall be exchanged dollar for dollar for shares of the same class in the American company. The new preferred stock however, will be entitled to dividends at the rate of 6 per cent instead of 8 per cent per annum, and earnings above 6 per cent on both stocks are to be divided equally between the two classes. The new securities will be issued either by the Chicago Packing & Provision Company (the present Illinois corporation) or by a new company to be organized under the laws of New Jersey. The ultimate capitalization will be as follows:

Common stock, shares $100 each.....	$974,000
Six per cent cumulative preferred stock, shares $100 each.....	974,000
Five per cent debentures, due in 15 years, but redeemable at 102 at any interest period on 60 days' notice.....	100,000
Six per cent bonds of the Chicago Packing & Provision Co., due 1910.....	550,000

The plan will not become operative until more than half the $100,000 assessment has been subscribed. About 92 per cent of the capital stock is held in America; it is said a vote of three-quarters of each class of shares can wind up the company. Deposits of assenting securities must be made with the American Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago by July 1, 1899.—V. 68, p. 925.

Coast Railway Co. of Nova Scotia—Halifax & Yarmouth Ry.—Construction—Change of Name.—L. H. Wheaton, Chief Engineer, has favored us with the following:

The Coast railway is under contract from East Pubnico to Lockport, 64 miles, but active construction is only going on in the distance between East Pubnico and Barrington, 20 m., which we expect to have completed ready for operation the latter part of August next. Over 500 men are now at work; 31,000 ties have been delivered; 2,500 tons of rails have been bought from the Carnegie Steel Co., the first shipment of which left Baltimore on the 9th inst. The entire proposed road is from Yarmouth to Halifax, a distance of about 210 miles.

The name of the company will be changed to the Halifax & Yarmouth Railway Co., Limited, some time during the current year, but all the necessary arrangements are not yet completed. The road from Yarmouth to East Pubnico, 31 miles, has been in operation since August, 1897.—V. 63, p. 963.

Colorado Valley RR.—Sold.—A press despatch from Sweetwater, Tex., says this property was sold at public outcry on June 6, by J. D. Sloan, the receiver, and was bid in by the bondholders who expect to reorganize and push the road to an early completion.—V. 67, p. 842.

Columbia (S. C.) Electric Street Railway Light & Power Co.—Sold.—This property was sold on June 8, to a syndicate, represented by Mr. P. H. Gadsden of Charleston. The price paid was $257,000, and the stockholders, it is said, get about fifty cents on the dollar. Mr. Gadsden represents a syndicate of capitalists, most of whom are from Baltimore. They are interested in the Charleston Railway.

Consolidated Lake Superior Co.—Official Statement.—The Philadelphia Stock Exchange recently listed the company's $14,000,000 of common stock, par value of shares, $50, full paid, (registered with the Provident Life & Trust Co. of Philadelphia; transfer office, Room 902 Crozer Building, Philadelphia), and "$4,500,000 Provident Life & Trust Co. receipts $5 paid (issued for a like amount of preferred stock of the Consolidated Lake Superior Co. of the par value of $50 full paid); registered with The Trust Company of North America. Transfer office, the Provident Life & Trust Company of Philadelphia. An official statement follows:

Now, Therefore, it is hereby ordained and enacted as follows, by the Delaware & Hudson Company, acting at the regular annual meeting of its stockholders held in accordance with said notice:

First.—A sinking fund is hereby established to provide for the gradual retirement of stock and bonds of the company, contemporaneously with the mining and sale of its coal. At the end of each year there shall be credited to said sinking fund upon the books of the company a sum equal to not less than five cents for every ton of coal mined by the company during the year from lands owned or controlled by it, and any additional amount which the managers of the company may deem expedient. The sums credited to the sinking fund shall be charged against the profits for the year.

Second.—The sums so credited to the sinking fund shall be invested, under the direction of the managers or of any committee which they may designate, every year. The same shall be invested in securities or shares of stock of the company, or of any corporation whose road the company may have leased or with which the company may have contracted for the use of its road for the transportation of coal or upon whose securities or stock the company may have become liable to pay interest or dividends. In case, however, such securities or stock cannot be purchased advantageously, then the sums so credited to the sinking fund shall be invested temporarily in such other interest-paying securities as said managers or committee may determine.

Third.—Whenever investment of the sinking fund shall be made in the securities or stock of the company, the same shall under no circumstances be re-issued, but shall forthwith be retired and canceled, and thereafter the amount of interest or dividends which would be payable upon such securities or stock, if they were still outstanding, shall be credited to the sinking fund and used for the purposes thereof as herein provided. Common stock.....	$1,300,000

[550,000 are to be reserved in treasury for building purposes, and to be issued at not to exceed 75 per cent of actual cost of buildings.]

The old securities will be treated as follows:

Elyton Land Co., $128,000 6 per cent dividend trust bonds. Cash at par for the principal, and preferred stock at par for the accrued interest, or new prior lien bonds at par in lieu of all or any part of the face value of bonds, but not of the coupons, which are only exchangeable for preferred stock.

Elyton Company $1,841,500 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds: For principal—30 per cent in new first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, 30 per cent in preferred stock, 40 per cent in common stock. The company may, if desirable, at any time retire more than the 35 per cent proportion of bonds; and the company shall also by a vote of three-fourths of the directors have the right to buy its preferred stocks in the market and cancel it, but not to the detriment of the bondholders.

The holders of Elyton Company first mortgage 5 per cent bonds will control the new company, because their preferred and common stock will greatly exceed in total voting power all the stock acquired by old stockholders.—V. 68, p. 1075.

The additional gas is to be sold not only for the benefit of the Indiana Company, but for the benefit of the People's Gas Company. The demand for natural gas in Chicago is so great that the capacity of this additional line can be placed as soon as the lines are open for use. The mileage has been increased since Nov., 1897, by the construction of the branch, 54.6 miles long, extending from Jimenez to Parral. This makes the total mileage 2,004 miles, on which the mortgage authorizes the company to issue consols to an aggregate of $64,129,000. These companies supply College Point, Whitestone, Flushing and Newtown with electric light and power, and Flushing and Whitestone with gas. They all operate in a rapidly growing section of Greater New York and under such rights as were obtainable before the new charter became effective. The new Company will issue $1,000,000 five per cent, long term gold bonds, part of which are to be offered to the public about July 1. Extensive improvements and additions to the properties are contemplated, and it is thought that by January 1 the new Company will be in a position to take care of all the demands for service made upon it. Important changes will be made in the management.

The earnings for the first five months of the fiscal year are reported as $1,075,000. The full 7 per cent on the preferred stock will take $375,000, leaving a surplus of over $200,000 toward a dividend on common stock, which is expected to be declared in September. Orders on hand will more than keep the works busy to their utmost capacity for the rest of the year. The plant is now turning out forty cars a day and by Sept. 1 will have a capacity of eighty cars a day. The net earnings for the quarter ended June 30, fifteen days estimated, amounted to $744,500. Puerto Rico Co.—Listed in Philadelphia.—The Philadelphia Stock Exchange has listed $800,000 of this company's $1,000,000 capital; par value of shares, $10, full paid; registered with the Guarantee Trust & Safe Deposit Co. Transfer office, 637 The Bourse. Statement of company:

The Puerto Rico Co. was incorporated Jan. 25, 1899, under the laws of New Jersey to build or acquire, and operate hotels, gas and electric light plants, railways, manufactories and other interests in the West Indies and elsewhere. Its property consists of: Brick plant, with American machinery, near Ponce, Puerto Rico, now in operation, capacity 40,000 brick per day; 500 acres of land adjoining Ponce; Coamo Springs Hotel and 400 acres of land near Coamo Springs; Ponce gas plant, now in operation, with city contract for street lighting; office building in Ponce; ice plant now being installed in Ponce.

Authorized capital stock: $1,000,000, all issued for property acquired. Of this amount, $200,000 was issued to N. J. President Palmer says that the bonds will be a first mortgage upon 110 miles already constructed, on 25 miles now under construction, and on all lines hereafter constructed or acquired; also upon $366,000 equipment already provided and on all future equipment acquired with the proceeds of the bonds. In substitution for the first mortgage 5 per cent branch line bonds now in the treasury ($2,850,000), there will be issued of these 4 per cent consolidated bonds $3,200,000. These 4 per cent bonds, however, will pass into the treasury as a reserve of the company, and the only additional interest charge actually created will be for the $1,500,000 bonds now sold, which are for the following purposes, viz.: $500,000 to build 25 miles of new line; and $1,000,000 to discharge all car trusts and other indebtednesses for equipment, and of restoring the sum expended in 1896 for construction and equipment. The net earnings of the 110 miles of existing branches, upon which these bonds have a prior lien, amounted, it is stated, in 1898 to double the interest on the issue now to be made. Further particulars regarding the loan will be found in the CHRONICLE of March 11, page 475. The issue was largely oversubscribed.—V. 68, p. 475.

No Settlement.—Russell Sage on Monday said:

It is wholly untrue that conferences or negotiations have been in progress for the settlement of the gas war as far as the Standard Company is concerned, or that any such are in contemplation between Mr. Rockefeller or other representatives of the Consolidated Gas Co. and myself, or other representatives of the Standard Co. In the light of its experience in joining the former combination, the policy of the Standard Company will be to develop its own business without reference to what its competitors may do. I see no prospect of any arrangement between the various companies.—V. 68, p. 871.

Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.—Stock Increased.—Papers were filed on Friday in Trenton, increasing the capital stock of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey from $10,000,000 to $110,000,000. It is reported that the control of the Standard Oil properties will pass to the New Jersey company by an exchange of stock.—V. 67, p. 1004.

St. Joseph & Grand Island Ry.—Official Statement.—President Bull has issued a letter, saying in part:

The company's situation has given cause for much anxiety and a careful investigation showed it to have resulted from the following causes: The first year of possession of the road by the new company was one of exceptionally favorable conditions. We had an enormous movement of corn within a comparatively short time, thus enabling us to handle it at a low cost of operation. In the following year the corn crop was a partial failure and only about 80,000 tons were moved, an amount 184,000 tons in 1897-8. This in itself represents a loss of over $200,000 in gross earnings and proportionately a greater decrease in net. The tonnage, in virtue of which we have nearly maintained our gross, was much more expensive to handle. This gross has been kept up from two sources, namely, the stock business, which has been greatly developed since the establishment of large packing houses at the St. Joseph stock yards, and the new route to Kansas City. The first has been an excellent development, but it is expensive to handle as compared with corn. As to the second, our line to Kansas City is not over rails of our own, and the cost of operating was great, because the Kansas City & Northern Connecting Co. did not act up to its contract obligations. I believe that this has now been greatly remedied, and that henceforth we will see better results. The line is likely to prove of permanent advantage to our property.

The road is to-day in better shape than ever before, and should such conditions recur as existed last year we should undoubtedly do better in net earnings than we did this. The country served by us does not grow rapidly, but there is a steady growth, and I cannot but hope that we have seen the worst business developments there which we are likely to have. We must, however, be prepared for wide fluctuations in the earnings, both gross and net, and until the character of the traffic changes and becomes more steady than it is at present.—V. 68, p. 41.

Susquehanna Iron & Steel Co.—Capitalization Modified.—The company's capitalization, it has been decided, shall be $1,500,000 all common, instead of $3,000,000, and the par value of shares $5 to be issued full paid instead of $10 only half paid. A new valuation of the properties (see V. 68, p. 1078) has been made and they have all been acquired at $1,050,000 instead of at $1,182,000 the former price. The company on the new basis will have $500,000 cash working capital, instead of $317,500 on the former basis. The stock it is stated, was largely over-subscribed on the old basis; on the new basis subscriptions will be received from June 15 until June 19.—V. 68, p. 1078.

The bonds are due on June 1, 1919, and are subject to call at 107½ and accrued interest. The total authorized issue of bonds is $20,000,000, of which $6,558,000 will be reserved to retire outstanding bonds of the constituent companies, and $1,442,000 will be for future uses. Of the remaining $12,000,000 an amount of $4,250,000 has already been sold, and the balance of $7,750,000 is now offered for subscription. ## The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, June 16, 1899.

Seasonable activity has been experienced in practically all lines of trade and a general feeling of confidence has continued dominant in the business situation. In a few instances there has been a weaker tendency to values, but these have been sufficiently rare to prove an exception to the general rule. The grain markets have again turned stronger and there has been a revival of the export demand, particularly for the coarser grains. Crop accounts have been less encouraging for wheat and oats, but favorable for corn and cotton. Locally the fruit and vegetable crops have been suffering from lack of moisture, but rains last night have relieved that situation. The testimony of the heads of the various sugar refining interests before the Industrial Commission now sitting at Washington has attracted considerable attention. Advice received from Cleveland, Ohio, report serious labor troubles in that city. The advices from the Philippine Islands have reported renewed activity in the warfare and that there has been a large loss of life.

Lard on the spot has had only a very moderate sale, but offerings have been limited and prices have advanced, closing steady at 530c. for prime Western and 495c. for prime city. Refined lard has had a slightly better sale and prices have advanced to 553c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been moderately active and prices have advanced on smaller receipts of swine and sympathy with the advance in corn.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF LARD FUTURES.

Cuts meats have sold slowly but prices have held fairly steady, closing at 4c. for pickled shoulders, 9@9½c. for pickled hams and 4¼@5½c. for pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs. average. Brazil grades of coffee have continued in slow demand, buyers lacking confidence in the situation owing to the large supplies in sight and a big crop soon to come on the market. The tone has been easy, and prices have declined, closing at 5½c. for Rio No. 7. Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been dull, and only slight changes have occurred in values. Immediately following our last report there developed a slightly steadier tone on limited buying induced by the monthly report of the Government's Weather Bureau being less favorable than expected. During the week, the market has ruled dull but steady. Crop accounts from the South have been generally favorable, good rains having fallen in the Atlantic and Gulf States, where needed. The improved crop prospects have prompted some selling by tired longs to liquidate account. There has been, however, a sufficient demand from abroad to cover contracts to readily absorb the offerings, and this buying, together with encouraging advices from Liverpool, where there has been an active spot market, spinners being free buyers, reflecting the healthy condition of the cotton goods trade, have served to hold values to a fairly steady basis. To-day there continued a dull market, and prices weakened slightly under limited selling, principally of the new crop deliveries, prompted by the favorable crop prospects and slightly easier foreign advices. The close was steady with prices 1@3 points lower for the day. Cotton on the spot has been quiet and unchanged at 6 5-16 c. for middling uplands.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 16, 1898, by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows.

THE imports into Continental ports the past week have been 89,000 bales.

The above figures indicate an increase in the cotton in sight to-night of 658,939 bales as compared with the same date of 1898, a gain of 1,196,717 bales over the corresponding date of 1897 and an excess of 1,062,189 bales over 1896.

AT THE INTERIOR TOWNS the movement—that is the receipts for the week and since September 1, the shipments for the week and the stocks to-night, and the same items for the corresponding period of 1897-98—is set out in detail below.

[illegible]

The above totals show that the interior stocks have decreased during the week 10,322 bales, and are to-night 145,739 bales more than at same period last year. The receipts at all towns have been 900 bales more than same week last year.

The total spinners' stocks in Great Britain and on the Continent have decreased 90,000 bales during the month, and are now 19,000 bales less than at the same date last season.

Jute butts continue dull at 1.05¢. for paper quality and 1 1/2¢. for mixing to arrive.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT ON ACREAGE.—The Agricultural Department at Washington issued on the 10th inst. its report on cotton condition and acreage. The following is what it says on the subject of acreage:

The consolidated returns of the different crop reporting agencies of the Department of Agriculture, made up to June 1, indicate a reduction of about 8 per cent in the acreage planted in cotton, as compared with last year. The reports from several of the cotton States are more or less conflicting, and the Department will issue no quantitative estimate of the acreage until it is more definitely ascertainable. That there has been a substantial reduction of acreage, however, admits of no doubt. Not only was the acreage originally planted less than that of last year, but there has been some plowing up of land on which the seed of the generally poor quality of which there are hundreds of complaints, had failed to germinate.

The indicated decrease in the several States is as follows: North Carolina and Tennessee, 11 per cent; South Carolina and Alabama, 7; Georgia, Louisiana and Arkansas, 10; Texas, 9; Mississippi, 2; Indian Territory, 4, and Oklahoma, 15.

The following is the report of the Department on condition:

The average condition on June 1 was 85.7, against 89 on June 1, 1898, and 85.1 the mean of June averages for the past fifteen years. The condition in the principal States is as follows: Texas, 90; Georgia, 89; North Carolina, 87; South Carolina and Alabama, 86; Tennessee, 85; Indian Territory, 84; Louisiana and Oklahoma, 81; Arkansas, 80, and Mississippi, 78.

The above statement of condition, compared with the reports for previous years, is as follows.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climate and Crop Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crops in the Southern States for the week ending June 12:

VIRGINIA.—Week generally dry and very hot, but crop growth rapid. NORTH CAROLINA.—Fore-part of week characterized by extreme heat, dryness and glaring sunshine. Drought injured gardens materially, but excellent state of cultivation prevented serious damage to other crops; fine rains latter part revived growth; cotton doing well.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Crops injured by torrid heat and drought, except cotton, which is doing well and putting on squares; Sea Island cotton blooming; week ended cooler, with general rains.

GEORGIA.—The drought continued till Sunday, when it was broken by general rains; all growing crops were suffering except cotton, which was making but little growth; cotton looking well as a rule.

FLORIDA.—Warmer than average, with deficient rainfall, although local showers afforded some relief from drought; cotton fair and clean, but late.

ALABAMA.—Hot and dry, except general and copious rains last two days; cotton generally promising, though stand of late-planted cotton is inferior and worms and grasshoppers are still damaging; cotton blooms becoming numerous.

MISSISSIPPI.—Decided improvement made in crops by rain; precipitation sufficient, excessive in some sections; early cotton looking well, much worked out; late cotton improved but backward.

LOUISIANA.—Cotton made slow growth; good rains fell Saturday and Sunday over central and southern portions of State.

TEXAS.—Scattered showers every day during week and heavy rain in many sections, some damage from overflow of rivers, more rain needed for some crops in southeastern portion; cotton well cultivated, growing nicely, blooming in central portion, fruiting rapidly in southern portion; few complaints of damage from caterpillars and other pests.

ARKANSAS.—Weather favorable for cultivation and growth of crops. Cotton backward, but generally plant is healthy and growing nicely.

TENNESSEE.—High temperature first half of week; rains quite general on 7th and 9th, greatly improved conditions, relieving drought generally in southern counties, though in many localities, mostly in middle division, crops are still suffering; cotton improving, many poor stands still reported.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton poor and foul.

MISSOURI.—Some cotton injured by worms.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Cotton is doing well in the Carolinas and Georgia, although making slow growth in the last-named State; its condition in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi is generally improved, but poor stands are reported from Tennessee and Alabama. In Florida, and generally over the central portion of the cotton belt the crop continues late. In Texas it is well cultivated and growing nicely, with but few complaints of insects.

NEW ENGLAND MILLS SITUATION.—The Lancaster (Mass.) cotton mill has been forced to suspend operations temporarily on account of an insufficient water supply due to the drought. The strikes at the Cocheco mills, Dover, N. H., and the Warwick mills, Centerville, R. I., have terminated.

BREADSTUFFS.

A fairly large volume of business has been transacted in the market for wheat-flour, and the tendency of prices has been towards a higher basis in sympathy with a rise in the values for the grain. The demand has been largely from exporters, who have been fairly free buyers, and as sellers have not been disposed to hurry sales higher prices have been realized. The home trade also has been a moderate buyer and has paid an advance. Rye-flour has been in better demand, and as offerings have been limited prices have advanced. Corn meal has been firmer in sympathy with an advance in the grain. The higher prices asked, however, have had a tendency to hold business in check.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been fairly active, and the tendency of prices has again been towards a higher basis. The monthly report by the Government's Agricultural Bureau was a more unfavorable statement than had been expected generally. During the week complaints of damage to the spring-wheat crop by too much moisture has had a strengthening influence and unfavorable reports relative to the crop prospects in Russia also have had their effect upon the situation. Foreign markets, however, despite the unfavorable crop accounts from Russia have been rather indifferent to the advance in our markets, and there has been some selling of futures for foreign account, although in the spot market exporters have been fairly large buyers. Thursday the advance in prices was quite pronounced. There appeared to be good general buying stimulated by further reports of crop damage in Russia, and crop accounts from the West were unfavorable. Business in the spot market has been more active as exporters have been better buyers; prices have advanced in sympathy with the rise in futures. To-day the market was easier, under disappointing foreign advices, large Argentine shipments and realizing sales by locals. Business in the spot market was only moderately active. The sales for export here and at outports were 160,000 bushels.

Indian corn futures have been moderately active and higher. Crop accounts have been generally favorable, but sympathy with the advance in wheat, an active export demand, firm foreign advices and reports of damage to the coarse grain crops of Europe have been the strengthening factors. There has been fairly good buying by commission houses and this demand has served to stimulate a demand from shorts to cover contracts. Business in the spot market has been much more active, as exporters have been large buyers and have paid higher prices. To-day there was an easier market under realizing sales. The spot market was less active, the sales for export here and at outports amounting to 300,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery at the Western market have been more active and firmer. Crop accounts have been less favorable, reports of damage by rust and rank growth being general. The Bureau report also was less favorable than expected. Buying has been more aggressive, there being a fair investment demand, and shorts have bought to cover contracts. Locally the spot market has been firm and exporters and the home trade have been fair buyers. To-day the market was about steady. The spot market was moderately active. The sales for export were 30,000 bushels.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE ELECTION.—The annual election on the Produce Exchange, held Monday, June 5, resulted as follows: President, Elliott T. Barrows; Vice-President, F. H. Andrews; Treasurer, E. C. Rice; Managers: F. V. Dare, Vincent Loeser, H. A. McGee, William Hamilton, A. J. Toomey, R. E. Annan; Trustee of the Gratuity Fund, E. T. Hopkins.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climate and Crop Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the grain crops in the various States for the week ending June 12 as follows:

WEATHER.—Rains of the past week have largely relieved drought in the Southern States, which still continues in Northern Louisiana, Eastern Texas, New England and portions of New Jersey, Nebraska, Colorado and New Mexico. There has been too much rain in Kansas, over the southern portions of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, and over portions of the upper lake region and Minnesota. The temperature conditions of the week have been generally favorable except over the Northern Rocky Mountain and North Pacific Coast regions, where it has been too cool, and over portions of the Middle and South Atlantic States, which suffered to some extent from excessively high temperatures.

CORN.—In the principal corn States of the central valleys corn has made good growth and its condition is generally improved, although in need of cultivation, which has been much retarded in nearly all sections of the district named. In portions of the Southern States corn is suffering for rain and has been permanently injured in portions of Georgia, Florida and Southern Texas.

WINTER WHEAT.—Winter wheat is now being harvested as far north as the Ohio and Central Mississippi valleys, with generally light yields but excellent quality. Harvesting is well advanced in Texas and is about finished in the East Gulf and South Atlantic States. In the States of the lower Missouri Valley some improvement is reported in the condition of wheat, which is ripening slowly in that section. On the North Pacific coast wheat has made rapid growth under the most favorable conditions that have been experienced this season. In California wheat is ripening, and although it has been subjected to excessively high temperatures during the past week it has escaped injury owing to the absence of high winds.

SPRING WHEAT.—The reports respecting spring wheat are less favorable than in the previous week, owing to effects of excessive moisture, especially on the lowlands in North Dakota and Minnesota; on uplands in these States, however, it has made luxuriant growth, and lodging is threatened in portions of the latter State. In South Dakota spring wheat is in a promising condition.

OATS.—Over the Northern sections the general condition of oats is more promising than in the previous week, although damage from rust and too rank growth are reported from portions of the Mississippi Valley. Harvesting is nearing completion in the Southern States.

HAY.—Haying is in general progress in the States of the central valleys, the Middle Atlantic States, Oregon and California. In the two last-named States a large yield of excellent quality is being secured. A good crop is also promised in the States of the Ohio Valley, except in Kentucky and portions of Ohio. In Iowa, New England and portions of the Middle Atlantic States the crop will be light, the shortage in New England and New Jersey being decided.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT ON CEREALS, &c.—The report of the Department of Agriculture, showing the condition of the cereal crops on June 1, was issued on the 10th inst., and is as follows:

Preliminary reports of the spring wheat acreage indicate a reduction of about 470,000 acres, or 2.5 per cent. Of the twenty States reporting 10,000 acres or upward in spring wheat, six report an increase aggregating about 45,000 acres, and fourteen a decrease amounting to about 715,000 acres. There is a reduction of 1 per cent in North Dakota, of 5 in Minnesota, 8 in Iowa, 3 in Wisconsin, 1 in Nebraska and 6 in Oregon. On the other hand, there is an increase of 4 per cent in South Dakota and of 6 per cent in Washington.

The average condition of spring wheat on June 1 was 91.1, as compared with 100.9 at the corresponding date last year, 89.9 on June 1, 1897, and 93.2, the mean of the June averages for the last fifteen years. The averages in the principal States are as follows: Minnesota, 94; North Dakota, 93; South Dakota, 96; Wisconsin, 94; Iowa, 91; Nebraska, 89; Washington, 88; Oregon, 81.

The average condition of winter wheat is 67.3, as compared with 90.8 at the corresponding date last year, 78.5 on June 1, 1897, and 83.4 the mean of the June averages of the last fifteen years. The principal averages by States are as follows: Pennsylvania and Texas, 77; Maryland, 79; Virginia and Kentucky, 72; Tennessee and Washington, 76; Ohio, 73; Michigan, 45; Indiana and Kansas, 53; Illinois, 38; Missouri, 60; Oregon, 87; California, 81, and Oklahoma, 85. The average winter-killed having been eliminated, the present averages relate strictly to the acreage still under cultivation.

The total reported acreage in oats is seven-tenths of one per cent less than last year. There is an increase of 4 per cent in New York, of 2 per cent in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, of 5 per cent in Wisconsin and Kansas, of 7 per cent in Nebraska, and of 3 per cent in North Dakota. On the other hand there is a decrease of 2 per cent in Indiana, Minnesota, South Dakota and Iowa, of 1 per cent in Illinois, 13 per cent in Missouri, and 4 per cent in Texas.

The average condition of oats is 85.7, as compared with 93 on June 1 of last year, 89 at the corresponding date in 1897, and 91.2, the mean of the June averages of the last fifteen years. ## THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., June 16, 1899.

There has been no expansion of business in the general run of cotton goods during the week, the volume of actual transactions still being restricted in a number of lines by scarcity of ready supplies. The fact that good sized orders are daily turned down in these shows that if there were opportunities afforded to buyers their operations would be on a more liberal scale than at present. It is not a question of attempting to buy cheaper, but simply of the volume of available merchandise. Under such conditions sellers have no difficulty in upholding prices. Dark fancy prints, recently opened, have furnished the exception to the general quietude, an active demand for them being daily noted, and the market has already worked into an excellent condition. Further improvement is seen in the woolen and worsted goods division, the demand has been liberal, the tone firm, and an occasional advance in price reported. A much more satisfactory situation being now reached than sometime ago appeared likely. Reports of retail trade continue encouraging, business in the chief Western centres being particularly active. Collections good.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The chief demand has again been for men's wear worsted fabrics in both piece dyes and fancies. Leading lines of these are well sold ahead. Washington Mills clay worsteds are advanced 2½c. per yard to $1.20 for 16-ounce makes, and higher prices are looked for in other lines of clays as well as in serges and fancies. The higher cost of raw material is a strengthening factor, but on a supply and demand basis the market is a good condition. Business in all wool goods is also improving, and in both low and higher grades the tone of the market is better than of late. Overcoatings are in fair demand and firm. Clothings continue quiet but steady. Woolen and worsted dress goods are in fully average request, and all staple lines firm in price. There has been no change in flannels or blankets, a quiet demand coming forward at previous prices.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 13 were 1,856 packages, valued at $2,908, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $6,674,280 in 1899, against $5,029,976 in 1898.

Converters and exporters have been prominent with inquiries after brown and grey cottons, but the majority have been disappointed unless they were willing to buy distant deliveries. Actual business has been on a moderate scale in both heavy and light weights at full prices. A quiet demand reported for ducks and osenaburgs, prices unchanged. Leading makes of bleached cottons well sold and prices firm, but current demand quiet. Wide sheetings firm with moderate sales. No change in cotton flannels, blankets or quilts. Denims firm with moderate sales. Plaids in average request, and other coarse colored cottons quiet at previous prices. Kid finished cambrics dull and inclined to favor buyers. The opening prices on new dark fancy prints have suited buyers, and a large business has been done this week in all grades. Other prints have also sold well in a very firm market. Gingham are strongly situated throughout. No sales of regular print cloths reported, price unchanged at 23½c.; odd goods have ruled quiet with willing sellers at previous prices.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Business in imported merchandise generally moderate. Woolen and worsted dress goods for fall show best results at firm prices. Silks quiet and still irregular. Ribbons also irregular. Linens quiet but steady. Borlape dull and easy.

STATE AND CITY DEPARTMENT.

News Items.

Herman, Neb.—Town Practically Destroyed.—On June 13, 1899, a tornado struck this town and almost wiped it out of existence. Reports state that only two or three houses, the Methodist church and the school building remain standing. Herman is situated in the County of Washington to the north-west of Omaha. Its population is estimated at from 300 to 500. It is stated 10 were killed and 25 seriously injured.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Debt Beyond Constitutional Limit.—An Associated Press dispatch from Indianapolis states that on June 14, 1899, the Supreme Court decided that the school debt of a city must be added to the municipal debt in considering the constitutional debt limit of 2% of the assessed valuation. This decision, it is stated, places the indebtedness of the city and school district of Indianapolis over $500,000 beyond the limit.

Nebraska City, Neb.—Bonds Invalid.—A special dispatch to the Omaha "World-Herald" from Nebraska City dated June 1, 1899, stated: "Information was received here to-day to the effect that the $40,000 bonds voted by Nebraska City Precinct in aid of the Missouri Pacific Railroad were declared invalid by Judge Munger of the Federal Court. The conditions upon which this road built a line through Nebraska City twelve years ago were that the right of way be purchased and donated. Prominent citizens advanced this money and an election was called to vote bonds to reimburse them."

"The bonds carried, but are now declared invalid on account of the creation of a precinct for the purpose, which was called 'Nebraska City Precinct.'"

New Richmond, Wis.—Town Destroyed.—A tornado on June 12, 1899, practically destroyed the town of New Richmond, many buildings built of brick and stone being swept away. The loss of life may possibly reach 75 or 100. The town is located about 36 miles from St. Paul, Minn., and is one of the oldest towns in Western Wisconsin.

New York City.—Budget for 1899.—On June 6, 1899, Comptroller Bird S. Coler submitted to the Municipal Assembly the budget for 1899, as adopted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. According to the statement $93,520,032 03 will have to be raised by taxation in the year 1899. Of this amount $7,175,850 88 is for the purpose of redeeming revenue bonds representing the excess of appropriations for the year 1898 over the amounts available for expenditures in that year.

Pacific County, Wash.—Bond Decision.—The Portland "Oregonian" on May 30, 1899, contained the following dispatch from South Bend: "County Attorney Welsh has received word that Judge Elliott has decided the suit of Morris & Whitehead vs. Pacific County in favor of the county. This suit was brought by Morris & Whitehead, brokers, of Portland, to compel the commissioners to issue to them bonds to the amount of $40,000 to fund outstanding general fund warrants. The commissioners had agreed to do this, but afterward the plaintiffs stipulated that the matter be submitted at election. This was done, and when the bond issue was defeated at the last State general election, the commissioners considered the matter closed and would not issue the bonds. The brokers will probably appeal."

See CHRONICLE Dec. 3 and Sept. 24, 1893.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Tax Rate.—The Council's Committee on Finance on June 7, 1899, approved of an ordinance fixing the tax rate for 1900 at $18.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is the same rate which has been in force for some years.

Sny Island (Ill.) Levee Drainage District.—Bond Decision.—A special dispatch to the St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" from Jacksonville, Ill., dated June 6, 1899, stated: "Thomas Worthington, Attorney of this city, to-night received a telegram from the Clerk of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, now in session in Milwaukee, informing him that a decision had been rendered for the defendants in the famous Sny Levee bond case, which has been in the courts for over twenty years. The decision will occasion great rejoicing in this part of the State, as it settles the validity of title to 110,000 acres of lands lying in Pike, Adams and Calhoun counties, the amount of money involved being $2,000,000. The attorneys for the defense were the late Judge Greene, of Springfield; Hon Thomas Worthington of this city, and ex-President Harrison."

See CHRONICLE July 9, 1893

Washington.—Bonds to Fund Warrants Legal.—The State Supreme Court has handed down a decision in the friendly suit recently instituted to determine whether the State could issue bonds to fund outstanding warrants beyond the $400,000 prescribed limit of the State's indebtedness. The Court holds that the issuance of such bonds is not an increase of the State's indebtedness within the meaning of the Constitutional limit. As stated in the CHRONICLE April 29, 1899, $175,000 of these bonds were issued and were taken by the State Permanent School Fund as provided for by law. This issue, together with the $225,000 old bonds then outstanding, brought the State's indebtedness up to the $400,000 limit. In writing to us upon the subject, Mr. Neal Cheetham, State Auditor, states that by carrying into effect the statute under which the bonds are issued, the moneys in the State Permanent School Fund are transferred to the General Fund and applied to the redemption of warrants. The bonds draw but 3½% interest and the warrants 8%, hence a great saving to the State. Mr. Cheetham also informs us that June 10, 1899, was the last day on which State warrants issued drew 8% interest, and that hereafter the maximum rate can be only 5%.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, June 17, and the results for the corresponding week in 1898, 1897 and 1896 are also given. In comparison with the preceding week there is an increase in the aggregate exchanges of eighty-three million dollars, the gain at New York being ninety-eighty millions. Contrasted with the week of 1898 the total for the whole country shows an increase of 36.4 per cent. Compared with the week of 1897 the current returns record a gain of 65.5 per cent, and the excess over 1896 is 69.3 per cent. Outside of New York the increase over 1898 is 17.6 per cent. The excess over 1897 reaches 35.1 per cent, and making comparison with 1896 the gain is seen to be 39.5 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Stock market movements have continued another week without material change in character. Affairs seem to have assumed a waiting attitude, which, as usual, is attended by sagging values, though a few stocks, presumably on the prospect of increased dividends, have advanced. Such a situation is not an uncommon feature at this season of the year. It being an off period, when more or less time is given to recreation, enterprise is at a minimum. During the early summer likewise several conditions which have an influence on future prices of railroad securities are in process of development. Among the most prominent of these are the crops. This year they give rise to rather more uncertainty as to the outcome than generally prevails. At least, as the winter-wheat product is short and the spring plant late, the effect on the future of railroad earnings compared with a year ago, when both sorts were early and abundant, is a consideration of moment. But if these were the only drawbacks, we do not think they would of themselves have a commanding influence on the present occasion. This is so because among other reasons the latest accounts of the crop conditions are quite promising, even the winter-wheat harvesting, as it progresses, showing better returns than expected. Moreover, we think it would not be as serious a matter as in previous years if the yield of some grains were a little smaller than a year ago; that shortage would have a less serious influence at the present time, since general business is now greatly improved, and in some very important departments surpasses all precedents.

The truth is, there is a condition other than those referred to above which is a disturbing force of wide influence at this time. It is not that we are exporting gold, that of itself is of little moment, but it is the circumstance that our immense foreign trade balance has been paid and overpaid—facts that the gold outflow has revealed—that is unsettling previous calculations. How has this change in the state of our foreign indebtedness been brought about, and what does the liquidation it represents presage—these are questions occupying conservative men's minds and are worth one's study. We have written with reference to this matter on a subsequent page. It is only needful to remark in this column that market relations have been forced and maintained here which have enabled Europe to turn over to us during the last two years hundreds of millions of dollars of our stocks and bonds at the highest prices they have ever reached; and has therewith not only paid off the debt owed us but has put us in debt to the outside world, which we are now likewise settling by an export of gold. Such transactions on our part are somewhat like those of the farmer who used his seed-wheat and oats, and finally shipped his agricultural implements to pay off his undue mortgage. Do they not justify a waiting attitude to our stock market? There is not the remotest need for alarm, but is there not a loud call for caution?

The matter of the payment of interest on deposits of interior banks has been a burning question almost as far back as our editorial life runs. In the earlier days Mr. George S. Coe used frequently to urge the discontinuance of the practice on the attention of the Clearing House institutions, and he did this notably after each industrial crisis, to arrest which, and to carry the embarrassed banks through, Clearing House certificates were made a feature. The institution of which he was President never paid interest during his life and does not, we understand, now. There are others in the same position; but instead of the number of those not paying interest being more than when he wrote they are much fewer. In those days, however, the objections urged against the practice were not in the main the same as those at present advanced. That is to say, at present it is opposed because it is claimed that many institutions lose money and thus further weaken themselves through this branch of their business. That was not the case at the earlier dates; interest was higher then and the margin for profits was broader, and hence the practice was chiefly deprecated in that these large interior balances subject to call were always materially drawn down at moments of discredit. Such a movement at the time of a panicky condition was a source of danger not only to the banks having these accounts but to the entire Clearing House Association, those who did not pay interest as well as those who did; for all had to combine and issue Clearing House certificates and so share the burden to prevent a wider disaster.

In another important respect the conditions in these later days have changed. We refer particularly to the lower interest banks now-a-days get for their money and the higher rate they must pay for these deposits. There is much greater competition than there used to be. Not only are there more of the banks seeking interior accounts, but trust companies have multiplied and become more active applicants for these funds. Trust companies, too, can afford to pay higher rates than banks can pay and are consequently absorbing accounts which banks have hitherto kept. For this reason some of the Clearing House institutions have been forced to further increase the rate to secure these deposits and some even pay interest on individual accounts. Moreover, since the new rule of the Clearing House exacting collection charges for checks went into effect, the country banks seem very naturally inclined to demand all they can get for their deposits. At the same time it is a doubtful question, with rates for loans such as now prevail, whether national banks, which are required to keep 25 per cent of their deposits as reserve, can afford to pay even 2 per cent. An institution paying 2 per cent and retaining, according to law, one-quarter as reserve, would be really paying 2.66 per cent for the other three-quarters. In the same way, if paying  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, the actual interest paid for the use of three-quarters of the amount would be 3.33 per cent. The majority of banks in this city pay 2 per cent; very few limit their rate to  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent; quite a number pay  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

A strong feature in the situation just now is the fact that reports of railroad earnings continue generally so satisfactory. Taking the roads as a whole, the ratio of improvement is increasing rather than decreasing. For the fourth week of May we had a strikingly large gain because the week contained an extra business day the present year. In the other weeks of that month the ratios of increase were respectively 5.65 per cent for the first week, 3.53 per cent for the second week and 5.95 per cent for the third week. The present month the additions are running much heavier. For the first week of June our final statement, covering 77 roads, shows $669,006 increase, or, roughly, 9 per cent. For the second week of June only 69 roads have reported thus far, but these show for that week over eight hundred thousand dollars gain ($816,202), or nearly 11½ per cent. In both cases, too, this is on top of improvement a year ago, our compilations for 1898 having shown, respectively, 7.76 and 4.92 per cent increase in the first and second weeks of June. The statements of net earnings for the month of May which are now beginning to come in also disclose some noteworthy records of improvement. We referred a few weeks ago to the handsome showing made by the Central of New Jersey in its April return. The May exhibit of that road reveals the same characteristics, net this year being reported $457,459, against only $356,250 in May 1898, giving an increase of $101,209, or nearly 30 per cent. We may also advert to the return of the Pittsburg Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis. This is one of the roads forming part of the Western lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad. For May that company has net of $282,870 this year, against $228,039 last year, the increase being close to 25 per cent.

The most striking features in last week's bank statement were the increase of $15,902,600 in loans, which was well distributed among the larger banks; the loss of $7,005,800 in specie, of which the National City Bank reported $4,660,500, reflecting recent shipments to Europe; the gain of $9,938,400 in deposits and the loss of $9,319,900 in surplus reserve, carrying this item to $30,003,200. The loans are now within $7,297,500 of the highest of the year, or indeed on record, while the deposits are within $7,040,300 of the maximum, both loans and deposits having been at the highest March 4. The total cash is only $9,414,300 below the maximum, which was recorded May 27, and the loss since that date has been in specie, this showing a decrease of $9,718,600, while legal tenders have reflected a small though steady gain.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, has loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 1½ per cent and at 2½ per cent, averaging about 2½ per cent. The range on Monday was from 1½ per cent to 2½ per cent, with the bulk of the business at 2½ per cent. On Tuesday and on Wednesday the range was from 2 per cent to 2½ per cent, with the majority of the loans at 2 per cent. On Thursday the range was the same as above noted, but the bulk of the business was at 2½ per cent. On Friday the loans were at 2½ per cent and at 2½ per cent, with the majority at 2½ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 2½ per cent as the minimum. There is a good demand for time loans, not only for renewals but for contracts for long periods, while the inquiry is light for short dates. The supply is abundant, and quotations for loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral are 3 per cent for sixty days to four months and 3½ per cent for five to seven months. Some of the large stock houses report that they are carrying much smaller lines of industrial stocks than they were a few months ago, and in many cases houses which had 80 per cent of industrials and 20 per cent of railroad properties now have only about 10 per cent of the former, the remainder being good railroad stocks and bonds. This accounts for the smaller amount of industrials which are offered as collateral on loans and also for the absence of quotations for contracts on industrial stocks. Though the supply of commercial paper is not large there is a good assortment of acceptable names and brokers report a fair business. It is difficult to sell paper at extremely low rates, buyers preferring to wait until after the turn of the half-year, but the demand is sufficient, not only from city but from out-of-town buyers, to absorb offerings at fair rates. Quotations are 3@3½ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 3½@3¾ per cent for prime and 4@5 per cent for good four to six months single names. Some Eastern town paper has sold at 2½ per cent and a special line of four months' commission house paper has been disposed of at 3 per cent net. Banks report a continued movement of gold to Boston and other Eastern points this week, and some shipments of currency to near-by Northern and Western localities; but otherwise there is no special feature in the movement.

The delay until Thursday in ending the cabinet crisis in France and disquieting rumors regarding affairs in the Transvaal disturbed the European political situation, while the financial situation was affected by the advance in discount rates at London and on the Continent, and especially at Berlin. The announcement on Thursday of the formation of a new French Cabinet gave relief. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The Imperial Bank of Germany advanced its rate of discount on Monday from 4 per cent to 4½ per cent, and on Wednesday the Bank of Holland advanced its rate from 2½ per cent to 3 per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills at London 2½@2¾ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 2½ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4½ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £461,190 bullion during the week and held £31,488,581 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to the export of £100,000 to the Cape, to receipts of £197,000 net from the interior of Great Britain, and to the import of £364,000, of which £319,000 were from the United States and £45,000 from Holland.

The foreign exchange market was dull and firm until Thursday, when it grew easier, though without quotable change in rates, in consequence of some offerings of sight bills against intending exports of gold on Saturday. Bankers report a very moderate supply of commercial drafts and not many bankers' bills. The demand is sufficient to absorb all offerings. No gold was exported until to-day (Saturday), though there were reports early in the week that some shipments would be made on Wednesday, and some color was given these reports by the higher discount rates abroad. The Bank of England has advanced the price of American gold coin to 76s. 5½d. per ounce, and the Bank still continues to make advances on gold in transit, while the Bank of France is likewise encouraging imports of the metal from New York. It is reported that the German bankers are bidding 4½ per cent for six months' money. It was announced on Thursday that Lazard Freres would ship to-day $2,000,000 gold to Paris; yesterday Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. withdrew $1,000,000, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. withdrew $1,000,000, and the National City Bank withdrew $1,000,000, all for shipment to-day, making the total shipments to Europe this week $5,000,000. Gold received at the Custom House during the week, $207,160, of which $168,890 was from Europe.

The range for nominal rates for exchange has been from 4 86½ to 4 87 for sixty day and from 4 88½ to 4 89 for sight during the week, with the majority of the drawers quoting the lower figures. Rates for actual business have remained practically unchanged. They opened on Monday unaltered compared with those at the close on Friday of last week, at 4 85½@4 86 for long, 4 87½@4 88 for [short and 4 88½@4 88½ for cables. The tone was dull and steady to firm, and there was no change in rates until Wednesday, when sight advanced one-quarter of a cent, to 4 88@4 88½, while long and cables remained unchanged. The tone grew easier on Thursday though rates were not quotably lower. On Friday the market was steady. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

* The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver, but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

OUR TRADE BALANCE AND CURRENCY DEFECTS.

Three weeks ago, in our "Financial Situation," we called attention to the frequency of the set-backs our cycles of progress have for many years met with, and their consequent brevity. In that particular our financial history is unlike that of any other country. The week following we referred to the high rates for foreign exchange which have recently, and indeed almost since the first of January, been hovering around the gold-export point, and now are being interpreted by an outflow of that metal begun Saturday the third of June. These long-continued high exchange rates, followed by gold exports, indicate that our foreign trade balance has not only been liquidated but has been reversed; other known facts tell us that this has been done in part by foreign holders sending home for redemption non-dividend paying stocks, though to a much greater extent through the return from Europe of large blocks of our best securities.

When the phenomenal character of that balance is considered, can any one fail to be surprised at the result? Indeed, it was more than phenomenal, the total accumulated during the last two years having never been approached and having continued to accumulate down to the latest dates; the report for May, issued last week, shows an excess of exports (including merchandise, gold and silver) of over 23 million dollars, while for the 24 months ending with June 30 1899 (estimating the last month, June), the similar total in favor of the United States reaches $999,352,839. Recall the fact that there has never been in our history any 24 months during which the corresponding figures have aggregated one-half that total, and the reader will be in position to appreciate the full extent of this latest balance. Yet we are forced to assume that not only has the whole been paid off chiefly by a return of our securities, but further than that, and through the same movement, we have been put in debt to Europe, which we are now paying by our gold exports. In this return of securities every class of investment has been represented—State, city, railroad, industrial, bonds as well as stocks. We have not redeemed them either at low and advantageous prices, but at the highest values they have ever reached, the values paid being far above those we sold them at. The inflow was brought about by the extremely high prices ruling here which we stood ready to pay—so high that an investment netting a return of 3 or 3½ per cent could be found about as easily in London or Berlin as in New York.

We need hardly say that such conditions as these are far from normal. Had they been natural, liquidation would have been kept within reasonable limits and at figures making the transaction every way desirable. To pay off the country's indebtedness, and to do it at a fair price, with exports of gold and other of our products, would show prudence and thrift. The mere fact that we are to-day shipping gold causes no anxiety to any one. Our banks and our Treasury are at present safe, doubly safe, so far as possible weakness from that movement is concerned. At the same time it is clear that the situation as now developed has about it grave elements of insecurity. The influences which have produced it, the extreme wastefulness of the process which has been in operation, and the fact that so long as the cause remains unchecked there is no limit to the repetition of these prostrating methods other than with an absolute check to our industrial progress—these are the thoughts which must arrest attention and cause every conservative man to look upon what is passing as serious and needing as speedy a remedy as the case will admit.

We are not permitted to doubt what are the distinctive characteristics in the surroundings which have occasioned this return of our securities and their redemption by us at these wasteful prices, and finally forced the export of gold now in progress. A headless speculation, fostered and stimulated by a cheap, because a congested, money market, with no natural check to the speculation nor any cure open to the money market by a rise in the interest rates, sum up the formative elements of the derangement we have described and are suffering from. Many consider easy money, however produced, the chief of boons and source of all benefits. That does not at all describe the character of low interest rates produced by a piling up of idle currency at the chief financial centers of the country. Such accumulations do not make loans cheap, except very briefly and at moments of extreme confidence, to any others than those who have high-class securities or names of unquestionable standing to offer. In all other respects they are simply disturbing. They serve to lessen the supply of currency left for employment outside the leading trade centers, and so tend to keep rates except at the congested points above the normal. But that is the least of the complications entailed.

The truth of the matter is, a money market in which the rates ruling through a defective currency are placed beyond the ordinary influences and checks that control the flow of capital, is liable at all times to derange and put our business affairs with foreign markets at a disadvantage. Thus it has happened that rates of interest ruling here have through currency congestion at our leading trade centers been of late the lowest in the world. Rates of interest in New York cannot, except abnormally, rule lower or even as low as rates in Europe. The New York and European markets are to-day more nearly equalized than they used to be because (1) the two Continents are nearer, so that in the exchange of products there is less loss of time; (2) home capital has increased materially; and (3) the safety of foreign capital is better insured. But rates cannot rule as low here as they do in Europe until the amount of home capital seeking investment bears the same relation to the demands of our industrial development as exists in the older countries. The contrast, as it now stands, is expressed accurately when we state the well-known facts that Great Britain and the Continent have so great a surplus of capital that it is all the time seeking investment in every part of the world; whereas, the United States, on the other hand, has no surplus for foreign investment, but needs all it has and all the foreign capital it can get to use in developing its industries.

Under the circumstances it is consequently clear that money should be dearer in America than in Europe. Yet in face of this natural condition of the markets, an opposite status has all along prevailed. This is especially true since our latest cycle of prosperity began. Money has continued with very brief interruptions cheaper here than in London and Berlin. That relationship has existed and continued not because money in Europe was dear but because money here was much of the time a drug, so that our banks were seeking the borrower everywhere. Under these circumstances the speculation we have referred to accompanying our trade revival has been fostered and stimulated by the money lender. Securities reached prices higher than ever before, not only higher than in London, but so high that the money they sold for here, as we have already said, could be invested in Europe to better advantage than it could be left here. Although loans increased largely they had no effect on money rates. The inflow of currency was so free that deposits all the time increased as fast or faster than uses could be found for the funds. Hence, we repeat, the money market was subject or open to no healthy checks, for there could be none so long as the supplies of loanable funds were apparently inexhaustible. Wall Street likewise was thus put in position to get money at almost nominal rates and consequently able to absorb at the prevailing high prices the increasing flood of securities that was passing into it from Europe.

Fortunately the country's financial condition was and is strong; business operations have continued to expand and industrial affairs look highly promising. But no conditions can endure this depleting process continued indefinitely. The question consequently presses for answer—if through the past year and a-half we have received and absorbed Europe's holdings of our securities in sufficient amount to more than pay our phenomenal trade balance, what will happen or how are we to manage when we have a very much smaller trade balance, which will be the case the coming twelve months? Some kind of adjustment we must prepare for—either the inflow of securities must be stopped and a very considerable merchandise balance be kept up, or large exports of gold be provided, ending with the dislocation in due course extended throughout trade circles.

The source of the derangement we have suffered from is unmistakable. It is, too, an affair that will continue to plague us and make our industrial cycles short just as long as we omit to correct it. Every form of paper money we have is without the homing quality. Once in circulation it is uninterruptedly in circulation, pressing for use. Instead of returning to the issuer when out of employment, it collects, as stated above, at our leading trade centers, makes the money market abnormal, fostering every kind of speculation and deranging domestic affairs and every foreign trade condition. This is alike true of legal tenders, of silver certificates and of bank notes. Congress, through its committees of the House and Senate, has in preparation plans for currency changes at its next session. All the statements made public purporting to give the character of the legislation to be proposed by these committees omit to include any provision amending our bank-note system. The only feature affecting those notes suggested is a proposal to enlarge the bank issues to the par of the bonds on deposit. Whether that provision will increase the price of the United States bonds or will enlarge the currency, or to what extent it will do both, we do not care to discuss. It is sufficient to say to-day that it leaves the old defects which we have so often pointed out unchanged.

What the country needs is a new bank currency; one that is adjustable automatically to the varying volume of industrial requirements—never too little outstanding and never too much. Until this change is made, and until our money market becomes subject to and rates of interest under the control of the natural and ordinary influences affecting the flow of capital, our cycles of prosperity will always be short and our trade with the outside world will continue to be conducted on terms that are to our disadvantage. Among other burdens is the one we have been discussing. Europe will, as in the past, be sending us our securities when prices are high enough to be tempting and buying them when, through the exports of gold which their return to us produces, they have dropped to their nadir. Our currency system has encouraged this depleting and disturbing process and will have that tendency so long as it is continued as it now is.

NEW YORK CENTRAL'S EXHIBIT FOR THE FISCAL YEAR.

Contrary to general expectations, the New York Central directors have made no change in the company's dividend rate. At their meeting yesterday they declared only the usual quarterly dividend of one per cent. As a consequence the preliminary statement of the company's income account for the June quarter and for the fiscal year ending with June will be examined with more than ordinary care. As the period has not yet fully expired, the results are necessarily in part estimated. But the approximations we are informed have been made on a very conservative basis. The final, audited results are more likely to run ahead of the present forecast than fall short of it.

The figures make it evident that an enlarged rate of distribution could easily have been made. Here is the income account for the year in skeleton form, showing merely the main items of the account. A more detailed statement now is obviously out of the question.

Fixing our attention for the moment on the last line in the foregoing, it will be seen that while dividends have been on a 4 per cent basis per annum, the company has actually earned 5.52 per cent for the stock—that is, while the call for dividends on the 4 per cent basis is $4,000,000, the earnings remaining for dividends amounted to $5,524,000, an excess of $1,524,000. Even on a 5 per cent basis, calling for $5,000,000, there would be a balance left over of $524,000. It is worth noting that the results have been steadily improving year by year, ever since the period of depression in 1893 and 1894. In those two years the Central showed a very heavy deficiency below the amounts paid out in dividends. Since then there has been an increasing surplus each year, and the aggregate of these surpluses now suffices to wipe out the deficits of 1893 and of 1894, so that the company will start the new fiscal year on July 1 1899 with the accounts fully squared and a balance left over. In brief, on the operations of 1893-4 there was a deficiency of $786,340 in meeting the 5 per cent dividends then paid; in 1894-5 there was a deficiency of $1,217,576 in meeting the 4½ per cent paid out in that year; in 1895-6 there was a surplus of $43,793 above the 4 per cent paid; in 1896-7 $51,867; in 1897-8 $654,471; and now for 1898-9 there is a surplus of $1,524,000. Thus the record has been one of decided and continuous improvement. Here are the figures in tabular form:

Deficit in 1893-4 on 5 per cent dividends.....	$786,340
Deficit in 1894-5 on 4½ per cent dividends.....	1,217,576
	$2,003,916

do 1898-9 do do do .....	1,524,000—
	2,274,131
Net surplus 6 years.....	$270,215

This deals simply with the final results for each year. To see how really strong is the exhibit for the late twelve months, one must go behind the returns and note the circumstances and conditions under which the 5.52 per cent was earned for the stock. By referring to the table first above given, very striking changes will be observed in two of the items in the comparison with the previous year. Fixed charges have risen from $11,998,701 to $15,400,000, and at the same time income from investments has been increased from $691,498 to $4,300,000. These items, however, are not the ones deserving special consideration, for the changes in them are related and easily explained—that is the increase in the one is due to the same cause as the augmentation in the other. They both arise out of the operations by which the New York Central acquired control of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and the Michigan Central. These operations consisted of the issue of 3½ per cent collateral trust bonds in exchange for the stock of the two companies named. Accordingly the Central's charges have been added to in the amount of the interest on these collateral trust bonds, while on the other hand its income from investments has been increased by the dividends received on the stock acquired through the issue of the bonds. The Central's direct fixed charges were of course reduced; through the refunding arrangements a saving of roughly $432,000 was effected, which was offset only to the extent of $105,000 by interest on new bonds put out during the last two years.

The items which should be most closely studied and analyzed are those showing the total gross earnings and the total expenses. It may seem surprising that the increase in gross earnings for the twelve months should be only $176,000, or but a fraction of one per cent, considering how active general trade has been during this period. But the fact is, a number of special circumstances and influences have adversely affected the results and disturbed the comparison. In the first place, the road lost a large part of the extra grain traffic which played such an important feature in the business of the previous year. It will be remembered that in 1897-8, as a result of the high prices for wheat, the heavy export demand, and finally the Leiter corner, the grain movement was of extraordinary volume. The last-mentioned circumstance operated to draw out old supplies everywhere, bringing forward much grain in the June quarter of 1898 (the last quarter of the previous fiscal year) instead of in the September quarter of 1898, the first quarter of the fiscal year now closing. Perhaps the best way of showing how these conditions operated to increase the revenues of the previous year is to say that while in 1896-7 the road had moved 2,873,594 tons of grain, in 1897-8 it transported nearly a million tons more, or 3,865,505 tons. In 1898-9, as already stated, a good part of this extra grain traffic was lost, though we have no data to indicate the precise extent of the contraction.

Owing mainly to this contraction in the grain tonnage, the first quarter of the fiscal year we are reviewing recorded a decrease of almost $900,000 ($884,551) in gross revenues as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1897. The fact that for the twelve months there is an increase in these revenues of $176,000 indicates that the whole of this loss, and more, was made good in the subsequent quarters. But in the quarter now closing the road likewise suffered severely from unfavorable conditions and circumstances. In April, on account of the continued presence of ice, the customary opening of navigation on the Great Lakes was impossible, and it did not begin until May 1. The Central hence failed to get the supply of traffic from the Lakes which it usually gets in that month. The loss on that account is estimated at no less than $350,000. In May and June there were still further disturbing influences—in May the strike of the elevator men at Buffalo, while now in June the freight handlers at the same point are on strike.

Altogether, it will be seen, a considerable amount of revenue was lost in these various ways. And indeed it is quite noteworthy that for the twelve months there should be any increase at all. As a matter of fact the freight earnings will probably show a small decrease (though the aggregate volume of tonnage moved was undoubtedly larger), the gain in total earnings following from a gain in the passenger receipts. The improvement in the latter is evidence that the Central has not failed to share in the expansion resulting from the general activity of trade. It is too early to indicate with any degree of exactness how the revenues in the different departments will compare, but the following is likely to prove a pretty close approximation in this respect.

EARNINGS FROM OPERATION.

	1899.	1898.	Inc. or Dec.
Freight traffic.....	$27,336,000	$27,496,000	Dec. $160,000
Passenger traffic.....	13,685,000	13,251,000	Inc. 437,000
Express traffic.....	1,297,800	1,285,000	Inc. 12,800
Transportation of mails...	1,653,000	1,653,000
Rentals.....	1,876,000	1,885,000	Dec. 109,000
Miscellaneous sources.....	100,000	104,000	Dec. 4,000
Total.....	$45,950,000	$45,774,000	Inc. $176,000

Perhaps the most encouraging feature in the whole exhibit is found when we analyze the expenses. With a larger amount of work in both the passenger and the freight departments, expenses have actually been reduced $485,000 as compared with the year preceding. The saving here, together with the increase of $176,000 in gross earnings, has enabled the company to add $661,000 to the year's net earnings. The important fact is that the reduction in expenses is the result of real economies in operation. For betterments and improvements the outlays were about the same as in the previous year. Among other items included we may mention $531,000 for 1,000 Michigan-Peninsular cars; $216,000 for other cars and engines, and $299,000 for boats, bridges, buildings, etc.

The saving has been in the cost of conducting transportation and in the general expenses. The Central has always been a well-managed property, but about a year ago new men and new methods came to the front, and it is now more efficiently and more economically administered than ever before in its history. At the same time the absorption of the Michigan Central and the Lake Shore has made it possible to eliminate many items of expenses. As one illustration of the changes that have been effected, we may note that the entire system east of Buffalo is now in the charge of a single superintendent, so that traffic may be sent either over the West Shore or the Central, as may be deemed for the best advantage.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IN CUBA.

The return this week of General Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Santiago de Cuba, and the reports which have been current regarding his possible retirement to private life, direct attention to the work which our army commanders have been doing in Cuba, and also to a few practical considerations regarding the future.

The American public did not have to wait for any official report to learn the meaning of the change of government in Cuba, particularly so far as concerned the sanitary and police regulations of the cities. Nowhere has the work of regeneration been more radical than at Santiago de Cuba, of which it has been said by a competent observer that the city "had the unenviable distinction of being one of the dirtiest three cities in the world, and at the time of the surrender had probably risen to the first rank." The accompanying personal description, from the pen of an eye-witness, Mr. George Kennan, is worth reprinting; it shows what the sanitary situation of this town of 50,000 population was when the surrender last summer threw the civic administration into the hands of the United States army:

"The inhabitants of the city were dying—chiefly from preventable diseases—at the rate of from one hundred and fifty to three hundred per week, and in the early part of August the death rate rose to nearly one hundred per day, and human corpses lay neglected in the streets until they were picked up by our military authorities and burned. The civil and military hospitals were packed with sick and wounded—there were twenty-seven hundred Spanish soldiers, if I remember rightly, in the large military hospital on the hill east of the city—and the sanitary condition of these overcrowded buildings was shocking beyond description. The streets had not been cleaned in months; piles of rags, bones, fruit-skins and rotting garbage of every description, covered with swarms of flies, were to be seen at almost every corner, and the half-decomposed bodies of horses and mules lay here and there in vacant lots, poisoning the air and attracting hundreds of vultures from the great cloud of these birds that soared and circled incessantly above the city."

This situation had to be dealt with, and very promptly, for a yellow fever outbreak was imminent. The task imposed on our commanders was not merely laborious but dangerous. The death of Col. Waring last autumn from fever contracted in precisely similar duties at Havana gave some intimation of the risks run by conscientious officers in the service of Cuban regeneration.

Nor in fact was sanitary reform the only problem confronting our military governors at Santiago and elsewhere. The appointment of Gen. Wood to that office last year was recognized as wise, because he was not only a trained physician but had proved in his army commands his executive capacity in the direction of sanitary safeguards. But quite aside from this urgent problem there were practical dilemmas in the field of taxation and revenue which arose at once on the downfall of the Spanish régime in Cuba; there remained, also, the whole question of the maintenance of routine municipal government, public order and civil justice. The question of employment for the starving natives, reduced to the last degree of poverty by the insurgent war, the reconcentrado orders, and finally the siege of Santiago, could not be neglected. At times, in fact, even problems of currency and of trade restriction came up for prompt solution.

The Military Governor of Santiago has acquitted himself with remarkable success in this singular combination of responsibilities. The other military governors in Cuba have had similar problems to face, and have performed their duty with equal faithfulness: but General Wood's case is typical, both because the worst pest-hole in Cuba was given him to clean out, and because, unlike most of the other co-ordinate officers in Cuba, he is a volunteer and not a regular soldier.

The sanitary reform of Santiago represents, in fact, one highly important element in what may perhaps be known hereafter as the historical justification for American intervention in Cuba. Year after year, in the early summer, the plans of traders and investors in our own South have paused doubtfully at the first news of a yellow fever case at a Gulf port. As recently as 1897 the spread of the disease through some of our Southern States has checked industrial activity, quarantined half a dozen centres of transportation and cast apprehension even through the North. This stream of yellow fever infection, which even a strict quarantine service failed wholly to exclude from our shores, was as directly traceable to such West Indian ports as Santiago as was the European plague of the Middle Ages to the equally vile cities of the East. Our military governors in Cuba have grappled with this infection at its source. There was much more to be accomplished even than sanitary reform as Northern people ordinarily understand the term. Practices astonishing to Western civilization, but calmly permitted under Spanish rule—such practices as the refusal to bury bodies of yellow fever victims or to destroy infected clothing—have been put down with great sternness, very severe penalties being at times inflicted. Along with this has been performed that most toilsome of all tasks, that of forcing an unwilling population to observe modern sanitary rules. But the result has been striking enough. Whatever may be the facts regarding the reported yellow fever outbreak this week in Santiago, the remarkable fact remains that for the first time in the memory of living men, the discovery of one distinct case of yellow fever at New Orleans has been followed, during a period of weeks, by no further outbreak. General Wood, indeed, is quoted as affirming that the death rate in Santiago has fallen this season to 14 per 1,000, which is lower than New York's midsummer record. Of Guanatanamo, one of the largest cities in General Wood's district, the death record, even in October 1898, was only 50, against 125 in the same month of 1897 and 89 in 1896.

The difficulties confronting our new administrators in this direction have been disposed of in the light of modern science and plain common sense. The second of these attributes has been liberally drawn upon in the matters of temporary tax regulations, poor relief and local government. There was abundant opportunity, even on the part of a perfectly well-meaning officer, for the great authority placed in his hands to degenerate into petty tyranny. We doubt, however, if there is another example in history where an old system of law and jurisprudence has fallen to the ground, and where a new system has been at once erected, with so little disturbance of existing rights. The Cubans have in the truest sense been attending a school of government this year, and whether they eventually assume independent administration or ask to be joined as a colony to the United States, the experience will be to them of the utmost advantage.

Perhaps the most cheerful deduction to be drawn from the experience of our governors in Cuba is its proof that capable administrators for distant communities or colonies can be obtained both from the United States Army and from American civil life. The question whether this could be reckoned on was hotly debated at the time the end of the Spanish war imposed its new responsibilities. We do not see how the question can longer admit of dispute, always provided appointments are made, as they have been made in Cuba, for efficiency and merit. Failure will come only when some crafty political adviser persuades a future President to relax still further the principles of civil service reform and to name political favorites for these great offices.

There is one other important consideration in the matter of colonial appointments. It will not be possible to command the proper capacity on the basis of salaries employed in the case of the executive bureaux and the judiciary. Just now the plan of detailing an Army General to the Governorship serves a temporary purpose, but this cannot meet the problem permanently. As we write, Gen. Wood, who receives for his work at Santiago the Brigadier-General's pay of $5,500 a year, is reported to be considering a counter-offer from a Washington street railway company for a salary probably three times as large. Judged on the simple ground of expediency, nothing could seem more absurd than for our Government to allow such offices to be placed in such disparaging relative position. Great Britain, which pays a salary of $30,000 to the Governor of Jamaica—an island hardly as large as the single province of Santiago de Cuba—has appreciated this very important truth, and has acted on it throughout the world.

—It was reported in this column on June 3 that there had been admitted to the board of directors of the National Bank of Commerce three representatives of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. As now appears this report was substantially correct. On Tuesday afternoon of this week a quorum of the nine directors below named met and declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. Immediately after, on the execution of certain formalities, the nature of which is not disclosed, Messrs. George G.

Haven, Augustus D. Juilliard and James N. Jarvie, trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Joseph C. Hendrix, President of the National Union Bank, an institution controlled by the Mutual Life, took their seats as directors of the National Bank of Commerce, having been elected at a previous meeting of the board, the date of which is not stated. It is reported that a meeting of the directors will be held shortly at which a successor to Mr. Sherman will be chosen.

The principal officers and the directors of the bank named in the annual report of May 9 are: W. W. Sherman, President; J. Pierpont Morgan, Vice-President; Frederick Sturges, Charles Lanier, Charles H. Russell, Alexander E. Orr, John S. Kennedy, Woodbury Langdon and John Claffin. The Bank of Commerce was organized in 1839, under the Banking Act of 1838, known as the "Safety Fund Act." The capital was $10,000,000, and it so remained until 1877; in that year it was reduced to $5,000,000. When the bank was admitted to the national banking system the National Bank Act was so framed as to provide (Sec. 5151) that "stockholders of any banking association now existing under State laws, having not less than $5,000,000 capital, actually paid in, and a surplus of 20 per cent on hand, both to be determined by the Comptroller of the Currency, shall be liable only to the amount invested in their shares." Under this provision the National Bank of Commerce and the American Exchange National Bank enjoy the distinction of having their stockholders exempt from double liability. The new directors of the Commerce are prominent in financial circles. Mr. George G. Haven is a director of the Atchafalaya & Santa Fe, the Central of Georgia, the Erie Canal Traction, the Housatonic, the Providence & Stonington, the Santa Fe Pacific and the Southern of California RR. companies; he is also a director of the Audit Co., of the Greenwich Savings Bank and of the Manufacturer's Investment Co.; also a trustee of the Fifth Avenue Trust Co., and of the Guaranty Trust Co., and a director of the Bank of America, and of the National Union Bank. Mr. Juilliard is a director of the Audit Co., of the Greenwich Savings Bank, of the Bank of America, of the Bank of New Amsterdam and of the National Union Bank, and a trustee of the New York Life Insurance and Trust Co., of the Central Trust Co., of the Fifth Avenue Trust Co. and of the Title Guaranty Trust Co. Mr. James N. Jarvie is a member of the firm of Arbuckle Bros., a director of the Bank of America, and of the London Assurance Corporation, a trustee of the Central Trust Co. and of the Guaranty Trust Co. Mr. Joseph C. Hendrix is President of the National Union Bank, Vice-President and director of the Mount Morris Electric Light Co. and a trustee of the Fifth Avenue Trust Co. and of the Kings County Trust Co.

—At a meeting of the Clearing House Committee of the New York Clearing House Association, held on Thursday afternoon, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That the committee deem it advisable that the present rules and regulations for the collection of out-of-town checks should have further trial before any change should be made." It will be remembered that when the rules and regulations were adopted it was therein provided that "after any rule or regulation upon the subject has been once established it shall not be altered or rescinded until it has been in force at least three months, except by majority vote of the Clearing House Association." The action taken on Thursday does not imply that no change in the rules and regulations will hereafter be made. Indeed the Committee may deem it advisable to modify the rules at any time, but it is unlikely that such modification will be made until after a reasonable time shall have elapsed for further trial.

—The directors of the United States Mortgage & Trust Co., capital $2,000,000, this week elected Arthur Turnbull, formerly Treasurer, Third Vice-President; Clark Williams, formerly Assistant Treasurer, Treasurer, and Calvert Brewer, Assistant Treasurer. No change was made in the other officers of the company. George W. Young is President, Luther Kountze is Vice President, James Timpson is Second Vice President, William P. Elliott is Secretary, Richard M. Hurd is Assistant Secretary, and Alexander Phillips is Manager of the foreign department. The directors added $500,000 to the surplus, which now amounts to $3,000,000, and a dividend of 5 per cent on the capital was declared, payable on and after July 1.

Monetary & Commercial English News

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.

LONDON, Saturday, June 10, 1899.

The failure of the negotiations between Sir Alfred Milner and President Kruger has naturally caused much anxiety in London. The fall in prices, even in prices of Transvaal gold shares, has not been great considering the circumstances. But there is an utter stoppage of business and a very anxious state of mind.

People generally are unable to believe that war will follow. As Mr. Balfour said on Wednesday evening, a few hours after the intelligence of the break-up of the Conference arrived, there are no designs upon the independence of the Transvaal, while all that is asked from the Transvaal Government is those elementary rights which are granted, as a matter of course, to settlers in every civilized country. It seems incredible, therefore, that President Kruger will fight rather than admit settlers who are doing so much to develop the resources of the country to the rights of citizenship.

President Kruger professes, indeed, to be willing to grant citizenship after a long term of residence. But he makes this conditional upon the British Government agreeing to refer all disputes to arbitration. It is generally recognized here that that is an impossible condition, for the independence of the Transvaal is recognized only by the London Convention, and the London Convention stipulates for and expressly recognizes a certain pre-eminence, or suzerainty, by this country over the Transvaal. To agree to refer such a question as suzerainty to arbitration would practically be, therefore, to tear up the London Convention altogether. If President Kruger insists upon the denial of suzerainty and our Government insists upon the concession of ordinary rights to settlers in the Transvaal, there seems no issue but war.

Most people, however, refuse to believe that war will follow. It is hoped that gradually some kind of peaceful arrangement will be arrived at. During Monday and Tuesday there was a very hopeful feeling in London that the negotiations would succeed. And it is rather surprising that when the unfavorable news came on Wednesday the selling was so small, as in fact it was.

What has happened is rather a complete stoppage of business than a very serious fall in prices. The stoppage in business extends almost over all departments of the Stock Exchange, and there is a complete pause in bringing out new companies. Partly the anxieties about the Transvaal account for this. But the comparative failure of the new Japanese loan has likewise something to do with it. Subscriptions were invited on Tuesday morning for eight millions sterling, two millions sterling having been taken firm. But only 12 per cent of the amount offered has actually been subscribed. It is true that the loan was completely underwritten and that therefore the money is forthcoming. But all the same, so small a subscription has greatly disappointed the banks which brought out the loan, and has warned other promoters that the moment is not very favorable for new issues. The failure of the loan is chiefly due to the large sum asked for at once. If Japan had been content to borrow in the first instance only three or four, or possibly five, millions sterling, she would have got the money, no doubt. But people were greatly surprised by her asking for as much as ten millions sterling on first applying to this market. The issue price, moreover, was considered too low. 90 for a 4 per cent loan does not give quite  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent upon the money invested. The Japanese Government then made two great mistakes: in the first place it asked for much too large a sum to begin with, and in the second place having determined to raise the whole ten millions sterling at once, it ought to have offered a higher rate of interest.

There is a very general impression, moreover, that the coming Russian loan for nearly 3 millions sterling will not be subscribed here in London. A demand for the bonds, however, has sprung up for Germany; and although the loan is not yet placed, German orders, or at all events, orders to buy from Germany, have been received in considerable amounts by members of the Stock Exchange. And members of the Stock Exchange who sell, clearly will have to subscribe for the loan. In that way it may appear that the London subscriptions may be comparatively large. But eventually those subscriptions will be for Germany, or at least for persons ordering for Germany.

In the meantime the activity of trade continues as great as ever, and one of the great houses engaged in the coal trade has just issued its annual summer statement in which it warns its customers that the activity in trade, and particularly the activity in the iron and steel trades, is so great that the coal-producing capacity of the country is now reached, and that consequently anything that may increase consumption in the least, such for instance as a spell of very cold weather, will certainly send up the price of coal very rapidly and very considerably.

The shipments of gold from New York are exciting a good deal of interest here. There is much speculation as to whether they are made because large payments have to be effected in Europe, or whether they are made in connection with the payment of the indemnity to Spain. The latter is the most general view here. There is also a good deal of speculation as to whether the gold will remain here or will go on to Paris. The general opinion here is that it will remain in London, or at all events that it will remain here if the Bank of England takes the proper measures to secure it. Paris has been buying during the last few days securities upon the Stock Exchange upon a considerable scale. And of late it has also been buying wool and other raw materials on a very large scale. The impression prevails, therefore, both here and in Paris that there is a considerable sum due from France to this country. And therefore it is thought that the gold will remain here unless the Bank of England fails to secure it, or the Russian Government should take part of the proceeds of the coming loan in the metal.

Meanwhile, owing to the shipments from New York and the confidence this inspires that the ease will be maintained in New York for some time, the money market here is very quiet and probably will continue so for a month or two yet. There is greater ease, likewise, in Paris. And although money is in good demand in Germany, there is nothing like stringency; and the general impression is that there will be no recurrence of stringency until the end of August or the beginning of September. Then it is thought money will be at least as scarce and dear as it was last year.

The India Council has not been selling its drafts quite as well as previously. A fortnight ago it raised the amount it offered for tender from 30 lacs to 40 lacs. A week ago it reduced it again to 30. And this week it has once more offered 40 lacs. The applications were very large—nearly 657 lacs for the 40 lacs offered. But the Council appears to have been quite disappointed at the prices offered, and it sold very little over 31 lacs at prices ranging from 1s. 3 3/4 to 1s. 4d. per rupee. Subsequently it sold a little over 7 lacs by private contract. But though it did not sell, either by ordinary or special sales, quite the whole amount of 40 lacs offered, it has decided to offer next week as much as 50 lacs.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of June 8:

Gold.—The Continental demand, although intermittent, has proved sufficient to keep all but very small amounts from reaching the Bank. There is now about £500,000 in gold on the way from New York to the Bank of England, and more is expected. The Bank has received £61,000, and £5,000 has been withdrawn. Arrivals: Cape Town, £234,000; Straits, £8,000; Australia, £53,000; West Indies, £26,000; Bombay, £77,000. Total, £398,000. Shipments: June 1, Bombay, £20,000.

Silver.—India has practically been the only buyer during the week, and in consequence of the large shipments that are now being made on her account the market has fallen there rather sharply. In spite of America being only a small seller the price has dropped here also from 28 to 27 1/2, at which figure there are now signs of more buying. Indian prices Rs. 70 for shipment. Arrivals June 1: New York, £187,000; West Indies, £18,000; Australia, £4,000. Total, £209,000. Shipments June 1: Bombay, £133,000; Hong Kong, £9,483; Shanghai, £62,300. Total, £204,783.

Mexican Dollars.—The market is without business and quite nominal.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1899.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—In the operations of the week in Wall Street there are indications that the capacity of the public to absorb stocks issued by large industrial corporations has been thoroughly tested and that the point at which an increase of such issues would find a ready sale has been passed. Business at the Stock Exchange has been made up largely of trading in the so-called industrial shares, the result of which is materially lower prices for almost the whole miscellaneous list. Moreover the proposition to form a new "Distilling Company of America," with an authorized capital aggregating $125,000,000 seems to awaken very little enthusiasm or even interest.

At the same time a substantial advance in some high-grade railway shares is evidence that an investment demand for that class of securities exists, and there seems to be sufficient ground for such demand. Reports of railway earnings are in many cases favorable, and the growing crops have made substantial and important progress this week. No exports of gold were made the early part of the week, but $4,000,000 are engaged for shipment to-morrow. The firmness of the foreign exchange market, together with higher interest rates abroad, suggest that the movement may not be at an end. There is reported to be a better export demand for wheat. If this demand continues it may become, as it was a year ago, an important factor in international trade and finance.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from  $1\frac{3}{4}$  to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. To-day's rates on call were  $2\frac{1}{4}$  to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. Prime commercial paper quoted 3 to  $3\frac{3}{4}$  per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £461,190, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 42.44, against 41.44 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 17,650,000 francs in gold and 3,225,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of June 17 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $8,835,300, and a surplus over the required reserve of $30,003,200, against $39,323,100 the previous week.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to \$4,000 Virginia fund, debt 2-3s of 1891 at  $85\frac{3}{4}$ .

On a volume of business much smaller than the smallest of the year, averaging only about $1,650,000 par value per day, the market for railway bonds has been somewhat irregular. While many active issues have been steady to firm, a few have sharply declined, and these declines do not appear to be offset, as they often are, by a corresponding advance in others. Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf trust receipts were the specially weak features of the market. They declined nearly 5 points on reports of the physical condition of the road and the filing of a petition to issue a large amount of receiver's certificates. Baltimore & Ohio, Reading, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific were weak in sympathy with the shares of the respective companies. In addition to the above, special activity is noted in Atchison, Central Georgia, Chesapeake & Ohio, Colorado & Southern, Erie, Missouri Kansas & Texas, St. Louis Southwestern and Wisconsin Central bonds.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The tendency of the stock market has been generally downward this week. Professional traders have largely dominated the market and persistent selling of industrial stocks has been a conspicuous feature. There have been notable exceptions to the general tendency, however. Railway news is for the most part favorable, and several issues of railroad stocks have advanced. North West, led in the upward movement on the published statement of its earnings and St. Paul & Omaha sold on Thursday at 103, the highest quotation in its history. New York Central also advanced on reports of heavy traffic, and the grangers were relatively firm on favorable crop conditions. On the other hand the anthracite coal stocks and the trans-Continental shares were weak. Baltimore & Ohio declined over 7 points on a large decrease in its net earnings, which, however, is explained by the President of the company, and some recovery made to-day.

As suggested above, a large proportion of the total transactions was in the industrial stocks and liberal offerings of American Steel & Wire, Federal Steel and the Tobacco issues has resulted in a heavy decline in these and other stocks. These offerings were stimulated by rumors that the dividend on American Steel & Wire would be passed.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Amalgamated Copper.—Anaconda Copper Mining Co.—Reported Purchase Price.—A dispatch to the "Chicago Times-Herald" from Salt Lake City states the price paid by the Amalgamated Copper interests for the control of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., recently acquired, as $23,000,000. Of this amount Mr. Daly, it is stated, receives $6,000,000, J. B. Haggin $9,000,000 and Lloyd Tevis of San Francisco $8,000,000. Mr. Daly agrees to remain as manager of the property for a year at a salary of $25,000, while Haggin and Tevis sever their connection with the property entirely, leaving the Amalgamated Copper Co. in control. A London syndicate two years ago bought the interest of the Hearst estate in the mines for $7,000,000, and it is understood still holds that part.

Santa Rita Copper Mines Acquired.—Control of the Santa Rita Copper Co. of New Mexico was acquired last week in the interest of the Amalgamated Copper Co. The Santa Rita Co., it is said, has claims covering forty-six patented and thirty-three unpatented mines, thus embracing practically the whole Santa Rita district. The consideration is reported as $1,400,000, of which amount the Hearst estate is said to have received $200,000 for the option it held on the properties. The mines were worked by the Spaniards many years ago, when the copper was packed on mules to the City of Mexico, 1,500 miles, and thence was sent to Spain.—V. 68, p. 1022.

American Bell Telephone Co.—New Bonds.—The company this week received proposals to purchase $2,000,000 10-year currency debenture 4s. the unissued balance of the authorized issue of $10,000,000.

Dividend.—The company has declared a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent and an extra dividend of 1½ per cent, the same as in 1898, payable July 15.—V. 68, p. 1178.

American Chicle Co.—Officers.—The directors of this chewing gum consolidation are:

W. J. White of Cleveland, O.; George H. Worthington of Cleveland; Henry Rowley of Brooklyn; Thomas Adams, Sr., and Thomas Adams, Jr., of Brooklyn; Charles R. Flint, of this city; E. E. Beeman of Cleveland; T. L. Jefferson of Louisville; J. P. Brimley of Chicago; H. T. Britton of Toronto; W. B. White, of Cleveland, and James C. Young, of Jersey City, N. J.—V. 68, p. 1130.

American Grass Twine Co.—Constituent Companies.—This company, it is stated, is a consolidation of the Wisconsin Grass Twine Co. of Oshkosh, Wis., the Northwestern Grass Twine Co., of which the Wisconsin Grass Twine plant of Oshkosh and the Minnesota Grass Twine plant of St. Paul are sub companies, and a new plant to be erected at Superior, Wis.—V. 68, p. 1130.

American Mail Steamship Co.—Contract.—The following facts are from an advertisement of E. H. Rollins & Sons, offering, on a 4½ per cent basis, a block of the company's first mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds. Total issue $1,100,000, payment secured by sinking fund. Steamships leased to Boston Fruit Co., at annual rental of $180,000; U. S. Mail contract, per annum, $119,400. Total receipts, $299,400. Contract with Boston Fruit Co. guaranteed by the American Surety Co. of New York City; State Trust Co., New York City, mortgage trustee.—V. 67, p. 369.

American Railways Co.—Bridgeton Property Taken Over.—The purchase of the Bridgeton & Millville Traction Co. of New Jersey was ratified at a special meeting of the directors of the American Railways Co. held at the Real Estate Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, on June 16. The Bridgeton & Millville Traction Co. elected the following:

President, Jeremiah J. Sullivan; Vice President, Stephen Greene, Secretary and Treasurer, Walter H. Bacon; directors, W. H. Shelmire, Silas W. Pettit, Henry J. Crowley and Bloomfield H. Minch.

The American Railways Co. has also purchased the Bridge-ton Electric Co., and intends to consolidate the power station of this company with that of the traction company. The electric-light company has a capital of $25,000, with a bonded indebtedness of the same amount.

Negotiations for Other Properties.—Negotiations are still pending for the acquisition of the Consolidated Traction Co. and the Philadelphia Co. of Pittsburgh, the last named corporation including the United Traction Co. A large, if not a controlling interest, has been acquired, it is understood, in the Springfield (O.) Street Railway.—V. 68, p. 821.

American Spirits Manufacturing Co.—Kentucky Distilleries & Warehouse Co.—Spirits Distributing Co.—Standard Distilling & Distributing Co.—Distilling Co. of America.—Consolidation Plan.—The following plan was announced this week, providing for the consolidation of the four companies first named under the title of the Distilling Co. of America, a new company to be organized under the laws of New Jersey. The new organization will have an authorized capital stock of $125,000,000, of which $55,000,000 will be 7 per cent cumulative preferred. This stock, the organizers propose, shall be applied toward the purchase of the capital stock of the above-mentioned companies and certain rye distillery properties, and for an additional working capital of $1,500,000, leaving in the treasury of the new company for future purposes $23,750,000 of its preferred stock and $23,750,000 of its common stock. It is expected that the treasury stock will be used to acquire other rye distilleries, upon which options are not now held. With the plans of the company's organizers fully carried out, the new company, it is claimed, will have 96 per cent of the entire spirits and whiskey business of the company.

The terms of exchange of old for new securities follow:

To be reserved in treasury.....				$3,750,000	23,750,000
Total authorized issue.....				$70,000,000	$55,000,000

It is provided that the new company shall own the following rye distilleries, viz: (a) At least 95 per cent of the entire capital stock of the Hannis Distilling Co. of Philadelphia and Baltimore; and (b) the St. Paul Distilleries. The "New York Sun" says:

The new company will combine all the various branches of the distilling business. It will take in the American Spirits Manufacturing Co., consisting of 83 separate concerns and controlling the manufacture of alcohol and spirits; the Spirits Distributing Co., which owns the Rydale and Shufeldt concerns, distributors of alcohol and spirits; the Standard Distilling & Distributing Co., consisting of 15 concerns and representing a combination of independent distillers; the Kentucky Distilleries & Warehouse Co., consisting of 56 concerns manufacturing Bourbon whiskey, and a number of the most important rye whiskey concerns. H. D. MacDona of the Metropolitan Street Railway syndicate is one of the organizers of the new company, and those interested in it will include William C. Whitney, P. A. B. Widener, W. L. Elkins, Anthony N. Brady and President F. P. Olcott of the Central Trust Co.

The plan contemplates a contraction of the $91,500,000 of securities now out down to $77,400,000, for which amount, in addition to the old securities, the new company will acquire certain of the new important rye distilleries. The working capital of the existing companies to be absorbed is now about $6,000,000. The new company is to have an additional working capital of $5,000,000, of which $1,500,000 will be supplied at once. The financing of the new company, it is stated, is based on the fact that the present earnings of the properties to be taken in, as now operated under distinct managements, and with active competition, show sufficient net earnings to pay 7 per cent upon all the preferred stock issued and a handsome dividend over that amount on the common.

The time within which the stock of the constituent companies may be deposited with the Central Trust Co. expires on June 30 next, unless extended. The plan will not become operative until the owners of a majority of the issued capital stock of the Manufacturing, Standard and Kentucky companies and of the issued preferred stock of the Spirits Distributing Company shall agree to sell their holdings upon the basis outlined above. Numbers of the large shareholders are stated to have already deposited their certificates and the proposed basis has received the approval of the officers and directors of each of the companies.—V. 68, p. 725, 770, 1282.

American Steel & Wire.—No Dividend on Common.—The Directors yesterday instead of declaring a dividend on the common stock adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That in view of the difference of opinion entertained as to the legal power of the company to pay any dividend upon the common stock of this company at the present time, and of the pending litigation in New Jersey concerning the Federal Steel Co., the motion for a dividend on the common stock be tabled.

The motion for a dividend was made by Henry Seligman, supported by his associate, Frederick Strauss. The directors voted to list the company's shares on the New York Stock Exchange as soon as possible.—V. 68, p. 1130.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Official Statement.—President Cowen says the large decrease in net earnings for the year ending June 30, 1899, as compared with the previous year, has been occasioned by the fact that the receivers, in settling their accounts preparatory to turning the property over to the company have charged against the revenue of the year large sums which ordinarily would be extended over a much longer period. Moreover, no attempt had been made to scant the amount of money put into the property and charged to operating expenses. During the year a large number of old engines and cars, standing upon the books at a high valuation, have been abandoned, all of which has been charged to operating expenses. Mr. Cowen believes that the prospects of the company were never better than at present. A recent thorough inspection of the property, he says, has shown it to be in excellent physical condition. With the present volume of business, even at existing rates, the earnings for the coming fiscal year should show a decided improvement, and the development of some of the heretofore undeveloped resources should add very considerably to them.

Prior Lien Interest July 1—Coupon No. 2, due July 1st, 1899, from the Prior Lien bonds, will be paid at the office of the company, No. 2 Wall Street, New York.—V. 68, p. 1179.

Birmingham Sheffield & Tennessee River RR.—Northern Alabama Ry.—Verdict Against Reorganization Committee.—A jury in the Supreme Court in this city, before Justice Smyth, rendered a verdict this week for $355,000 in favor of the Industrial & General Trust, Limited, an English corporation, and against J. Kennedy Tod and James G. Leipner constituting the reorganization committee of the Birmingham Sheffield & Tennessee River RR. Co. The plaintiff deposited $570,000 of bonds with the reorganization committee under the usual form of agreement containing the right to withdraw bonds in case the plan of reorganization to be submitted to the bondholders was unsatisfactory. Subsequently the property was sold under foreclosure without any plan having been submitted, but it is claimed that due notice was given by the committee of its intention to proceed with the foreclosure sale. The property was reorganized as the Northern Alabama Railway Co., and under the plan the plaintiff would have received $250,000 in bonds and $350,000 in the stock of the new company. This he declined to accept and brought suit for the principal and interest of his bonds, aggregating about $700,000, and under the rulings of the Court the jury has rendered a verdict as noted above for $355,000.

No judgment has been entered pending a decision on the exceptions taken to be heard in the Appellate Court in the autumn. All the old bondholders, with the exception of the plaintiff in this action, accepted the new securities provided by the reorganization plan, and the road was recently sold to the Southern Railway Co.—V. 61, p. 829; V. 68, p. 873.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co.—Prospect Park & Coney Island RR.—Long Island RR.—Lease.—The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. at midnight on June 17 took over under lease the property of the Prospect Park & Coney Island RR., known as the Culver line, but of late controlled by the Long Island RR., as majority stockholder. The acquisition of this road gives the Rapid Transit Co. another route to Coney Island. Its sole competitor now for that traffic is the Coney Island & Brooklyn RR. Co. The newly-acquired line has two terminals, one at Ninth Avenue and Twentieth Street and the other at the Union Station, Fifth Avenue and Thirty-sixth Street. The stockholders of the Prospect Park & Coney Island RR. (Culver line) will vote July 17 to confirm the lease of the company's property to the Brooklyn Heights RR. of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's system.—V. 68, p. 669, 1025, 1131, 1179.

Buffalo City Gas Co.—Meeting to Authorize Consolidation.—The stockholders will vote July 6 "upon a certain agreement for the consolidation into a single corporation of the Buffalo City Gas Co. and the Buffalo Gas Light Co., which agreement bears date June 13th, 1899."—V. 68, p. 280.

Central Massachusetts RR.—Boston & Maine RR.—Suit to Annul Lease.—A bill in equity was entered in the Circuit Court of the United States at Boston on June 16 in behalf of Benjamin W. Jones and other stockholders of the Central Massachusetts RR. against the Boston & Maine RR. Co. to annul the lease of the Central Massachusetts RR. to the Boston & Maine. See V. 68, p. 669.—V. 68, p. 669, 1074.

Chicago & Alton RR.—As to Dividend.—The usual June dividends were not declared this year. The directors met but took no action regarding a dividend. Of the $22,230,600 capital stock of Alton, less than $980,000 is not owned by the syndicate.—V. 68, p. 1022.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR.—Extension.—It is announced that as soon as second track is laid on the main line east of Ottumwa, Ia., the company will standard-gauge its Burlington & Northern and Burlington & Northwestern lines from Mediapolis west to Oskaloosa, Ia., and that the road will then be extended from Oskaloosa west about 15 miles to the Des Moines and Albia Division, near Hardy. This will give the company a second line between Des Moines and Burlington.—"Railroad Gazette."

Colled Bonds.—Republican Valley Railroad 6 per cent first mortgage bonds, due July 1, 1919, to the amount of $19,200, have been drawn for payment, viz: Fifteen (15) bonds for $1,000 each, numbers 29, 177, 286, 370, 450, 511, 629, 748, 107, 196, 330, 447, 467, 518, 741 and seven bonds for $600 each, numbers 33, 45, 145, 350, 352, 358, 364. They will be paid at the New England Trust Co., Boston, on July first.—V. 68, p. 1074.

Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville Ry.—Decision Re-opening Foreclosure Case.—The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court reopening the foreclosure case (see V. 68, p. 1023) was published at considerable length in the "New York Evening Post" of June 14. Adrian H. Joline, of Butler, Norman, Joline & Mynderse, is quoted as saying:

"The decision of the Supreme Court in what is called the 'Monon case' must not be misapprehended. The merits of the reorganization plan were not before the court and, therefore, received no consideration. The main point presented by counsel for the reorganization was that the objecting creditor was not entitled to be heard because he had not asserted his claim at a proper time or in a proper way. All that the court really decided was that the lower court should have heard him, notwithstanding the irregularity of his proceedings. This may be a serious matter, for it practically means that a railway mortgage is not the same sort of security as other mortgages."

I am one of the counsel of the mortgagees and the reorganization committee, and I do not deem it proper to make any further comments, except to say that there is nothing new in the proposition that stockholders and bondholders of a corporation will not be permitted to combine to defraud general creditors, or to deprive them of their lawful rights.

The intervening petitioner, it is understood, will shortly apply for a receiver for the road, but it is not thought that the application will stand, for the reason that it cannot be shown that the railway company is not in a position to meet an adverse final decision, the claim of the trust company being a small one.—V. 68, p. 1023.

Chicago Terminal Transfer Co.—Chicago & Alton RR.—Lease Modified and Assumed.—The sale of the St. Louis Peoria & Northern Railway to the purchasers of the Chicago & Alton was recently announced (V. 68, p. 1022). The St. Louis Peoria & Northern Ry. Co. had previously contracted to become a tenant under a 99-year lease of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Co., whose extensive passenger and freight terminals at Chicago are used also by the Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago Great Western, Wisconsin Central, etc. We now learn that the contract made by the St. Louis Peoria & Northern to use the terminals of the Chicago Terminal Transfer has been formally assumed by the purchasers of the Chicago & Alton RR. Co. and the rental modified so that the Terminal Company will receive from Jan. 1, 1900, in equal monthly instalments in advance, $96,000 per annum to December, 1903, $105,000 per annum to December, 1909, and $150,000 per annum thereafter in addition to proportion of taxes and cost of maintenance.—V. 68, p. 1022.

Chicago Union Traction Co.—Subscriptions Called.—Subscriptions for the $12,000,000 preferred stock at par (with a bonus of 50 per cent in common stock) are called and must be paid in full June 26 in Chicago at the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank; in New York at the State Trust Co. and in Philadelphia at the Land Title & Trust Co. The Chicago Union Traction Co. will probably begin to operate the North and West Chicago street railroad systems by July 1.—V. 68, p. 1131.

Cincinnati & Miami Valley Traction Co.—Deposits of Bonds.—A bondholders' committee consisting of Wm. Jay Turner, B. W. Fleisher, S. L. Bloch, J. Wasserman and A. Israel, with Wm. Jay Turner as Counsel, 929 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, reports that the holders of a majority in amount of the bonds have assented in writing to the terms of an "agreement providing for the deposit of their bonds with the Guarantee Trust & Safe Deposit Co. of Philadelphia for such use as the committee may think best in protecting their interests." Bondholders who desire to avail themselves of the benefits which the committee hopes to secure should deposit their bonds without delay. A member of the committee says there is apprehension that the management does not intend to pay the July coupon, and because of this and certain intimations as to the policy of the controlling interests in the stock it was deemed advisable to form the committee and call for deposits. In May, 1899, control of the property was sold to Peter Schwab, of Hamilton, O., representing a syndicate which, it was understood, planned to consolidate several lines in the vicinity.—V. 68, p. 1237.

Detroit & Pere Marquette R.R.—Flint & Pere Marquette R.R.—Detroit Grand Rapids & Western R.R.—Chicago & West Michigan Ry.—Consolidation Plan Declared Operative.—Deposits till July 10.—A majority of the preferred and common stock of each of the three railroad companies last named has been deposited subject to the plan dated May 20, 1899, for the union of said companies under title of Detroit & Pere Marquette R.R. Co. The plan has, therefore, been declared operative. The committee has extended until July 10, 1899, the time within which stock may be deposited. After July 10, deposits will be received only upon such terms as the committee may impose.—V. 68, p. 1180, 1024.

Electric Vehicle Co.—Dividend on Common.—The dividend of 2 per cent declared last week on the common stock, payable July 1, is the second dividend on that stock and is a quarterly payment, the first distribution having been for a similar amount payable April 1.—V. 68, p. 1180.

Empire Steel & Iron Co.—First Dividend.—The directors have declared a dividend at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on the preferred stock, payable July 1st.—V. 68, p. 926.

Erie Telegraph & Telephone Co.—Subsidiary Company's New Stock.—The Southwestern Telegraph & Telephone Co. has filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000. Of this company's stock 70 per cent has been owned by the Erie Telegraph & Telephone Co., see V. 68, p. 1023 and 578.—V. 68, p. 1023.

Federal Printing Ink Co.—Incorporated.—This company filed articles of incorporation at Trenton, N. J., on June 20. The authorized capital is $20,000,000, of which $1,000,000 is preferred 7 per cent cumulative dividend. Various facts regarding the consolidation, as officially confirmed for us, were published in the CHRONICLE last week. Of the stock, $1,000,000 common and $500,000 preferred will be held in the treasury, making the amounts to be issued as shown in the previous item. It was also decided to change the title of the company slightly to that above given.—V. 68, p. 1181.

Federal Steel Co.—Temporary Injunction Against Payment of Dividend on Common Stock.—Walter R. Kern of Philadelphia, who holds, it is stated, twenty-five shares of the preferred stock, which were transferred to him on June 9, filed at Camden on Monday a bill with Vice Chancellor Reed asking the Court to restrain the company from paying any dividend on the common stock at present. The Vice-Chancellor granted a temporary injunction and ordered the company to show cause on July 3 why a permanent injunction should not be issued restraining the payment of any dividends on the common stock until after the close of the present fiscal year. Mr. Kern contends that under the provisions in the company's charter a full year's dividend on the preferred stock must be paid before any distribution is made to the common shares, and that consequently the dividend on the common stock cannot be paid until after the close of the fiscal year ending Dec. 1, 1899, and then out of the surplus profits, the existence of which he says cannot be ascertained until the end of the year.

President E. H. Gary says: "The clause of the charter relied on by Kern says 'If after providing for dividends on the preferred for a full year there shall remain any surplus net profits of that year, they shall be applicable to dividends on the common. The dividends already declared in favor of the Federal Steel Co. by its constituent companies, together with accumulated interest on its surplus, amounts to upward of $3,776,713. From this fund the company paid April 3, 1899, a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, amounting to $798,915; and from this fund the board of directors on June 16, 1899, declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, amounting to $798,915, and also set aside as a special fund for the payment of the two remaining quarterly dividends for the fiscal year of 1½ per cent each on the preferred stock, $1,597,830, and also declared a dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock."

"The resolution unanimously adopted by the board of directors is as follows:

"Resolved, That from the fund created by and from the dividends declared upon the capital stock of the Minnesota Iron Co., the Illinois Steel Co. and the Elgin Joliet & Eastern Ry. Co., held and owned by this company, together with accumulated interest of this company, there be set aside and bid the sum of $1,597,830 as a special fund for the payment of a dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred capital stock of this company, amounting to $798,915, payable October, 1899, and a further dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred capital stock of this company, amounting to $798,915, payable in January, 1900, and that such fund be used for the payment of such dividends and for no other purpose."

"Resolved, Further, that from said fund first above named there be paid a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent upon the preferred capital stock of this company, this day to be declared, and payable July 20, 1899."

"Resolved, Further, that from the said fund [of $3,776,713—Ed.] first above named, there be paid the dividend of 1½ per cent this day to be declared upon the common capital stock of this company, payable July 20, 1899."—V. 68, p. 1181.

The plan has been declared operative, and no deposits will be received after July 5, 1899, except upon such terms as the committee shall in its discretion impose.—V. 68, p. 926.

Illinois Electric Vehicle Transportation Co.—Subscriptions Opened.—Subscription are being privately secured for $20,000,000 of the authorized $25,000,000 stock. The par value of the shares is $100, but only $5 on each, it is understood, will be called at present. The second payment of $5, it is said, will be called Oct. 2, 1899, and engraved stock certificates will be issued at that time. The directors are:

Chicago—Samuel Insull, President; John J. Mitchell, Edward L. Brewster, C. K. K. Billings, C. F. Kimball, Levy Mayer and one other; Eastern—J. S. Haver of New Jersey, counsel for the Electric Vehicle Company; F. A. B. Widener, Martin Maloney and one other.—V. 68, p. 927.

Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf Ry.—Receivers' Certificates.—Receivers Fordyce and Withers have asked Federal Judge Phillips at Kansas City for authority to issue immediately $414,769 of receivers' certificates to pay preferential claims and make other necessary expenditures. adequate rolling stock. The matter will come up for hearing to-day at St. Louis.—V. 68, p. 1024.

Kern Incandescent Gas Light Co.—Stock Offered.—Public subscriptions are being received by the International Banking & Trust Co., 149 Broadway, New York, the Produce Exchange Trust Co., 26 Broadway, New York, the Investment Company of Philadelphia and the Beacon Trust Co. of Boston for $3,500,000 of this company's $4,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock at par, with a bonus of one share of common stock for every two shares of preferred stock allotted. The authorized issue of common stock is $8,000,000. An official statement says:

The company owns the Kern light for the United States, Canada and Mexico and all rights for Central and South America. Its share issue has been underwritten by leading financial men in New York and elsewhere, and by means of such underwriting the Kern light has been purchased and ample working capital provided. This light has been examined by a number of the principal gas experts in the United States, and pronounced superior to any other. The rights for Europe have been purchased by the Welsbach Incandescent Gas Light Co. of England, who are now bringing the light into general use, replacing with it their own Welsbach light. The Kern light enables gas companies to compete successfully with electric-lighting by supplying a better light at a small fraction of the cost with gas of any quality. The Kern light gives from 30 to 40 candles per cubic foot of gas as against 15 to 18 produced by the Welsbach; and with one foot of gas it gives a better light and greater candle power than the ordinary burner consuming five feet. Equally satisfactory results are obtained with natural or artificial gas of any quality. It is simple in its application and inexpensive in its use. The Kern system is equally applicable to power, heating and cooking.

Hamilton Fish Kean, of Kean, Van Cortlandt & Co., has been added to the board of directors. The officers and other directors were given in V. 68, p. 1076, 1182.—V. 68, p. 1182.

Lehigh Valley RR.—Stock Option Exercised.—The option held by the Morgan interests upon 75,000 shares of the company's stock owned by the estate of Asa Packer has been exercised on the basis agreed upon in March, 1897, namely, 37,500 shares at 25 and 37,500 at 27½. The sum of $2,720,000 was loaned to the trustees of the estate in 1897 to enable them to take up the estate's floating debt. Part of this loan was paid several months ago, and now the sale of the stock will take care of the remainder and leave the trustees with a large surplus.—V. 68, p. 572.

H., and Newburyport and Gloucester, Mass., and south as far as Fall River, Mass., and Newport and Providence, R. I., connecting directly with the street railway system of Boston.

The advertisement, published on pages viii. and ix., offering the company's shares for subscription says: "The Massachusetts Electric Companies is a voluntary association managed by a board of fifteen trustees, who hold the title to its assets. The declaration of trust contains strict provisions against the creation of any indebtedness whereby any shareholder or trustee can be held to any personal liability. It will hold the majority, and, in most instances, practically all, the stock of the companies named below. The trustees will issue certificates of participation to the amount of $12,000,000 in common shares [par $100] and $12,000,000 in 4 per cent cumulative preferred shares [par $100, preference as to principal and dividends] in accordance with the terms of the deed of trust, and each holder of these participation certificates will therefore be an owner of a proportionate interest in each share of stock held by the trustees, and these certificates will represent practically the entire capital stock of the above-named companies as well as sufficient cash to take up the floating debts and provide for needed improvements. Both classes of shares are free from taxation in Massachusetts."

For the three months ending May 31, 1899, the gross earnings are reported as $953,827, against $866,097 in 1898, an increase of $87,730, or 10.13 per cent. Regarding the Nashville Street Railway, the "Nashville Banner" says the purchasers paid for the property $742,300 cash, and assumed the bonded and other indebtedness. This was at the rate of 50 cents on the dollar for the stock of the company.—V. 68, p. 977.

Newark Consolidated Gas Co.—Listed in Philadelphia.—The Philadelphia Stock Exchange has listed the company's $4,600,000 consolidated 5 per cent bonds due Dec. 1, 1948.—See V. 67, p. 1208, 1161, 1002.

One per cent dividend calls for $1,000,000. The year's figures are given under the heading "Annual Reports."—V. 68, p. 870, 872.

Northern Central RR.—Favorable Decision in Tax Suit.—Judge Dennis, in the case of the State of Maryland against the company, in which the latter resisted the imposition of taxes under the act of 1896, increasing the rate of taxation from one-half per cent to one per cent on the gross receipts of the railroad and its branches, has filed a written opinion in which he grants the defendant's prayers, rejecting the prayers of the plaintiff. The "Baltimore Sun" says:

Judge Dennis reviews the entire case, noting the incorporation of the Baltimore & Susquehanna R.R. Co. in 1827, by which act the company was exempted from taxation; the act of 1854, consolidating the Northern Central and the Baltimore & Susquehanna, with all the rights, franchises and immunities of the latter company; the act of 1872, imposing a tax of one-half per cent on the gross receipts of all steam railroad companies; the legal controversy which resulted over the imposition of this tax, and in which the Court of Appeals (Judge Alvey dissenting) sustained the claim of the State; and the act of 1880, which provided for taxation at the rate of one-half per cent, with the limitation that the rate could not be increased. The railroad company, instead of taking the above case to the United States Supreme Court, accepted the act of 1880, and it is with special reference to this act that Judge Dennis says: "In my judgment this act was a contract between the State and the defendant company, forever binding, until abrogated by the consent of both parties to the contract, and in no way subject to repeal or modification by the act of any subsequent legislature; and, therefore, the assessment act of 1896, by which a greater tax was imposed upon the gross receipts of the company, is void, because repugnant to the Constitution of the United States, which forbids a State from passing a law impairing the obligation of a contract.—V. 68, p. 573

Northern Pacific Ry.—Sale of Old Company's Lands in Minnesota and Wisconsin.—Pursuant to a decree entered by the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Wisconsin, on May 25, 1899, in the equity suit of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. against the Northern Pacific R.R. Co. [the old company] and others, and a decree ancillary thereto entered in Minnesota, Alfred L. Cary, as Special Master, advises that he will sell at public auction all the lands granted by Congress to said Northern Pacific R.R. Co. in Minnesota and Wisconsin. The Minnesota sales will take place at the various county seats at various dates from July 17 to August 5 inclusive. The lands will probably be bought in for the new Northern Pacific Ry. under the large deficiency judgment ($86,911,600) obtained last October.—V. 68, p. 1163.

North River Light, Heat & Power Co. of Hoboken, N. J.—Hudson County Gas Light Co.—Control Purchased.—Myles Tierney, a leading shareholder in the Hudson County Gas Light Co., has purchased the North River Light, Heat & Power Co., organized a few months ago with $300,000 of capital stock as a rival of the North Hudson Light & Power Co. Two-thirds of the entire issue have been deposited with the trust company. The committee representing the stock, and at whose call the deposits have been made consists of A. Foster Higgins, J. Harsen Rhoades and Charles W. Baker. The depositors agree, if called upon, to pay 25 cents per share for necessary expenses, but no plan of reorganization is to be binding upon them until it is adopted by a majority in amount of the depositors at a meeting duly called.—V. 68, p. 282.

Republic Iron & Steel Co.—New Acquisition.—The Peoria (Ill.) Iron & Steel Co. it is stated has been acquired by the Republic Iron & Steel Co. for $1,250,000.—V. 68, p. 929.

Riker and the Riker Electric Motor Co. for the manufacture of electric vehicles. The company will own the works at Elizabethport, N. J., which are said to have a present capacity of five completed vehicles per day. Among those interested in the enterprise are Andrew L. Riker, Charles A. Lieb, President of the Great Falls Power Co. of Washington; O. T. Crosby, President of the Washington Street Railways, and F. C. Stevens, President of the West End Bank, Washington. The company has contracts to supply five additional wagons to B. Altman & Co., three to the Gorham Co., a mineral water wagon to Carl H. Schultz and wagons to H. H. White & Co. of Boston, the Kolb Company of Philadelphia and Woodward & Lothrop of Washington. The Riker battery in use in these vehicles, it is claimed, is lighter by 40 per cent and has a mileage capacity greater by 50 per cent than any other automobile battery.

Standard Oil Co.—Exchange.—The exchange of Standard Oil certificates and "assignments" for the common stock of the New Jersey Company is now taking place, dollar for dollar, at the transfer office, No. 26 Broadway. Holders receive in addition 2-68 per cent in cash to represent distribution by Ohio Company. Of the authorized capital of the New Jersey Company, as increased last week to $110,000,000, $10,000,000 is non cum. preferred, and will be held in the treasury for the present. The exchange of certificates and "assignments" will require the issue of $97,250,000 of the common stock. The "assignments" are the securities issued in the liquidation of the trust in exchange for the original certificates to represent a "legal ownership" in the combined properties, in place of the "beneficial interest" possessed by the certificates and adjudged illegal.

Officers.—New officers and directors have been elected for the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey as follows:

President, J. D. Rockefeller; Vice-Presidents, William Rockefeller, H. M. Flagler, J. D. Archbold and H. H. Rogers; Treasurer, W. H. Tilford; Secretary, C. M. Pratt; Assistant Treasurers, C. M. Pratt, F. A. Barstow and William G. Rockefeller; Assistant Secretary, L. D. Clarke.

St. Louis Indianapolis & Eastern Ry.—Sale Ordered.—The United States Circuit Court at Springfield, Ill., on June 14 approved the decree of foreclosure and order of sale. The amount due on the mortgage is $1,169,814.—V. 68, p. 929.

St. Louis Southwestern Ry.—First Payment on Incomes.—An interest payment of 2 per cent has been declared on the $9,000,000 second mortgage income bonds, payable July 1.—V. 68, p. 1026.

St. Louis Traction Co.—Central Traction Co.—Preparing to Consolidate.—The stockholders of the St. Louis Traction Co. on June 15 voted to increase the capital stock of the company from $2,000 to $2,000,000, of which $1,000,000 to be 5 per cent preferred; also to amend the charter to permit the purchase, construction and operation of any line of street railroad either within or without the city of St. Louis. The stockholders of the Grand Avenue Railway Co. also met on June 15 and arranged the formal details for the transfer of the property to the Brown Brothers' Syndicate.

The stockholders of the Central Traction Co. on June 17 voted to adopt a proposition to increase the capital stock to $10,000,000, of which one-half to be 5 per cent preferred stock, and to amend the charter to allow the company to purchase, construct and acquire any lines of street railway either within or without the city of St. Louis. The capital stock of the Union Depot R.R. Co. was increased from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000, and the charter amended. The stock of the Lindell Ry. Co. was increased to $10,000,000 some time ago.

These transactions are simply the formalities preliminary to a consolidation, in accordance with the plans of the Brown Brothers syndicate.

Consolidation Bill Signed.—Governor Stephens of Missouri on June 19 signed the bill authorizing a street railroad to purchase, lease or acquire and to hold and operate any other street railroad.

Southern Electric and National Lines.—Negotiations for the purchase of these lines have been resumed by the Brown Brothers syndicate and it is believed in St. Louis have been practically completed.—V. 68, p. 773, 789.

Sasquehanna Iron & Steel Co.—Incorporated.—The company has been incorporated at Harrisburg, Pa.—V. 68, p. 1184.

Tennessee Coal Iron & R.R. Co.—Sheffield Coal Iron & Steel Co.—Purchased.—The directors of the Tennessee Coal Iron & R.R. Co. on Thursday ratified the sale of the railroad property in Alabama to the Louisville & Nashville and Southern Railway companies for $1,100,000 cash. These companies, it is understood, contract to reduce by 30 per cent the rates for carrying ore, coal, coke and limestone to the Tennessee Coal Iron & R.R. Co.'s plants. The directors also ratified the purchase of all the property of the Sheffield Coal Iron & Steel Co., located on the Tennessee River, in Sheffield, Ala. This purchase includes, it is stated, three modern blast furnaces, with a capacity of 200 tons each daily, 300 coke ovens and 73,000 acres of coal land, on which one large coal mine is in operation and another about ready for use. The property is said to represent an original investment of more than $2,000,000, but the cost to the Tennessee Coal Iron & R.R. Co. will be much less. The property will be paid for in cash. The purchase, it is claimed, makes the company the owner of more blast furnaces than any other iron company in the world, while its coal and iron lands aggregate 450,000 acres. E. C. Benedict has been elected a director of the company, to succeed Col. C. M. McGhee, resigned.—V. 68, p. 1073.

Terre Haute Electric Street Ry.—Sold.—At the foreclosure sale on June 21 the street railway and Citizens' Electric Light & Power plants were purchased by Stone & Webster of Boston, representing a syndicate, for $560,000. Lee, Higginson & Co. are said to be interested. The syndicate, it is said, has secured a franchise for a trolley line along the national road to Brazil, and it is supposed has in contemplation a system of interurban lines reaching from Terre Haute in various directions.—V. 68, p. 1078.

Union Pacific Ry.—United States Suit.—The United States Government, through its special attorney, has filed a bill in equity in the United States Circuit Court in Boston against the American Loan & Trust Co. to recover a portion or the whole of $570,000 received by the Trust Company as a result of the sale of certain securities deposited with it to secure Kansas Pacific creditors. As the foreclosure sale failed to reimburse the Government for its advances on account of the Kansas Pacific, this claim is made for a share of the proceeds of sale of the aforesaid securities.—V. 68, p. 973.

Union Traction Co. of Anderson, Ind.—Purchase of Marion Road.—A press dispatch says that the Marion City Ry. has been sold to the Union Traction Co. of Anderson, the consideration being $500,000 in cash and the assumption of an indebtedness of $400,000. The following officers have been elected for the Marion road: Charles L. Henry, President: Phillip Matter, Vice President: George W. McCullough, Secretary; W. C. Sampson, Treasurer.—V. 67, p. 372.

United Power & Transportation Co.—United Railways.—$5,145,000 Gold Trust Certificates.—The Real Estate Title Insurance & Trust Co. of Philadelphia has issued temporary negotiable receipts to the stockholders of the various companies upon depositing the stocks, on which will be based the issue of the United Railways gold trust certificates. Said temporary receipts will be exchangeable for the trust certificates when issued, which will be about July 1, 1899. The United Railways gold trust certificates will be issued by the New York Security & Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, under an agreement between said company and The United Power & Transportation Co., and are secured by the entire capital stocks of the following companies:

Wilmington & Chester Traction Co.
The Wilmington City Electric Light Co.
Trenton Street Railway Co.
United Traction Co., Reading, Pa.
Holmesburg Tacony & Frankford Electric Railway Co.

The total authorized issue under the above deposit will be $5,145,000, to be dated July 1, 1899, due July 1, 1949. Under the terms of the agreement the registered holders of the trust certificates are entitled to receive semi-annually on the first days of January and July 2 per cent upon the par value of the certificates, payable at the office of The Real Estate Title Insurance & Trust Co. of Philadelphia. The United Power & Transportation Co. guarantees the payment of the principal of the trust certificates at maturity; also the semi-annual payments during the continuance of the trust. These "United Railways gold trust certificates—Real Estate Title Insurance & Trust Co. temporary receipts" and "United Railways gold trust certificates deliverable when issued" have been placed on the unlisted department of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange.—V. 68, p. 1184.

United Railways & Electric Co. of Baltimore.—Listing.—The listing of securities mentioned last week referred to the United Power & Transportation Co., which see above.—V. 68, p. 1184.

United States Coupler & Manufacturing Co.—Stock Increased.—This company has filed an amended certificate of incorporation at Newark, N. J., increasing its capital stock to $1,000,000. The amount paid in is $1,000, and the incorporators are Frank H. Rollins, Edward P. Baker and George B. H. Martin.

Washington Traction & Electric Co.—Subscriptions for the company's bonds, it is stated, were highly satisfactory.—V. 68, p. 1184.

Watling (N. J.) Water Co.—New Bonds.—This company, of New Brunswick and Somerset counties, N. J., has filed a mortgage to the Fidelity Trust Co., as trustee, to secure $100,000 of 5 per cent $500 bonds. Charles P. Sebring, of Bound Brook, is President.

Wellington Grey & Bruce Ry.—Called Bonds.—Interest Payment.—The numbers are announced of various bonds which have been drawn, and will be paid at par at the offices of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. in Montreal, or at Dashwoodhouse, New Broad Street, London, on July 1. The estimated earnings for the half-year ending 30th inst., applicable to interest, will admit of the payment on July 1 next of £2 ls. on each £100 bond as follows: 1s. in final discharge of coupon No. 37, due Jan. 1, 1889, and £2 on account of coupon No. 38, due July, 1889.—V. 67, p. 128.

Wisconsin Telephone Co.—New Stock Authorized.—The stockholders on June 19 unanimously adopted the motion to increase the capital stock from $1,200,000 to $3,000,000.—V. 68, p. 1078.

Xelton Company.—Substitute for Hard Rubber.—Stahl & Straub of Philadelphia are receiving subscriptions at $7 50 per share for this company's stock, issued full paid, each share having par value of $25. The company was incorporated at Trenton, N. J., on June 12 to manufacture "xelton," a substitute for hard rubber. Of the $5,000,000 authorized capital [all common], $3,000,000 is to be now issued. It is claimed that "xelton" is less brittle than hard rubber, is not affected by heat or cold, has less weight, and has the qualities of toughness and resiliency, and is therefore available for storage-battery jars, pumping machinery, insulating work, switchboards, tiling, etc. The works will be at Frankford, Pa. The field to be covered is said to be quite distinct from that in which the manufactured rubber company plans to operate.

—An interesting circular on Missouri Pacific showing the status of the consolidated six per cent bonds has been prepared by Messrs. Fisk & Robinson, 36 Nassau Street. The earnings for a series of years are shown and the balance available for interest on the consols after payment of interest on the prior liens.

—Attention is called to a list of school district, county and city bonds advertised in our municipal columns by the Trowbridge MacDonald & Niver Co., Chicago.

—The "Street Railway Journal" has issued its "red book" for 1899 containing information regarding the street railway lines of the United States.

Messrs. Mason, Lewis & Co. advertise in this issue a list of bonds which they offer for sale and to which the attention of investors is invited.

Messrs. Fisk & Robinson's July "List of Approved Securities" is now ready, and may be had upon application.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPILOGUE

FRIDAY NIGHT, June 23, 1899.

The general business situation has undergone few changes of an important nature. Merchants as a rule have reported trade as fairly satisfactory, and in the main values have been well maintained. An exception has been a break of about  $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per pound in the value of raw cotton, the result of liquidation of speculative holdings and favorable prospects for the growing crop. The grain markets also have been easier under improved crop prospects, although the export business has shown a further improvement. Washington advices report that a retaliatory duty against Brazil is being contemplated and will be enforced unless Brazil makes concessions in her duties on articles imported from the United States. Some agitation for a uniform grain inspection has been heard. It is claimed that the severity of the inspection at the port of New York has been detrimental to the export business via the New York market. The sugar factor plan has been abandoned in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, and is now practically dead.

Lard on the spot has been in limited export demand, but refiners have been slow buyers and prices have weakened slightly, closing at 5.25c. for prime Western and 4.90c. for prime City. Refined lard has been quiet and prices have declined, closing at 5.40c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in the market for contracts has been quiet and there has been a slight weakening of prices under larger receipts of swine than expected.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been much more active, but it has been at a sharp decline in prices. Crop prospects and weather conditions have continued decidedly favorable, and early in the week it was stated that the South offered moderate lines of new crop cotton here and to Liverpool for fall delivery on the basis of ruling prices. This prompted some selling of the new crop deliveries for speculative account. Liverpool reported an easier tendency to that market, and that the demand from spinners in the spot market had fallen off. These developments had a tendency to discourage tired holders, and started selling to liquidate accounts. As prices weakened the pressure to sell increased, and as there was no force to the buying power, it coming almost exclusively from shorts to cover contracts, there was nothing to stay the downward tendency to values. Stop orders were reached and their execution added to general demoralization. On Wednesday, when the lowest prices were touched, they showed a decline of 23 to 30 points from Friday's closing prices. Thursday there was a steadier tone to the market. The pressure to sell for distressed holders appeared to be over, and there was some new buying attracted by the lower prices and the probabilities that some recovery was likely from the sharp decline experienced early in the week. To-day the market was less active. The opening was slightly easier on foreign advices, then advanced a few points on buying by Liverpool and local shorts to cover contracts. During the day, however, there developed a slightly increased pressure to sell, principally in the summer months, and prices weakened a few points, closing quiet 2 1/2 points lower for the day. Cotton on the spot has been quiet and lower; prices declined 1-16c. on Tuesday, 3 1/16c. on Wednesday, but recovered 1 1/16c. Thursday. To-day the market was quiet and unchanged at 6 1/16c. for middling uplands.

NEW ENGLAND MILLS SITUATION.—Latest reports indicate that the consolidation of the Massachusetts yarn mills is nearing completion and that the new company will be organized in the early part of July.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climate and Crop Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crops in the Southern States for the week ending June 19:

VIRGINIA.—Week generally favorable for crop growth.
NORTH CAROLINA.—Abundant rain, with warm, sunny intervals, caused vigorous growth of all crops.
SOUTH CAROLINA.—Intensely hot first of week and abnormally cool latter part; general rains greatly improved crops; cotton growing fast, fruiting well and some blooming.
GEORGIA.—Good rains over most of northern counties, but only scattered showers elsewhere; cotton doing well; some cotton taking on bloom; some complaint of caterpillars.
FLORIDA.—Early part of week very warm with deficient moisture; week closed abnormally cool with rains quite general; late cotton benefited; cotton clean and fruiting fairly well.
ALABAMA.—Rains last week and early part of this improved all crops; cotton healthy, beginning to fruit satisfactorily, and late-planted making better stands.
MISSISSIPPI.—Favorable week for crops; abundant rains materially improved conditions, especially southern section; early cotton doing well, much in bloom, late cotton decidedly improved, seed planted two months ago has sprouted since rain.
LOUISIANA.—Seasonable temperature; abundant rains well distributed; cotton planted during drouth coming up to good stand, earliest planted fruiting, condition of all improving.
TEXAS.—General rains during week, except in extreme east portion, were not enough for agricultural purposes; cotton growing rapidly and fruiting generally, crop clean in southern and extreme eastern portions, but getting foul elsewhere and needs sun shine.
ARKANSAS.—Cultivation of crops, though retarded by rain, is nearly completed in some localities; in some sections cotton in good condition, grassy in others.
TENNESSEE.—Warm with good local showers early part of week; dry, cool weather latter part checked growth of crops, particularly cotton; cotton doing fairly well; drouth severe in portions of middle division; crops suffering greatly.
MISSOURI.—Cotton and minor crops doing well generally.
OKLAHOMA.—Cotton backward, small and foul.
These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:
Reports from nearly all sections of the cotton belt indicate a general improvement in the condition of cotton, the least favorable coming from Eastern Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, where the crop is grassy, and Georgia, where caterpillars are causing injury. In the central portion of the cotton belt, where the stands have been unsatisfactory, seed long since planted has germinated and is coming up to improved stands.

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE.—A movement is on foot to establish a Clearing House in connection with the New York Cotton Exchange. With that end in view a petition to the Board of Managers is being circulated on the floor of the Exchange, and has already received many signatures. The petition is as follows:

To the Board of Managers of the New York Cotton Exchange:
Whereas, it is believed by many members of this Exchange that a proper system of clearance of cotton contracts would greatly facilitate transactions and largely increase the business and importance of this Exchange; we, the undersigned, respectfully petition your honorable body to instruct the President to appoint a committee of five or more gentlemen thoroughly informed as to the conduct of the business of the Exchange to investigate and report to the Exchange for subsequent consideration and action the practicability and advisability of the adoption of such a system of clearances, and if, in their judgment, found advisable, to prepare a plan which to them shall seem most desirable to that end.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, June 23, 1899.

Business in the market for wheat flour has been quiet and, following a weaker turn to the grain, the tone has been easier. The home trade has been an indifferent buyer, bidding off on prices, and the export business has been limited, as shippers' limits have been too low to admit of free trading. There have been, however, moderate sales of winter straights for shipment to Cuba, as Havana has again entered the market. Rye flour has been quiet and rather easier in tone, but prices have not changed. Corn meal has been in only limited demand and there has been a slightly easier tone to the market, owing to a decline in the grain.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been only moderately active, and the tendency of values has been towards a lower basis. Crop accounts from the West have been of a more favorable character, better weather conditions being reported in the Northwest, and harvesting of the winter-wheat crop has progressed satisfactorily. The movement of the crops in the Northwest has continued heavy and foreign advices have reported weaker markets abroad, under improved crop prospects. There has been moderate selling by longs to liquidate their accounts and bear operators in the Western market have been more aggressive in their operations. The premiums on cash wheat have narrowed somewhat, under increased offerings resulting from the free marketing of supplies in the Northwest. At the decline a fairly large export business has been transacted, as shippers have been better buyers. Early in the week the fact that the increase in the visible supply was smaller than was generally expected had a temporary strengthening effect upon the market. To-day the market was easier, under moderate offerings prompted by weaker foreign advices and continued large primary receipts. The spot market was active. The sales for export were 600,000 bushels.

Indian corn futures have been quiet and easier. Crop accounts have continued of a generally favorable character, the movement of the crop has been heavy, and sympathy with the decline in wheat have been the principal depressing factors. Recent buyers have been sellers to liquidate their accounts. At the lower prices exporters have been large buyers, their purchases daily running close to 1,000,000 bushels, and this demand has sufficed to hold the downward tendency to values in check to some extent. To-day the market was easier, in sympathy with the decline in wheat. Exporters continued active buyers in the spot market, their purchases here and at outports amounting to 830,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery at the Western market have been quiet and there has been a fractional decline in prices. Crop accounts have been more favorable as a result of improved weather conditions, the crop movement has been fairly full, and sympathy with the decline in wheat and corn have had a depressing influence. Business in the local spot market has been active, as there has been a demand from both exporters and the home trade, and prices have been steady. To-day the market for futures was easier, but the spot market was fairly active and steady. Sales for export were 200,000 bushels.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climate and Crop Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the grain crops in the various States for the week ending June 19 as follows:

WEATHER.—While heavy rains have delayed cultivation and caused damage to crops in portions of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and drouth continues over portions of New England, the Middle Atlantic States, Tennessee and the Central and Southern Rocky Mountain region, the week as a whole has been very favorable to agricultural interests. On the Pacific coast the week has been the best of the season, affording ample warmth and sunshine in Oregon and Washington, conditions much needed in those States. The telegraphic summary of climate and crop conditions in Cuba, received from Havana on the 19th inst., indicates the general prevalence of drouth, although local rains occurred over limited areas. The Cuban planters have sown some cane, but are awaiting general rains, which are much needed, especially in Santa Clara province. The Cuban reports generally indicate that the atmosphere has lacked sufficient moisture to admit of handling cured tobacco.

CORN.—Corn has made good progress in all districts, although in portions of the Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys excessive moisture has retarded cultivation. A part of the crop has received its final cultivation as far north as Missouri and Southern Illinois. In North Dakota corn is still backward as a result of the seasonal deficiency in temperature.

WINTER WHEAT.—Winter-wheat harvest has continued under generally favorable conditions, being in progress as far north as central Illinois, although interrupted by rains in portions of the central Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys. While the yields are light, they are better than were expected in some sections, and the quality is generally excellent. Damage from rust is reported from Michigan and Pennsylvania and drought in New York, while grain in shock has sustained injury in portions of Texas. The weather conditions on the Pacific Coast have been very favorable, the high temperatures in the valleys of California being especially beneficial for maturing the crop.

SPRING WHEAT.—The reports indicate a general improvement in the condition of spring wheat, except in the low lands of Minnesota, where excessive rains have caused injury; a part of the crop in both Minnesota and Iowa is also threatened with injury from lodging.

OATS.—Oats harvest is practically completed in the Southern States. In the central valleys the condition of the crop is generally improved. Too rank growth and lodging are reported from Wisconsin and Minnesota and some damage from drought in New York.

HAY.—Hay has continued with light yields in the Middle Atlantic States and portions of Michigan and Central Illinois. In New England, owing to continued drought, the hay crop is almost a failure, but in the States of the central valleys the crop is generally satisfactory. In the northern Rocky Mountains and Pacific Coast States the general outlook for hay is reported as excellent, the harvest of an abundant crop being in progress in Oregon and almost completed in California. The ranges in Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona are in very poor condition.

The movement of breadstuffs to market as indicated in the statements below is prepared by us from the figures collected by the New York Produce Exchange. The receipts at Western lake and river ports for the week ending June 17, and since Aug. 1, for each of the last three years, have been:

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., June 23, 1899.

The demand for current supplies has been affected this week by the near approach of stock-taking by jobbers who are taking as little as possible pending the close of the half-year. That business under such conditions is fuller than usual is a fair indication of a fair trade in motion at second hands. Reports from the retail trades here and elsewhere are good, few of them coming to hand falling to record a liberal distribution to consumers, and results considerably ahead of corresponding time last year. Business at first hands for fall has been active in prints, and orders for forward deliveries would also have been placed in staple cottons if sellers were in a position to accept them, or were less inflexible in the matter of prices. Stocks of leading lines of staples continue in excellent shape, heavy production makes no material addition to them, and a decline in the market for raw cotton this week has not exercised any material influence. In the woolen goods division the improvement recently noted has been well sustained. The demand is good for the time of year and the tendency of prices, particularly in worsteds, is against buyers.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The demand for heavy-weight woollens and worsteds for men's wear has been above usual volume for this time of year. Clothiers are reported doing an active business in fall clothing and the re-orders they are now sending forward are corroborative of this. Worsteds still hold first place in their buying and both plain lines and staples are in excellent condition and tending upwards. Washington Mills Clay worsteds have been advanced 50. per yard. The better grades of piece-dyed and fancy woollens are strengthening in tone, but low qualities are still in good supply and easy to buy. Serges have sold in considerable quantity for next spring at advances of 2½c. to 5c. per yard. Overcoatings are firm, with a fair demand, but cloakings continue dull. Flannels and blankets are quiet at unchanged prices. Dress goods steady and in fair request.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 19 were 25,252 packages, valued at $244,036, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,518,325 in 1899, against $5,668,784 in 1898.

Actual sales of heavy brown sheetings and drills have been on a moderate scale, but with the same experience as previous week of fair-sized bids being turned down, owing to scarcity of current supplies in leading makes, prices rule firm. In fine grey goods there has been more disposition to sell in some quarters, and prices are barely steady. Bleached cottons are firm in medium and fine grades with moderate demand; low grades quiet and inclined to favor buyers. Wide sheetings are firm but quiet and cotton flannels and blankets dull but steady. Denims are dull and occasionally slightly lower; ticks, plaids and other coarse, colored cottons are dull and unaltered. Kid-finished cambrics inactive. Silesias occasionally ¼c. higher. Dark fancy calicoes have again been in good request and are very firm in price. Indigo blues, Turkey reds and other staple varieties firm, with fair sales. Ginghams scarce and market strong. Regular print cloths continue idle at 2½c. Odd goods 1-16c. lower.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been a quiet market throughout the week in foreign merchandise. Dress goods are firm with a moderate business. Silks and ribbons quiet and irregular in price for fancies. Linens quietly steady. Burlaps dull and in favor of buyers.
